France Determined on Nuclear Weapons

PHONE STRIKE HITS SECTOR—Pickets began walkouts at random Wednesday afternoon in the Hudson Valley and other upstate areas in protest to suspension of Brooklyn union members who, it was claimed, had called a meeting during Telephone Company working hours. The group above walked on the Broadway and West O'Reilly Street side of the local building and continued for a time today. Wednesday's picketing began despite the belief of local management that no strike action was anticipated here. A "sympathy" walkout of area union groups was approved at a Kerhonkson meeting last night. (Freeman photo).

Algiers Near Normal

Threat Is Not Over In Oran

European Exodus Is Still Going On

ALGIERS (AP)—Moslems returned to work in droves in Algiers today, feeling the city's truce will stick despite continued scorched earth attacks by the Secret Army Organization in eastern and western Algeria.

Authorities reported a virtually 100 per cent return to work in all vital services of the city. For the first time in months, the city's streets were cleaned of piles of garbage.

A number of Moslems also returned to work in private companies. Several restaurants reopened and movie theaters advertised new films.

Think Terror Gone

Moslem auxiliary policemen were being gradually put to work in European areas. They patrolled the streets in pairs and here and there attempted to direct traffic.

Officials said it was essential that the Europeans get used to the idea of Moslem policemen before independence next month.

Authoritis believed that terror would not return to the city again.

"Everybody is tired of war and fighting," one official said. "we believe this peace shows all indications of permanence."

Authorities also were optimistic concerning the situation in western Algeria.

Debating Matter

Some French reports said the secret army's West Algerian command was debating adherence to the Algiers truce worked out last weekend by a secret army leader in the capital and a member of the Moslem National Liberation Front.

But officials in Oran said there was no sign of a change in the Oran terrorists' earlier defiance of the peace agreement. Instead, a blast wrecked a large natural gas installation, sending flames shooting 300 feet into the air. The secret army was blamed.

Terrorists in eastern Aleria also were active, burning down the city hall and two other buildings in Bone, a major port 260 miles east of Algiers.

Still Leaving

The European exodus from Algeria continued unchecked. With the curfew lifted in Algiers, several hundred Europeans set up camp beds and garden chairs to keep an all-night vigil outside an airline office. For them the halt in terrorism in Algiers was too fragile to build any plans on.

The Moslem majority is expected to vote for an independent Algeria in a territorial referendum July 1.

Authorities in Oran said 60,000 Europeans have left the city in the past 20 days. At the start of the year the European population of Oran was about 200,000.

DIPLOMATS MEET IN PARIS — U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, right, confers with Dirk Stikker, secretary-genaral of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in the French capital. Rusk is on a tour of western Europe. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Paris).

Deadlock In NATO Problem

U. S. Dictation Feared by Some

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are beginning to face up to the hard reality that France is determined to build its own nuclear weapons force whether they like it or not.

They are, therefore, becoming increasingly concerned with ways of eventually diverting the French effort into a new NATO nuclear weapons partnership for which the United States itself would have to make some concessions.

Problem in NATO

The problem of breaking the nuclear weapons deadlock within the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance has dominated the consultations held by Secretary of State Dean Rusk with President Charles de Gaulle and other French leaders in Paris. If De Gaulle and President Kennedy meet later this year, as Paris reports suggest is possible, it will undoubtedly be to try to find a solution to this problem.

Indications of the new U.S. approach were disclosed in a speech on nuclear weapons strategy that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara made last Saturday at the University of Michigan. McNamara declared it is an urgent need, possibly involving the survival of Western civilization, that NATO countries agree on the coordination of targeting plans—the selection of targets against which a nuclear attack would be directed in event of all-out war—and the circumstances under which nuclear weapons would be employed.

Change Dictation Attempt

McNamara's speech was sharply critical of the French plan to create a national nuclear force, though he did not mention France by name. This led in Europe to considerable counter criticism to th effect that the United States is trying to dictate to its Allies.

One well-informed official, privately discussing the U. S. policy implications in the McNamara speech, said today "we are not giving up on our opposition to a French national force but we are now trying to think beyond that."

Other officials said that if the European allies in consultation with the United States through the NATO council at Paris produce a workable formula for a NATO partnership they will find the Kennedy administration completely cooperative.

Plan to Integrate

One possibility reported to be under consideration is the creation of some kind of NATO command for strategic nuclear weapons. The initial effort of such an organization probably would be to integrate nuclear weapons strategies of the various allied governments including the United States.

At present the NATO military command has some control over the possible use of U.S. nuclear weapons stationed in Europe although they are primarily controlled by agreements between Washington and the countries on whose territory they are. The U.S. strategic force, including American-based missiles and the Strategic Air Command, are controlled in Washington although there is some coordination with NATO strategic planning.

Po'keepsie Span Needs More Toll Booths: Edwards

Lack of a sufficient number of toll booths causes a backup of motor vehicles on the Mid-Hudson Bridge, according to Dr. John Edwards, Hudson, chairman of the State Bridge Authority, who noted that traffic delay on the Hudson River span occurs only during morning and afternoon periods.

Recently, Dr. Edwards said the Bridge Authority plans to reconstruct the west shore approach to the bridge to relocate the toll collection booths at the west end of the bridge, and reconstruct the west shore approach to the span to add another lane to the present three-lane road.

There are presently four toll booths at the east end of the bridge. When the change is made, six booths will be located at the westerly end of the bridge.

Town of Lloyd Supervisor John J. Gaffney (D) recently suggested that changes be made in lane markings on the bridge to facilitate traffic movement.

When the Poughkeepsie northsouth arterial highway is constructed, the eastern approach to the bridge will be converted to four lanes, according to the BA chairman. Dr. Edwards also noted that a new lighting system will soon be installed on the bridge.

Strike Hit Valley Areas

Phone Workers Given Back-to-Jobs Order

Pickets continued walking today at the Kingston building of the New York Telephone Company and at others in Hudson Valley and southwestern Catskill Mountain communities in what is described in New York as a "wildcat strike" affecting maintenance operations throughout the state, but reports this afternoon indicated possible return to work by Friday morning of all involved.

An Associated Press report said union chiefs ordered service employes to end the work stoppage, and one leader predicted that all would be back on their jobs by 8 a. m. Friday.

Picketing was not in progress locally this afternoon, although some of the group remained near the building.

J. J. Kohut, local company manager, said word was received locally noting that members of Local 1109, Brooklyn, had agreed to return to work on the next duty tour, and it was expected that other union members upstate, including Kingston, would return. Some are expected to return on night tours and others Friday morning.

Harold VanEtten, of Veteran, president of Local 1120 Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO, described the strike as a "sympathy walkout" in support of a strike which began in Brooklyn because of a reported two-day suspension of nine leaders, of Brooklyn Local, 1109, CWA.

Authorized Last Night

Continuance of the walkout which began at random in Hudson Valley communities, including Kingston, Wednesday afternoon, was authorized by action at a Wednesday night meeting in the Kerhonkson firehouse.

Union groups from Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Monticello, Ellenville, Hudson, Catskill and other communities in the area were represented at the meeting, which VanEtten said, drew an attendance of more than 200.

A company management statement released at about 6 p. m. Wednesday said the walkout is "a deliberate violation of the union's collective bargaining agreement with the company" and claims it is "part of a studied program of interference by local union leaders with the company's attempt to improve telephone service and to hold its costs in providing service at an efficient level."

The Wednesday statement said

U.S. Sounds Out 2 Countries for New Canal Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has sounded out Panama and Colombia about a study of sites in those two countries for a possible new Atlantic-Pacific ship canal, it was learned today.

Experts say the Panama Canal, built in 1903, will become obsolete or so jammed with traffic by 1980 that a new canal will be needed.

Augusto Guillermo Arango, ambassador of Panama, and Carlos Sanz de Santamaria, ambassador of Colombia, were called to the State Department this week to be told that the Kennedy administration plans to ask Congress for authority to make the canal studies. Once that is obtained, the two governments will be asked for formal authorization to make the surveys.

Saugerties Polls For School Vote Open Until 9 P.M.

The polls at Main Street School at the corner of Washington Avenue, Saugerties for balloting on the $1,200,000 school bond issue will be open until 9 o'clock tonight.

Well over 3,000 school district voters are expected to cast ballots on the issue.

The proposal if approved will provide a 14-classroom school for 420 pupils on a 20-acre site at Katsbaan to cost $665,000, and a junior high school building with 10 classrooms for some 300 students at a cost of $535,000 on the high school site.

To be eligible to vote a person must be 21 years of age or over, a resident of the school district for at least 30 days, and own or rent property or must be a parent of a school child attending in the district.

12 Indictments Made Wednesday By Ulster Jury

In addition to two indictments involving two southern Ulster men in the "half-million dollar" burglaries in Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia counties alleged to have been committed by Raymond H. Stanton, 48-year-old Poughkeepsie man and his son, Raymond, 22, the Ulster County grand jury on Wednesday returned 10 other indictments.

The partial report was made by the April grand jury to County Judge Raymond J. Mino Wednesday afternoon. Following the report, Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca told Judge Mino that there were still matters for the grand jury to consider and it will resume its sessions next week.

Five of the persons named in indictments were not in custody, Torraca said, and court was recessed until Monday, June 25 at 10 a. m. for arraignments.

At that time there will also be sentences in several cases.

Indictments Listed

The Grand Jury reported the following cases in addition to two charging Vernon O. Baker and Joseph Realmuto, Clintondale Road, Highland, with buying, possessing and concealing stolen property:

Charles Nelson Beintema, grand larceny, first degree, alleged to have been committed between March 10 and March 21, 1962, for the taking of a chain saw, the property of Joseph Tso.

Joseph Eugene Harris and Norman Arnold Miller, grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed May 2, 1962, for the taking a car owned by Edward Shildkret.

Vincent Richard Cramer, operation of a motor vehicle while intoxicated as a felony, alleged to have been committed December 22, 1961. It is charged he was previously convicted of a drunk driving charge on June 17, 1958. The present act allegedly took place in Town of Esopus.

Stolen Items Case

Karl John Lambert, criminally receiving stolen goods, criminally concealing and withholding stolen and wrongfully acquired property, alleged to have taken place between September 14 and September 21,

Orderly Cutback of Crews

Strike Is Averted Of TWA Engineers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Settlement of the engineers' strike threat against Trans World Airlines was announced today by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg after an all-night bargaining session in his office.

The settlement, a victory for President Kennedy who had termed the threatened shutdown a menace to the national economy, provides for orderly reduction of jet plane crews from four men to three.

Crux of Dispute

That had been the crux of the dispute, with the engineers insisting on terms which would maintain their cockpit job rights.

The TWA agreement is expected to lift the threat of grounding the planes of two other major airlines, Pan American World Airways and Eastern Airlines, which face the same problem of reducing crew numbers.

Goldberg told reporters the pact protects the jobs of the 600 TWA members of the Flight Engineers International Association and assures the continued identity of their union.

Signs that an agreement was near appeared early in the day.

The agreement, initialed at 10 a.m. by weary bargainers who have been in almost continuous session since Monday, is subject to ratification by the engineers. But approval is taken for granted by union officers here.

Noninflationary Terms

Goldberg described the terms as noninflationary and said that by providing for orderly crew reduction they will produce savings for the airline many times greater than whatever wage and working conditions terms are fixed in negotiations still to come.

The latter issues were disposed of in this fashion:

The parties will negotiate for one week; at the end of that time any issue not resolved will be settled by procedures to be specifid by Nathan P. Feinsinger, special mediator in the case; the union and the airline have agreed to accept his recommendations and refrain from striking.

The settlement assures the engineers, who must now qualify as pilots, that they will have top priority for assignment as the third man in the cockpit with two pilots.

It also provides assurance, Goldberg said, that the 3,000-man engineers' union will not be swallowed up in the 14,000-man Air Line Pilots Association as bargaining representative for its members.

The spokesman for the engineers, Attorney Asher Schwartz,

New Industry Is Seen Essential In UR Downtown

Members of the Rondout Area Business Men's Association were urged Wednesday night to move with emphasis toward gaining downtown industry before start of the urban renewal project designated as Broadway East.

James E. Norton, secretary of the Rondout Savings Bank, and association treasurer, who read from the "Marketability and Land Utilization Study," prepared by Larry Smith & Co. of New York, in conjunction with urban renewal, advised an active and vigorous campaign for new industry. Several acres have been designted for industrial use.

It was also decided at the dinner meeting held at Ray's Riverside Rest, 86 Ferry Street, that "an action committee" on urban renewal be named before the association's next meeting. Its members will be named by Manuel Lipton, the association's president.

Must Plan Unity

Catholic Schools Cut County Taxes, 2,722 Enrolled

In connection with the observance of June as Catholic Education Month, the parochial schools of Ulster County report that they have a total of 2,722 pupils in the elementary grades of the following schools:

Immaculate Conception, Kingston	145
St. Joseph's, Kingston	437
St. Mary's, Kingston	401
St. Peter's, Kingston	428
Academy of St. Ursula, Kingston	165

$1,725,748 Saving

It was pointed out by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel J. Shea, dean of Catholic clergy of Ulster County and pastor of St. Mary's in Kingston, that the Catholics of Ulster County are saving the taxpayers of the county and state $1,725,748 by sending their children to Catholic elementary schools.

This amount does not include what it would cost to build new classrooms and hire additional teachers if the children of the county now attending Catholic schools were turned over to the public school system.

This figure is based on the average cost of education a child in one of the elementary public schools, which is computed at $634 per year per child. Fifty-four per cent of this comes from local taxes, 45 per cent from state taxes, and one per cent from the federal government, tuition, etc.

Conservative Estimate

This is very probably, according to Monsignor Shea, a conservative estimate. It does not take into consideration the number of high school pupils from all of the Catholic parishes in Ulster County who are now attending Catholic High Schools at no cost to the taxpayers of the state. The most recent figures available, Monsignor Shea said, indicate that there are 751,722

Auto Belts Due For Strict State Check October 1

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — State Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults says there will be strict inspection of auto seat belts in connection with enforcement of the new seat-belt law that will begin Oct. 1.

Hults announced the enforcement plans Wednesday after conferring with State Sen. Edward J. Speno, Nassau County Republican, who was the leader in getting enactment of the seat-belt regulations.

Hults said there had been an increase of more than 1,000 per cent in the sale and use of belts in the state as a result of the law that now requires that all 1962 autos have seat-belt anchorages and that makes use of belts mandatory beginning with 1965 models.

The new law also provides that, as of June 30, this year belts sold in the state must bear a stamp of approval by the motor vehicle commissioner. Hults said enforcement of this requirement will be deferred three months to allow stricter supervision of the quality of the belts.

A basic specification in the law is that the belts sustain a pull of 4,000 pounds without the belt slipping more than an inch or stretching more than 20 per cent. Other specifications cover minimum width, thickness and other factors.

Proposed College Site Is Out Now At Stone Ridge

One site for the Ulster County Community College which had been under consideration, was withdrawn today on the eve of a meeting Friday at which time it is possible the trustees may come to a decision on site.

Trustee Kenneth Davenport of Town of Marbletown, who had been conducting negotiations for 50 acres of the estate of Mrs. Francis H. Leggett at Stone Ridge, today notified Temporary Chairman Harry Rigby Jr., that a tentative offer by Mrs. Leggett to give a portion of the Stone Ridge estate as a college site, had been withdrawn.

When it became apparent about two weeks ago that a portion of the Leggett estate might become available, it was given very serious consideration by the board of trustees. However, withdrawal of the tentative offer today, appears to eliminate that site from further consideration.

Any site which is selected must have the approval of the

U. S. Dictation Feared by Some

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are beginning to face up to the hard reality that France is determined to build its own nuclear weapons force whether they like it or not.

Change Dictation Attempt

McNamara's speech was sharply critical of the French plan to create a national nuclear force, though he did not mention France by name. This led in Europe to considerable counter criticism to th effect that the United States is trying to dictate to its Allies.

One well-informed official, privately discussing the U. S. policy implications in the McNamara speech, said today "we are not giving up on our opposition to a French national force but we are now trying to think beyond that."

Other officials said that if the European allies in consultation with the United States through the NATO council at Paris produce a workable formula for a NATO partnership they will find the Kennedy administration completely cooperative.

Plan to Integrate

One possibility reported to be under consideration is the creation of some kind of NATO command for strategic nuclear weapons. The initial effort of such an organization probably would be to integrate nuclear weapons strategies of the various allied governments including the United States.

At present the NATO military command has some control over the possible use of U.S. nuclear weapons stationed in Europe although they are primarily controlled by agreements between Washington and the countries on whose territory they are. The U.S. strategic force, including American-based missiles and the Strategic Air Command, are controlled in Washington although there is some coordination with NATO strategic planning.

Auto Belts Due For Strict State Check October 1

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — State Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults says there will be strict inspection of auto seat belts in connection with enforcement of the new seat-belt law that will begin Oct. 1.

Well over 3,000 school district voters are expected to cast ballots on the issue.

The proposal if approved will provide a 14-classroom school for 420 pupils on a 20-acre site at Katsbaan to cost $665,000, and a junior high school building with 10 classrooms for some 300 students at a cost of $535,000 on the high school site.

To be eligible to vote a person must be 21 years of age or over, a resident of the school district for at least 30 days, and own or rent property or must be a parent of a school child attending in the district.

12 Indictments Made Wednesday By Ulster Jury

In addition to two indictments involving two southern Ulster men in the "half-million dollar" burglaries in Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia counties alleged to have been committed by Raymond H. Stanton, 48-year-old Poughkeepsie man and his son, Raymond, 22, the Ulster County grand jury on Wednesday returned 10 other indictments.

The partial report was made by the April grand jury to County Judge Raymond J. Mino Wednesday afternoon. Following the report, Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca told Judge Mino that there were still matters for the grand jury to consider and it will resume its sessions next week.

Five of the persons named in indictments were not in custody, Torraca said, and court was recessed until Monday, June 25 at 10 a. m. for arraignments.

At that time there will also be sentences in several cases.

Indictments Listed

The Grand Jury reported the following cases in addition to two charging Vernon O. Baker and Joseph Realmuto, Clintondale Road, Highland, with buying, possessing and concealing stolen property:

Charles Nelson Beintema, grand larceny, first degree, alleged to have been committed between March 10 and March 21, 1962, for the taking of a chain saw, the property of Joseph Tso.

Joseph Eugene Harris and Norman Arnold Miller, grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed May 2, 1962, for the taking a car owned by Edward Shildkret.

Vincent Richard Cramer, operation of a motor vehicle while intoxicated as a felony, alleged to have been committed December 22, 1961. It is charged he was previously convicted of a drunk driving charge on June 17, 1958. The present act allegedly took place in Town of Esopus.

Stolen Items Case

Karl John Lambert, criminally receiving stolen goods, criminally concealing and withholding stolen and wrongfully acquired property, alleged to have taken place between September 14 and September 21,

Orderly Cutback of Crews

Strike Is Averted Of TWA Engineers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Settlement of the engineers' strike threat against Trans World Airlines was announced today by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg after an all-night bargaining session in his office.

The settlement, a victory for President Kennedy who had termed the threatened shutdown a menace to the national economy, provides for orderly reduction of jet plane crews from four men to three.

Crux of Dispute

That had been the crux of the dispute, with the engineers insisting on terms which would maintain their cockpit job rights.

The TWA agreement is expected to lift the threat of grounding the planes of two other major airlines, Pan American World Airways and Eastern Airlines, which face the same problem of reducing crew numbers.

Goldberg told reporters the pact protects the jobs of the 600 TWA members of the Flight Engineers International Association and assures the continued identity of their union.

Signs that an agreement was near appeared early in the day.

The agreement, initialed at 10 a.m. by weary bargainers who have been in almost continuous session since Monday, is subject to ratification by the engineers. But approval is taken for granted by union officers here.

Noninflationary Terms

Goldberg described the terms as noninflationary and said that by providing for orderly crew reduction they will produce savings for the airline many times greater than whatever wage and working conditions terms are fixed in negotiations still to come.

The latter issues were disposed of in this fashion:

The parties will negotiate for one week; at the end of that time any issue not resolved will be settled by procedures to be specifid by Nathan P. Feinsinger, special mediator in the case; the union and the airline have agreed to accept his recommendations and refrain from striking.

The settlement assures the engineers, who must now qualify as pilots, that they will have top priority for assignment as the third man in the cockpit with two pilots.

It also provides assurance, Goldberg said, that the 3,000-man engineers' union will not be swallowed up in the 14,000-man Air Line Pilots Association as bargaining representative for its members.

The spokesman for the engineers, Attorney Asher Schwartz,

New Industry Is Seen Essential In UR Downtown

Members of the Rondout Area Business Men's Association were urged Wednesday night to move with emphasis toward gaining downtown industry before start of the urban renewal project designated as Broadway East.

James E. Norton, secretary of the Rondout Savings Bank, and association treasurer, who read from the "Marketability and Land Utilization Study," prepared by Larry Smith & Co. of New York, in conjunction with urban renewal, advised an active and vigorous campaign for new industry. Several acres have been designted for industrial use.

It was also decided at the dinner meeting held at Ray's Riverside Rest, 86 Ferry Street, that "an action committee" on urban renewal be named before the association's next meeting. Its members will be named by Manuel Lipton, the association's president.

Must Plan Unity

Proposed College Site Is Out Now At Stone Ridge

One site for the Ulster County Community College which had been under consideration, was withdrawn today on the eve of a meeting Friday at which time it is possible the trustees may come to a decision on site.

Trustee Kenneth Davenport of Town of Marbletown, who had been conducting negotiations for 50 acres of the estate of Mrs. Francis H. Leggett at Stone Ridge, today notified Temporary Chairman Harry Rigby Jr., that a tentative offer by Mrs. Leggett to give a portion of the Stone Ridge estate as a college site, had been withdrawn.

When it became apparent about two weeks ago that a portion of the Leggett estate might become available, it was given very serious consideration by the board of trustees. However, withdrawal of the tentative offer today, appears to eliminate that site from further consideration.

Any site which is selected must have the approval of the Report Benefits Of New Five-Year Fluoridation Test

A recently completed five-year study on fluoridation showed reduced tooth decay among children by 35 per cent, it was reported this week by the health bureau of St. Paul, Minn.

The report was the result of two dental surveys involving more than 20,000 elementary and junior high school youngsters in the 5 to 15 age bracket.

The health bureau report indicated a 35 per cent reduction in dental decay of permanent teeth, a 27 per cent reduction in decay of baby teeth, a 50 per cent increase in the number of children with decay-free permanent teeth missing.

All age groups had benefited from the addition of 1.2 parts of fluoride per 1,000,000 parts of water, the report revealed.

Those children who were exposed to fluoridated water for shorter periods also received significant benefits, the survey report noted. Those pupils who came into the area during the five-year test period showed almost as large a drop as did those who had resided in the city throughout the entire period of the test, the report said.

"It indicates that the younger the child, the greater the benefits. Older pupils, in 14 and 15 year groups also showed a decrease in dental decay of about 30 per cent, the report said.

Key Figure in Broome Case

LILLIE MAE COLVIN

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—A practical nurse who figured prominently in the case of six babies who died of salt poisoning says her reinstatement by Binghamton General Hospital makes her "just feel like shouting."

"I prayed it would turn out this way," said Mrs. Lillie Mae Colvin, a licensed practical nurse who expects her fourth child in September.

"I hoped it would, but you can just never tell until it is over," she told the Binghamton Sun-Bulletin.

Hospital officials have said Mrs. Colvin apparently got salt, instead of sugar, last March when she went to the city-owned hospital's main kitchen to refill the sugar canister used in preparation of infants' formula.

A total of 14 babies received salt-laden formula. Six of them died in the space of four days. The others survived.

Mrs. Colvin, who has insisted she made no error, was notified of her reinstatement by the hospital Wednesday.

The hospital told her she would be assigned to "appropriate duties," she said. Richard E. Pille, president of the hospital's board of managers, said these duties would be outside the formula room "for the time being."

Mrs. Colvin, the hospital said, will receive back pay for the period from March 11, when she was suspended, to May 27. She went on maternity leave, without pay, as of May 27.

Mrs. Colvin said her three children had all been born at the hospital and "this one will be born there, too."

Upstate Industry LeaderCampaigns For Governorship

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP) — Howard J. Samuels, 42-year-old industrialist, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Founder and president of Kordite Co., in nearby Macedon, Samuels put himself officially into the race for the nomination at a meeting of 20 Upstate Democratic leaders here.

"I am in the race to stay and I am confident of victory," Samuels told the gathering in a prepared speech.

He said his programs would "go beyond the cliches and false solutions which only hinder us in the complex society in which we are living."

His Campaign Plan

His campaign, he said, would be 'predicated on hard, fast issues, "rather than on platitudes."

He became the fourth announced candidate for the Democratic Party's nomination to oppose Governor Rockefeller.

Rep. Samuel Stratton (D-Schenectady) long has campaigned for the nomination, and last week Frank D. O'Connor, Queens County district attorney, officially opened his campaign for the party's top choice on the state ticket. The fourth is Mayor Stanley Church of New Rochelle.

Touring State

Samuels, a graduate of Rochester public schools and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for the past two months has been touring the state and speaking before various county Democratic committees.

Chairman John Fabrizi of the Ontario County Committee along with 15 other Upstate county leaders, was among his early backers.

Samuels and his brother, Richard, founded Kordite, a plastics manufacturing company, in 1946. Its annual sales now exceed $5 million. The company employes about 2,000.

Confident of Nod

"I am confident the Democratic State Convention will nominate me, and that the entire Democratic state ticket will be victorious in November," he said.

Following the meeting, Samuels was scheduled to fly to New York City where he will map his campaign plans and conduct a press conference.

Area Woman Held For Forgery of Store Sales Slips

Accused of signing the name of another woman to charge slips and obtaining merchandise valued at $1,397.37 at the Wallace Department Store, 331 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, Miss Margaret Murphy, 23, of that city, was arraigned Wednesday on second degree forgery charges.

Police said Miss Murphy, who resides at 185 Union Street, Poughkeepsie, waived examination before City Judge Milton Haven, in that city, and the case was referred to the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $2,500.

Miss Murphy was taken into custody by Detective Robert Schuyler and Policewoman Mrs. John Powers, on complaint of the store manager, Thomas McGrath. A deposition was signed by Mrs. Gladys Sullivan, credit manager, stating the defendant came to her and identified herself as Miss Marion McNeil, whose name was allegedly made by the defendant to make purchases.

Miss Murphy is specifically charged with obtaining $72.33 worth of goods by signing Miss McNeil's name. Police said the defendant admitted taking $1,397.37 worth of merchandise.

Queens DA Is Satisfied With His Bid for Top Post

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Frank D. O'Connor, Queens County District attorney, says he is satisfied with his campaign to win grassroots support for his bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

O'Connor wound up a three-day swing through Central and Western New York Wednesday night. He has visited 25 counties in the past five weeks, an aide said, and will complete within the next few weeks a schedule of appearances that will take him into every county in the state.

At Auburn Wednesday, Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon introduced O'Connor to Cayuga County Democrats as "My friend Frank O'Connor and your candidate for the nomination...."

However, McKeon said the introduction should not be construed as an endorsement. He did not elaborate.

Later, O'Connor told a newsman that McKeon was 'maintaining his neutrality."

"McKeon has sent me to various places, but he has done that for other candidates," O'Connor said.

O'Connor's final appearance on his latest Upstate visit was before a Oswego County Democratic gathering Wednesday night at Three Rivers. He told the group that the people of the state had suffered under Republican Gov. Rockefeller because "all his decisions are politically motivated by a desire to become President."

Key Figure in Broome Case

Nurse Feels Just Like Shouting on Reinstatement Word

LILLIE MAE COLVIN

"I prayed it would turn out this way," said Mrs. Lillie Mae Colvin, a licensed practical nurse who expects her fourth child in September.

"I hoped it would, but you can just never tell until it is over," she told the Binghamton Sun-Bulletin.

Hospital officials have said Mrs. Colvin apparently got salt, instead of sugar, last March when she went to the city-owned hospital's main kitchen to refill the sugar canister used in preparation of infants' formula.

A total of 14 babies received salt-laden formula. Six of them died in the space of four days. The others survived.

Mrs. Colvin, who has insisted she made no error, was notified of her reinstatement by the hospital Wednesday.

The hospital told her she would be assigned to "appropriate duties," she said. Richard E. Pille, president of the hospital's board of managers, said these duties would be outside the formula room "for the time being."

Mrs. Colvin, the hospital said, will receive back pay for the period from March 11, when she was suspended, to May 27. She went on maternity leave, without pay, as of May 27.

Mrs. Colvin said her three children had all been born at the hospital and "this one will be born there, too."

Upstate Industry LeaderCampaigns For Governorship

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP) — Howard J. Samuels, 42-year-old industrialist, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Founder and president of Kordite Co., in nearby Macedon, Samuels put himself officially into the race for the nomination at a meeting of 20 Upstate Democratic leaders here.

"I am in the race to stay and I am confident of victory," Samuels told the gathering in a prepared speech.

He said his programs would "go beyond the cliches and false solutions which only hinder us in the complex society in which we are living."

His Campaign Plan

His campaign, he said, would be predicated on hard, fast issues, "rather than on platitudes."

He became the fourth announced candidate for the Democratic Party's nomination to oppose Governor Rockefeller.

Rep. Samuel Stratton (D-Schenectady) long has campaigned for the nomination, and last week Frank D. O'Connor, Queens County district attorney, officially opened his campaign for the party's top choice on the state ticket. The fourth is Mayor Stanley Church of New Rochelle.

Touring State

Samuels, a graduate of Rochester public schools and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for the past two months has been touring the state and speaking before various county Democratic committees.

Chairman John Fabrizi of the Ontario County Committee along with 15 other Upstate county leaders, was among his early backers.

Samuels and his brother, Richard, founded Kordite, a plastics manufacturing company, in 1946. Its annual sales now exceed $5 million. The company employes about 2,000.

Confident of Nod

"I am confident the Democratic State Convention will nominate me, and that the entire Democratic state ticket will be victorious in November," he said.

Following the meeting, Samuels was scheduled to fly to New York City where he will map his campaign plans and conduct a press conference.

Area Woman Held For Forgery of Store Sales Slips

Accused of signing the name of another woman to charge slips and obtaining merchandise valued at $1,397.37 at the Wallace Department Store, 331 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, Miss Margaret Murphy, 23, of that city, was arraigned Wednesday on second degree forgery charges.

Police said Miss Murphy, who resides at 185 Union Street, Poughkeepsie, waived examination before City Judge Milton Haven, in that city, and the case was referred to the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $2,500.

Miss Murphy was taken into custody by Detective Robert Schuyler and Policewoman Mrs. John Powers, on complaint of the store manager, Thomas McGrath. A deposition was signed by Mrs. Gladys Sullivan, credit manager, stating the defendant came to her and identified herself as Miss Marion McNeil, whose name was allegedly made by the defendant to make purchases.

Miss Murphy is specifically charged with obtaining $72.33 worth of goods by signing Miss McNeil's name. Police said the defendant admitted taking $1,397.37 worth of merchandise.

Many Trees

The U.S. Forestry Service lists 1,027 different kinds of trees growing in the nation, including 78 kinds of "naturalized" trees brought in from other parts of the world and which have made themselves so much at home that they generally are considered natives.

Queens DA Is Satisfied With His Bid for Top Post

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Frank D. O'Connor, Queens County District attorney, says he is satisfied with his campaign to win grassroots support for his bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

O'Connor wound up a three-day swing through Central and Western New York Wednesday night. He has visited 25 counties in the past five weeks, an aide said, and will complete within the next few weeks a schedule of appearances that will take him into every county in the state.

At Auburn Wednesday, Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon introduced O'Connor to Cayuga County Democrats as "My friend Frank O'Connor and your candidate for the nomination...."

However, McKeon said the introduction should not be construed as an endorsement. He did not elaborate.

Later, O'Connor told a newsman that McKeon was "maintaining his neutrality."

"McKeon has sent me to various places, but he has done that for other candidates," O'Connor said.

O'Connor's final appearance on his latest Upstate visit was before a Oswego County Democratic gathering Wednesday night at Three Rivers. He told the group that the people of the state had suffered under Republican Gov. Rockefeller because "all his decisions are politically motivated by a desire to become President."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 21, 1962

DATA FOR GOVERNORS

Shortly the nation's governors gather at Hershey, Pa., for their annual conference. Among other things, they will raise their familiar cry that the federal government is usurping their revenue sources.

This can pop up in a scheduled workshop session when they talk about solutions to "old and new state problems." It gets a little more specific treatment in another session devoted to "Relinquishment of Federal Income Taxes for Educational Purposes."

Before the governors get heavily into all this again, it should perhaps be pointed out that they are not exactly tapping dry money wells.

Drawing upon the Census Bureau's studies of government finances, one finds that in an 11-year period ending in 1959, state and local tax returns in the United States boomed nearly 143 per cent. In the same span, federal tax receipts rose 77 per cent.

State and local government expenditures in 1959 were about $49 billion overall, an increase of 176 per cent from 1948. All federal outlays, including those for defense in the Korean War period and thereafter, climbed 132 per cent in a similar interval.

If national security expenditures be eliminated, the general federal rise for the 11 years is 60 per cent—against that state-local 176 per cent. A third of the federal total represents service on the huge debt, much of it incurred in World War II.

Census studies indicate that property taxes—often described as exhausted sources of funds—brought in 147 per cent more revenue in 1959 than in 1948. These receipts account for a full third of all state-local revenues.

Returns from sales and related taxes shot up 135 per cent in the same period, representing nearly a quarter of all funds available to state and local governments.

These governments in the 1948-59 period also got a 267 per cent revenue boost from individual and corporate income levies. But this is misleading, since altogether these brought in just 6.6 per cent of total revenues.

The income tax field is, indeed, largely preempted by the U.S. government, But, obviously, the states and communities cannot fairly say that because of this and other taxes Washington is, relative to earlier years, pulling in more money than other levels. The reverse appears to be true.

States and cities may nevertheless argue that they are reaching the saturation point with property and sales taxes. Yet, as a percentage of the gross national product, state-local outlays are just a bit above 10 per cent—about the ratio prevailing in 1938.

PICNIC FOOD PERIL

News that several hundred persons were stricken with food poisoning after eating Army chow at an Armed Forces Day celebration at Fort Jackson in South Carolina came as a dramatic summer warning. Care taken in handling picnic food, especially in large quantities, can avert unpleasant situations.

Hot weather and barbecue or picnic food can be a dangerous combination if proper safeguards are not taken. Bacteria multiply rapidly in certain prepared foods unless they are kept either hot or well refrigerated. The middle ground of allowing foods and dairy beverages to stand before serving is an invitation to trouble.

A good rule is to keep cold things cold and hot things hot. Besides, food tastes better under those conditions.

OLD BOOKS, TOO

Many persons, some fairly well educated, hold the view that the only books worth reading are those written by our contemporaries. Perhaps to say they hold this view is an exaggeration. Pinned down to express an opinion, they would doubtless agree that there is some value in reading the works of earlier generations. Yet their attitude suggests that such reading is properly confined to the years of formal education, and that they are now done with it.

The taste of such persons is for books hot off the press—the latest novel, biography, history, sociological work. They feel uncomfortable reading anything more than a few years old, as though in doing so they were losing ground in the great race to be conversant with events and thoughts of our time.

Events and thoughts of our time are important, certainly, but they are not all-important. By this is meant that they do not in themselves explain everything. Sometimes, meaningful light is cast on modern life by books written long before many of the conditions of modern life were even dreamed of.

A famous professor of English is supposed to have remarked that whenever a new book came out he read an old one. Taken literally, this is impossible; no man has the time nor the energy to contend with such a flood of books. Taken as an approach to the task and art and joy of reading, as a way of making the most of one's reading, the remark is sound advice.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE GILBERT STORY

For several years, I have seen Eddie Gilbert about New York. He had moved from the wrong side of the tracks into the social and moral morass known as Cafe Society. By the way his name appeared, with regularity, in certain gossip columns, he must have had a press agent to proclaim his significance and to make his adopted name and his professoin as a financier a household word.

Eddie Gilbert bought friendships by picking up the tab for his social superiors. He gave parties at which were present some who are always present at parties and whose presence requires a headwaiter to give a preferred table, if any table is ever really preferred.

He owned a house on the Riviera, which is a European Gaza strip where ladies and gentlemen during the season disport themselves, as they do during another season at Palm Beach and as their ancestors used to do at Newport or Atlantic City. It is the thing to do and does not cost too much if you know someone like Eddie Gilbert who has sleeping space for distinguished names and whose Sunday breakfasts, with champagne and an orchestra, brought together those who go everywhere and are known to everybody.

Eddie Gilbert sure made it. Now, of course, he has taken refuge in Brazil, which is a sanctuary for American swindlers. If you have any intention of being a swindler, do not jump out of a window, if your conscience pricks you. Just take a plane to Brazil and join the colony of expatriates there.

Eddie Gilbert's partner in this gaiety was a rather demure young lady, his wife, Rhoda. She did not go to Brazil with Eddie because they are now living apart. Rhoda recently got into a tizzy over some jewelry which she picked up at Cartier's; not one piece, but a couple of handful. She expected Eddie to pay. He declined. She was forced to return the jewelry.

His fortune, estimated at $15,000,000, had disappeared in the complications of the deflation of paper values. He not only was broke but he had helped himself to $2,000,000 or thereabouts and ran off to Brazil. He said in an interview that he hoped "to pay everybody back and make everything whole some day." That is the spirit! But when is some day? Meanwhile, Eddie is in Brazil and if he has any of the $2,000,000 that he swiped from his company, he can, of course, trade on European exchanges, even in American securities, evading income taxes which will be a help. If he is found to be trading on American exchanges, his funds will probably be seized. Eddie is not likely to do that.

Eddie, in this purported interview, says that if he returned to the United States, he would be crucified. He is in error. We do not crucify. He would undoubtedly be arrested, indicted by a Grand Jury, tried by a judge and jury in a Court of Law and he would perhaps be convicted and sent to prison. After 10 years or so, he might get out of prison for good behavior and probably find that all those for whom he picked up the tab in fancy restaurants, no longer knew him. It is a habit in those circles, to run fast from trouble.

Eddie holds that he did nothing to hurt anybody intentionally. Nevertheless a great many people suffered because of Eddie's financial genius, particularly those whom he guaranteed against losses. One of Eddie's complaints is that a "lot of important people on Wall Strett disappointed him." This is not surprising.

There are very few important people on Wall Street. In such an extremity as the present one, the brokers and bankers of Wall Street strip themselves of refinement and become Shylocks who demand their due. It was Wall Street's hardness of heart in it dealings with the Bank of the United States that got the 1929 Depression rolling. Anyone who believes that he can depend on "important people" in Wall Street might just as well depend on an IBM machine.

Eddie must have picked up the tab for those "important people." Now, they don't know him. Had he asked anyone who has had dealings with "important people," he would have been told that they always run away. When, in trouble, it is best to go to unimportant people..

FDA Monitors Fallout In the Market Basket

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most of what we hear and read about fallout might be included in Shakespeare's "tale told by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing." Hence, it is doubly refreshing to come across a common sense approach to the problem such as the measurements of the strontium-90 content of "market basket" samplings, as conducted by our Food and Drug Administration.

Briefly stated, the FDA purchases "market baskets" of foods from four large chain stores in the Washington, D. C. area. The foods chosen are those that might be bought by a mother in a moderate income bracket for her 19-year-old son.

A week's supply for the average 19-year-old, with a pit where his stomach ought to be, averages 60 pounds in weight. For purposes of testing, the basket contains those foods the lad would normally consume. And these foods are prepared by washing, trimming, separation of wastes, bone removal and cooking according to the most acceptable home practices.

When a week's supply is prepared for eating, it is analyzed for its content of strontium-90. Then the waste (bones, fat, coffee grounds, fruit and vegetable skins and fibers) is tested. And, by subtracting the content in waste from the content of the "market basket," the weekly amount of strontium-90 that would have been taken in by the 19-year-old, if he'd eaten his fill, is calculated.

You will be relieved to learn, I am sure, that the average intake of strontium-90 from the edible portions of the "market basket" diet samples are no more than 6 per cent of the intake considered acceptable by the Federal Radiation Council.

Recent atomic testing may alter this figure, however.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Not given general release with the "Declaration of Republican Principle and Policy" recently issued by a joint committee of 12 GOP senators and representatives was a series of 30 confidential "annotations." It was the first time a political platform ever came out with footnotes, which are usually pretty dull stuff.

IN THIS CASE, HOWEVER, the GOP committee's staff under National Committee Research Director William B. Prendergast took the trouble to document their statement of general principles with specific examples of what they were talking about, and citing Democratic sources for their charges. Footnotes were thus more interesting than main text.

There isn't space for all 30 citations here. So what follows, "in quotation marks" are the main statements of broad, general GOP policy, after which (in parentheses) comes the specific charges in the hitherto unpublished footnotes:

"They"—meaning the Democrats—"have argued that government must protect individuals from foolish spending by taking their money and spending it for them." (The writings of Economic Advisory Council Chairman Walter W. Heller, Ambassador Kenneth Galbraith, White House Aide Arthur Schlesinger Jr., and Harvard Economist Seymour Harris are cited as having advanced this argument.)

"Government should not compete, nor fix wages or prices, nor substitute its decision for free bargaining in the market place." (It is charged this was done by the Kennedy administration actions in the steel controversy.)

"We"—meaning the Republicans—"believe in meeting unemployment with real jobs from the released energy of private initiative." (The administration proposal for stand-by public works is said to violate this principle.)

"A thorough overhaul of the tax system...is overdue." (Administration tax proposals are said to have been partial and discriminatory.)

"Waste must be eliminated." (There has been 16 per cent increase in federal spending over the last Eisenhower budget.)

"Economic responsibility requires more than lip service to a balanced budget." ($8 billion federal debt increase last year, compared to $2.8 billion average annual debt increase under Eisenhower.)

"...A stable dollar... is not likely to result if control of the Federal Reserve System is placed under the White House." (President's proposal to reorganize Federal Reserve Board, appointing chairman for four-year term.)

"Republicans urge vigorous investigation of fraud at the polls and recommend corrective action." (Democratic opposition to giving Civil Rights Commission jurisdiction over vote frauds. This responsibility was left in Department of Justice.)

"Republicans reject attempts to run a legislative bulldozer through the structure of voluntary health insurance and private medicine." (King-Anderson bill would lead to abandonment of voluntary health insurance now held by nine million people over 65.)

"Every American youth should have the opportunity to receive an education....Selective federal assistance is needed." (Administration supports bill giving aid to all public schools for all school purposes.)

"The national government should be ready to co-operate with states and localities, not smother them with direction and control." (Administration plans for school aid, urban areas and medical care violate this principle.)

"We reject the administration's proposal which gives the farmer only a choice between regimentation and ruin."

This was one charge the staff did not annotate, but it is obvious the reference is to the Kennedy-Freeman farm program now before Congress.

Did Kennedy Encourage Illegal Price-Fixing Act?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy always has maintained that he acted in the "public interest" in the steel-price controversy. His brother, the Attorney General, has just given some interesting background on what happened. He says the Administration based its action on an "assumption" or "understanding" that the steel industry would absorb the added wage cost of $100 million without increasing prices.

Did the steel companies, however, have any such "understanding" with the government when prices were advanced or even when they were held down? Was there concerted action between the White House and any steel company to fix the price of steel at present levels? Did the Administration encourage any illegal act?

In an antitrust case in 1940, oil companies, which had been indicted for fixing the price of gasoline, argued that a governmental agency had encouraged, co-operated and acquiesced in their program. But the Supreme Court of the United States ruled:

"Under the Sherman Act a combination formed for the purpose and with the effect of raising, depressing, fixing, pegging, or stabilizing the price of a commodity in interstate or foreign commerce is illegal per se. . . .

"Though employes of the government may have known of those programs and winked at them or tacitly approved them, no immunity would have thereby been obtained. . . .

"For, as we have seen, price-fixing combinations which lack Congressional sanction are illegal per se."

The Verbatim Transcript

The Attorney General last Sunday spoke on the American Broadcasting Company's program called "Issues and Answers" and indicated he would have welcomed a concerted action to hold prices and that he believes there was, by implication, some kind of an "assumption" or "understanding" to that effect anyhow as between the steel companies and the President. Mr. Kennedy was interrogated by William H. Lawrence of ABC. Here is a verbatim transcript of what the Attorney General said:

"The President and the Administration were committed to attempting to stop the inflation in the United States and in that effort of course steel plays a major role. With the concurrence of steel executive, management, the President and Mr. Goldberg, Secretary of Labor, had many meetings with representatives in the steel union to attempt to prevail upon them to not make their demands excessive.

"It was understood in the meetings with the steel executives, Mr. Blough andl others, that this effort was to be made so that with the union's demands being reasonable that the price of steel would not have to be raised. It was with this understanding that the President and Arthur Goldberg went ahead and finally, I think through their efforts prevailed upon the union to keep their demands in extremely reasonable level which was recognized by all throughout the United States and a contract was signed on very reasonable terms and recognized as such, and then a short time later the steel companies, led by U. S. Steel, raised their prices.

"Thereafter realizing what the effect would be on the economy generally, what the effect would be on all of the other industries, if this remained, the President did what he could to exert (assert) the public interest and the various branches of the departments, various branches and departments of the executive branch of the government were brought into play. It think he had a responsibility to defend and protect the public interest.

Questions and Answers

Q. Did you say there was an understanding with Mr. Blough that steel prices would not be raised?

A. No.

Q. I thought you did say that just a minute ago.

A. The effort that was made with the union—the steel union—was made with the complete understanding of the steel executives that the Government was bringing this pressure to keep the steel union and Mr. David MacDonald from raising their demands to too high a level. During that whole period it was—the effort was being made so that the steel companies in turn would not have to raise their prices.

Q. Well, if there was not an understanding, Mr. Kennedy, there was at least an assumption on the part of the Administration that there would be no steel price rise after this non-inflationary wage agreement was signed?

A. That is correct.

Q. And it was on this feeling of an assumption rather than an understanding that the President felt in effect that he had been double-crossed, right?

A. That is correct. The steel company executives, however, never said, never indicated, said or stated that they would not raise their prices, but it was an understanding as you described—that if we were successful in keeping the union demands at a low level and a contract was signed which was non-inflationary it was the understanding that the price of steel would not be raised. Shortly afterward the price of steel was raised.

Yet, if the shoe were on the other foot and any "assumption" or "understanding" was reached among management executives in any industry whereby prices would be raised or maintained at a given level, the Department of Justice, on the basis of past performance, would be the first to assert that concerted action with or without government encouragement or consent is a violation of the antitrust laws. For that's what the Supreme Court has ruled is the "law of the land" today.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

From time to time you see old timers, and possibly those who grew up in the old country, carrying a sack and knife and collecting something at this time of the year along the roadsides. There is a chance it maybe the common dandelion. It is believed this relative of the chickory family has followed the Anglo-Saxon around the world, according to a book called "Nature's Garden" by Neltje Blanchan I bought at Kingston City Library sale.

Perhaps we, who try to grow cultivated, hot-house, flowers or dated seeds without much success should learn the tricks of this sturdy, really pretty yellow flower which sends her roots so deep that neither heat nor drought nor rabbit or insects seem to get at it. You never have to spray a dandelion. It will grow regardless of the weather or other conditions, and if you cut it, it will only become stronger. It is said a bitter medicine is extracted from the dandelion root and even the leaves are bitter, so that cattle know enough to keep away from it. It is said, there is a time of year to pick them when the shoots are young and fresh, and they can be boiled like spinach or eaten with salad dressing. Every nation where it goes has a name for it, some call it lion's tooth, or dent de lion because of the leaves.

The dandelion knows to close its shutters at night and in rainy cold weather, but otherwise all the insects know her and carry her messages everywhere. It is a social climber and will suddenly come up in the finest formal garden and will happily bloom every month during nice weather.

I do not know if the cranberry grows around here. The large or American cranberry is from the huckleberry family according to this book, and the huckleberry we have. The cranberry trails on a slender, woody vine one to three feet long and loves the bogs, sandy and swampy meadows and has a pretty flower, according to this book.

"Cultivators of the cranberry know how important it is to have the flooded bogs well drained before the flowering season. Water (or ice) may cover the plants to the depth of a foot or more all winter and until May 10; and during the late summer it is often advisable to overflow the bogs to prevent injury of the vine, delicate roots from drought, and to destroy the worm that is the plant's worst enemy; but until the flowers have wooed the bees, flies and other winged benefactors, and fruit is well formed, every cultivator knows enough not to submerge his bog. With flowers under water there are no insect visitors, consequently no berries."

"Dense mats of the wiry vines should yield about 150 bushels of berries to the acre, under skillful cultivation, since the cranberry costs less to cultivate, gather and market than the strawberry or any of the small perishable fruits. Planted in muck and sand in the garden, the vines yield surprisingly good results. The Cape Cod Bell is the best known market berry, and in early autumn about the New England coast men, women and children can be seen beery-picking. Temporary buildings are set up for sorting, measuring and packing. I wonder if we have any chanberry plants in Ulster County, if so, where?

DATA FOR GOVERNORS

Shortly the nation's governors gather at Hershey, Pa., for their annual conference. Among other things, they will raise their familiar cry that the federal government is usurping their revenue sources.

This can pop up in a scheduled workshop session when they talk about solutions to "old and new state problems." It gets a little more specific treatment in another session devoted to "Relinquishment of Federal Income Taxes for Educational Purposes."

Before the governors get heavily into all this again, it should perhaps be pointed out that they are not exactly tapping dry money wells.

Drawing upon the Census Bureau's studies of government finances, one finds that in an 11-year period ending in 1959, state and local tax returns in the United States boomed nearly 143 per cent. In the same span, federal tax receipts rose 77 per cent.

State and local government expenditures in 1959 were about $49 billion overall, an increase of 176 per cent from 1948. All federal outlays, including those for defense in the Korean War period and thereafter, climbed 132 per cent in a similar interval.

If national security expenditures be eliminated, the general federal rise for the 11 years is 60 per cent—against that state-local 176 per cent. A third of the federal total represents service on the huge debt, much of it incurred in World War II.

Census studies indicate that property taxes—often described as exhausted sources of funds—brought in 147 per cent more revenue in 1959 than in 1948. These receipts account for a full third of all state-local revenues.

Returns from sales and related taxes shot up 135 per cent in the same period, representing nearly a quarter of all funds available to state and local governments.

These governments in the 1948-59 period also got a 267 per cent revenue boost from individual and corporate income levies. But this is misleading, since altogether these brought in just 6.6 per cent of total revenues.

The income tax field is, indeed, largely preempted by the U.S. government. But, obviously, the states and communities cannot fairly say that because of this and other taxes Washington is, relative to earlier years, pulling in more money than other levels. The reverse appears to be true.

States and cities may nevertheless argue that they are reaching the saturation point with property and sales taxes. Yet, as a percentage of the gross national product, state-local outlays are just a bit above 10 per cent—about the ratio prevailing in 1938.

PICNIC FOOD PERIL

News that several hundred persons were stricken with food poisoning after eating Army chow at an Armed Forces Day celebration at Fort Jackson in South Carolina came as a dramatic summer warning. Care taken in handling picnic food, especially in large quantities, can avert unpleasant situations.

Hot weather and barbecue or picnic food can be a dangerous combination if proper safeguards are not taken. Bacteria multiply rapidly in certain prepared foods unless they are kept either hot or well refrigerated. The middle ground of allowing foods and dairy beverages to stand before serving is an invitation to trouble.

A good rule is to keep cold things cold and hot things hot. Besides, food tastes better under those conditions.

OLD BOOKS, TOO

Many persons, some fairly well educated, hold the view that the only books worth reading are those written by our contemporaries. Perhaps to say they hold this view is an exaggeration. Pinned down to express an opinion, they would doubtless agree that there is some value in reading the works of earlier generations. Yet their attitude suggests that such reading is properly confined to the years of formal education, and that they are now done with it.

The taste of such persons is for books hot off the press—the latest novel, biography, history, sociological work. They feel uncomfortable reading anything more than a few years old, as though in doing so they were losing ground in the great race to be conversant with events and thoughts of our time.

Events and thoughts of our time are important, certainly, but they are not all-important. By this is meant that they do not in themselves explain everything. Sometimes, meaningful light is cast on modern life by books written long before many of the conditions of modern life were even dreamed of.

A famous professor of English is supposed to have remarked that whenever a new book came out he read an old one. Taken literally, this is impossible; no man has the time nor the energy to contend with such a flood of books. Taken as an approach to the task and art and joy of reading, as a way of making the most of one's reading, the remark is sound advice.

'These Days'

THE GILBERT STORY

For several years, I have seen Eddie Gilbert about New York. He had moved from the wrong side of the tracks into the social and moral morass known as Cafe Society. By the way his name appeared, with regularity, in certain gossip columns, he must have had a press agent to proclaim his significance and to make his adopted name and his professoin as a financier a household word.

Eddie Gilbert bought friendships by picking up the tab for his social superiors. He gave parties at which were present some who are always present at parties and whose presence requires a headwaiter to give a preferred table, if any table is ever really preferred.

He owned a house on the Riviera, which is a European Gaza strip where ladies and gentlemen during the season disport themselves, as they do during another season at Palm Beach and as their ancestors used to do at Newport or Atlantic City. It is the thing to do and does not cost too much if you know someone like Eddie Gilbert who has sleeping space for distinguished names and whose Sunday breakfasts, with champagne and an orchestra, brought together those who go everywhere and are known to everybody.

Eddie Gilbert sure made it. Now, of course, he has taken refuge in Brazil, which is a sanctuary for American swindlers. If you have any intention of being a swindler, do not jump out of a window, if your conscience pricks you. Just take a plane to Brazil and join the colony of expatriates there.

Eddie Gilbert's partner in this gaiety was a rather demure young lady, his wife, Rhoda. She did not go to Brazil with Eddie because they are now living apart. Rhoda recently got into a tizzy over some jewelry which she picked up at Cartier's; not one piece, but a couple of handful. She expected Eddie to pay. He declined. She was forced to return the jewelry.

His fortune, estimated at $15,000,000, had disappeared in the complications of the deflation of paper values. He not only was broke but he had helped himself to $2,000,000 or thereabouts and ran off to Brazil. He said in an interview that he hoped "to pay everybody back and make everything whole some day." That is the spirit! But when is some day? Meanwhile, Eddie is in Brazil and if he has any of the $2,000,000 that he swiped from his company, he can, of course, trade on European exchanges, even in American securities, evading income taxes which will be a help. If he is found to be trading on American exchanges, his funds will probably be seized. Eddie is not likely to do that.

Eddie, in this purported interview, says that if he returned to the United States, he would be crucified. He is in error. We do not crucify. He would undoubtedly be arrested, indicted by a Grand Jury, tried by a judge and jury in a Court of Law and he would perhaps be convicted and sent to prison. After 10 years or so, he might get out of prison for good behavior and probably find that all those for whom he picked up the tab in fancy restaurants, no longer knew him. It is a habit in those circles, to run fast from trouble.

Eddie holds that he did nothing to hurt anybody intentionally. Nevertheless a great many people suffered because of Eddie's financial genius, particularly those whom he guaranteed against losses. One of Eddie's complaints is that a "lot of important people on Wall Strett disappointed him." This is not surprising.

There are very few important people on Wall Street. In such an extremity as the present one, the brokers and bankers of Wall Street strip themselves of refinement and become Shylocks who demand their due. It was Wall Street's hardness of heart in it dealings with the Bank of the United States that got the 1929 Depression rolling. Anyone who believes that he can depend on "important people" in Wall Street might just as well depend on an IBM machine.

Eddie must have picked up the tab for those "important people." Now, they don't know him. Had he asked anyone who has had dealings with 'important people," he would have been told that they always run away. When, in trouble, it is best to go to unimportant people..

FDA Monitors Fallout In the Market Basket

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most of what we hear and read about fallout might be included in Shakespeare's "tale told by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing." Hence, it is doubly refreshing to come across a common sense approach to the problem such as the measurements of the strontium-90 content of "market basket" samplings, as conducted by our Food and Drug Administration.

Briefly stated, the FDA purchases "market baskets" of foods from four large chain stores in the Washington, D. C. area. The foods chosen are those that might be bought by a mother in a moderate income bracket for her 19-year-old son.

A week's supply for the average 19-year-old, with a pit where his stomach ought to be, averages 60 pounds in weight. For purposes of testing, the basket contains those foods the lad would normally consume. And these foods are prepared by washing, trimming, separation of wastes, bone removal and cooking according to the most acceptable home practices.

When a week's supply is prepared for eating, it is analyzed for its content of strontium-90. Then the waste (bones, fat, coffee grounds, fruit and vegetable skins and fibers) is tested. And, by subtracting the content in waste from the content of the "market basket," the weekly amount of strontium-90 that would have been taken in by the 19-year-old, if he'd eaten his fill, is calculated.

You will be relieved to learn, I am sure, that the average intake of strontium-90 from the edible portions of the "market basket" diet samples are no more than 6 per cent of the intake considered acceptable by the Federal Radiation Council.

Recent atomic testing may alter this figure, however.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Not given general release with the "Declaration of Republican Principle and Policy" recently issued by a joint committee of 12 GOP senators and representatives was a series of 30 confidential "annotations." It was the first time a political platform ever came out with footnotes, which are usually pretty dull stuff.

IN THIS CASE, HOWEVER, the GOP committee's staff under National Committee Research Director William B. Prendergast took the trouble to document their statement of general principles with specific examples of what they were talking about, and citing Democratic sources for their charges. Footnotes were thus more interesting than main text.

There isn't space for all 30 citations here. So what follows, "in quotation marks" are the main statements of broad, general GOP policy, after which (in parentheses) comes the specific charges in the hitherto unpublished footnotes:

"They"—meaning the Democrats—"have argued that government must protect individuals from foolish spending by taking their money and spending it for them." (The writings of Economic Advisory Council Chairman Walter W. Heller, Ambassador Kenneth Galbraith, White House Aide Arthur Schlesinger Jr., and Harvard Economist Seymour Harris are cited as having advanced this argument.)

"Government should not compete, nor fix wages or prices, nor substitute its decision for free bargaining in the market place." (It is charged this was done by the Kennedy administration actions in the steel controversy.)

"We"—meaning the Republicans—"believe in meeting unemployment with real jobs from the released energy of private initiative." (The administration proposal for stand-by public works is said to violate this principle.)

"A thorough overhaul of the tax system...is overdue." (Administration tax proposals are said to have been partial and discriminatory.)

"Waste must be eliminated." (There has been 16 per cent increase in federal spending over the last Eisenhower budget.)

"Economic responsibility requires more than lip service to a balanced budget." ($8 billion federal debt increase last year, compared to $2.8 billion average annual debt increase under Eisenhower.)

"...A stable dollar... is not likely to result if control of the Federal Reserve System is placed under the White House." (President's proposal to reorganize Federal Reserve Board, appointing chairman for four-year term.)

"Republicans urge vigorous investigation of fraud at the polls and recommend corrective action." (Democratic opposition to giving Civil Rights Commission jurisdiction over vote frauds. This responsibility was left in Department of Justice.)

"Republicans reject attempts to run a legislative bulldozer through the structure of voluntary health insurance and private medicine." (King-Anderson bill would lead to abandonment of voluntary health insurance now held by nine million people over 65.)

"Every American youth should have the opportunity to receive an education....Selective federal assistance is needed." (Administration supports bill giving aid to all public schools for all school purposes.)

"The national government should be ready to co-operate with states and localities, not smother them with direction and control." (Administration plans for school aid, urban areas and medical care violate this principle.)

"We reject the administration's proposal which gives the farmer only a choice between regimentation and ruin."

This was one charge the staff did not annotate, but it is obvious the reference is to the Kennedy-Freeman farm program now before Congress.

Did Kennedy Encourage Illegal Price-Fixing Act?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy always has maintained that he acted in the "public interest" in the steel-price controversy. His brother, the Attorney General, has just given some interesting background on what happened. He says the Administration based its action on an "assumption" or "understanding" that the steel industry would absorb the added wage cost of $100 million without increasing prices.

Did the steel companies, however, have any such "understanding" with the government when prices were advanced or even when they were held down? Was there concerted action between the White House and any steel company to fix the price of steel at present levels? Did the Administration encourage any illegal act?

In an antitrust case in 1940, oil companies, which had been indicted for fixing the price of gasoline, argued that a governmental agency had encouraged, co-operated and acquiesced in their program. But the Supreme Court of the United States ruled:

"Under the Sherman Act a combination formed for the purpose and with the effect of raising, depressing, fixing, pegging, or stabilizing the price of a commodity in interstate or foreign commerce is illegal per se. . . .

"Though employes of the government may have known of those programs and winked at them or tacitly approved them, no immunity would have thereby been obtained. . . .

"For, as we have seen, price-fixing combinations which lack Congressional sanction are illegal per se."

The Verbatim Transcript

The Attorney General last Sunday spoke on the American Broadcasting Company's program called "Issues and Answers" and indicated he would have welcomed a concerted action to hold prices and that he believes there was, by implication, some kind of an "assumption" or "understanding" to that effect anyhow as between the steel companies and the President. Mr. Kennedy was interrogated by William H. Lawrence of ABC. Here is a verbatim transcript of what the Attorney General said:

"The President and the Administration were committed to attempting to stop the inflation in the United States and in that effort of course steel plays a major role. With the concurrence of steel executive, management, the President and Mr. Goldberg, Secretary of Labor, had many meetings with representatives in the steel union to attempt to prevail upon them to not make their demands excessive.

"It was understood in the meetings with the steel executives, Mr. Blough andl others, that this effort was to be made so that with the union's demands being reasonable that the price of steel would not have to be raised. It was with this understanding that the President and Arthur Goldberg went ahead and finally, I think through their efforts prevailed upon the union to keep their demands in extremely reasonable level which was recognized by all throughout the United States and a contract was signed on very reasonable terms and recognized as such, and then a short time later the steel companies, led by U. S. Steel, raised their prices.

"Thereafter realizing what the effect would be on the economy generally, what the effect would be on all of the other industries, if this remained, the President did what he could to exert (assert) the public interest and the various branches of the departments, various branches and departments of the executive branch of the government were brought into play. It think he had a responsibility to defend and protect the public interest.

Questions and Answers

Q. Did you say there was an understanding with Mr. Blough that steel prices would not be raised?

A. No.

Presbyterians Go Against Groups in Reactionary Class

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP)—The New York Synod of the United Presbyterian Church has gone on record against what it calls "reactionary groups."

Delegates to the synod's 105th annual meeting at Hamilton College endorsed Wednesday a study report that singled out as examples of such groups the John Birch Society and Black Muslims.

The Black Muslims, a Negro nationalist organization, have been described by state prison authorities as a hate group that advocates Negro supremacy.

Members contend it is a religious sect that seeks recognition by non-violent methods.

The synod's committee on social education and action said in its report that the Negro nationalist movements have gained support "as a result of present social and economic arrangements."

The committee, headed by the Rev. David Poling of Buffalo, said the church should resist such groups as the John Birch Society.

The reactionary organizations, the report said, try "to promote hatred of those nations under Communist control, even to the point of a nuclear holocaust."

They try to make "unsupported indictments of public officials and private citizens who disagree," the committee declared.

The three-day synod meeting ends today. About 400 lay and clerical delegates representing 900 churches in New York State and Puerto Rico attended.

Kingston received only a very small share of the $2,567,529,605 foreign assistance business in the last seven years, according to the U.S. Agency for International Development.

The total amount of business from foreign aid funds contracted with Kingston firms was $3,786.

Under the current AID program, about 80 per cent of the money used for grants and nearly 100 per cent by the funds for commodities financed through loans are spent in the United States.

Parcelmen Turn Down Tentative Contract Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking employes of the United Parcel Service have voted against accepting a tentative contract agreement reached by negotiators.

Three thousand drivers, helpers and sorters have been on strike since May 14. The strike has halted deliveries from many department and specialty stores to homes and business places in New York City, northern New Jersey, Long Island and Westchester County, N.Y.

The strikers—members of four locals of the Teamsters Union—voted on the proposed contract Wednesday a few hours after it was reached by negotiators at a session that lasted until almost dawn. A wage increase and other benefits were included in the agreement.

The vote announced was 1,195 opposed, to 1,011 in favor of acceptance.

The rejected agreement provided for a wage increase of 42½ cents an hour spread over a three-year contract, a job security clause and fringe benefits. Pre-strike hourly pay was $2.57½.

New Paltz B of E Cites Low Cost Of New Building

Members of New Paltz Central School District Board of Education on Wednesday said the estimated cost of the proposed 16-classroom elementary school has been set at $16.70 a square foot.

A $610,000 bond issue for the new building, which will contain basic facilities capable of expansion into a 20-classroom school, will be voted on July 2 in New Paltz Central School auditorium from 2 to 9 p. m.

Plans for the proposed school will be presented to district residents at the present school on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 26 and 27, by Board of Education members, teachers, and members of the school administration staff.

Presbyterians Go Against Groups in Reactionary Class

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP)—The New York Synod of the United Presbyterian Church has gone on record against what it calls "reactionary groups."

Delegates to the synod's 105th annual meeting at Hamilton College endorsed Wednesday a study report that singled out as examples of such groups the John Birch Society and Black Muslims.

The Black Muslims, a Negro nationalist organization, have been described by state prison authorities as a hate group that advocates Negro supremacy.

Members contend it is a religious sect that seeks recognition by non-violent methods.

The synod's committee on social education and action said in its report that the Negro nationalist movements have gained support "as a result of present social and economic arrangements."

The committee, headed by the Rev. David Poling of Buffalo, said the church should resist such groups as the John Birch Society.

The reactionary organizations, the report said, try "to promote hatred of those nations under Communist control, even to the point of a nuclear holocaust."

They try to make "unsupported indictments of public officials and private citizens who disagree," the committee declared.

The three-day synod meeting ends today. About 400 lay and clerical delegates representing 900 churches in New York State and Puerto Rico attended.

Can It Be a Virtue as Kennedy Thinks?

Plans Deficit Spending as Tool To Aid Economy, Make Jobs

EDITOR'S NOTE — Deficit financing — A sin or smart business? Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst in this, the third of four self contained ariticles on the federal budget, discusses the bitter division of opinion.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy seeks to make deficit financing a respectable term in a changing world. He has an uphill fight on his hands.

To most Americans a Treasury deficit is a bad thing—unavoidable in a war or other national emergency, but unfortunate under any circumstances.

JFK's Argument

The President's argument is that the United States is entering a new world where deficit financing can be a virtue. His aim is to use it as a tool in building the economy to assure full employment and full use of industrial capacity.

Treasury deficits aren't new. There have been 11 of them in the 17 years since World War II. And the 11 total some four times as much as do the six surpluses. That is why the federal debt has risen to a record 1300 billion. And a 12th deficit—virtuous or not—seems likely in the 1963 fiscal year starting July 1.

Americans have been brought up to compare the Treasury deficit to one in the family budget when unpaid bills pile up in escess of current income. When the creditors won't hold off any loger, the family borrows to pay the bills—or goes bankrupt.

The Treasury meets its deficit by borrowing to pay its bills and by asking Congress, year after year, to raise the legal limit of the permissible federal debt.

Economists See Difference

But economists see a difference in the Treasury's and a family's deficit and borrowing. In the United States the Treasury usually borrows by tapping the banking system for funds. This means expanding the supply of money and credit, as distinguished from borrowing through sales of U.S. savings bonds to individuals, which doesn't inflate the supply of money.

Orthodox economic doctrine is that expanding the supply of money and credit may trigger economic growth by making it easier for business to expand its acitities or plant, but that in the long run this inflation of the money supply leads to rising prices and wages.

Treasury surpluses, on the contrary, are held by orthodox economists to deflate the supply of money and credit, to put a brake on runaway booms, even to invite recessions—since the Treasury is taking more out of the economy in tax collections than it is putting back in by spending.

Challenges View

President Kennedy challenged this orthodox view in his speech at Yale. He points out that Treasury surpluses after the war—$745 million in the 1947 fiscal year, and $8.4 billion in 1948—didn't prevent a big spurt in the cost of living. Orthodox economists reply that these surpluses were chickenfeed compared to the huge inflation of the money supply during the war, the real culprit in the postwar rise in prices and wages.

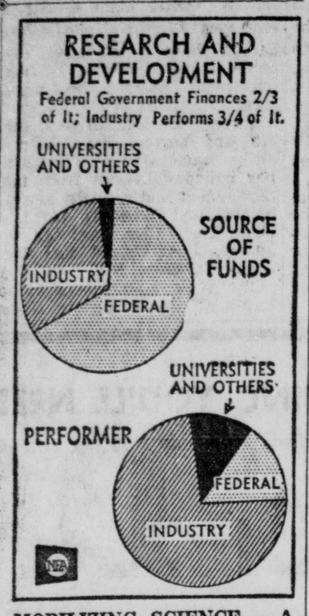
The President also points out that Treasury deficits in the last few years—a peacetime record of $12 billion in the 1959 fiscal year—left wholesale prices unscathed while retail prices rose very little.

Orthodox economists hold the real reason was that much industrial capacity was idle, and what was in operation faced fierce competition, holding prices down at the expense of contracting profit margins.

A few more Treasury deficits, the President says, could help the economy expand faster and in time mean higher tax collections, bringing the budget back into balance.

His opponents charge that such reasoning is just an excuse for more government spending.

Friday: Europe, using a different kind of book keeping, is growing faster than the United States.



MOBILIZING SCIENCE — A whopping $16.5 billion will be spent on scientific research and development this year—eight times the level of 1947. Since the Korean War, the federal government has accounted for over 70 per cent of this increase, although industries, nonprofit organizations and universities doubled their spending between 1953 and 1960. As chart shows, industry is the leading performer of research programs.

Beat the Heat With Tea 'N' Tarts

YOUR FRIENDS will forget about the warm weather when you serve refreshing iced tea with prune pineapple tart.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

On warm afternoons when friends gather, try this combination of iced tea with prune-pineapple tarts. Your friends will forget to talk about the weather.

Make the tea for iced tea extra strong to allow for melting ice. Use 50 per cent more tea than you would for hot tea. To prepare a big pitcherful, use this simple open saucepan method. It makes 2 quarts.

1. Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan.
2. Remove from the heat and immediately add ⅓ cup of loose tea or 15 tea bags.
3. Brew for 5 minutes.
4. Then stir and strain into a pitcher holding an additional quart of cold water.

Keep the tea at room temperature until you are ready to serve, then pour it over ice in tall glasses. Don't put the iced tea in the refrigerator.

Prune-Pineapple Tarts
(Makes 6 to 7 Tarts)

One and one half cups plumped, chopped prunes; ¾ cup (8¾-ounce can, drained) pineapple tidbits, ½ cup brown sugar, ¼ cup prune juice (from plumped prunes), ¼ cup pineapple syrup, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon cloves, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 6 or 7 3¾-inch individual baked tart shells.

Combine prunes, pineapple, sugar, prune juice, pineapple syrup, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Blend cornstarch in a little cold water; add. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Spoon into tart shells. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for 10 to 12 minutes, or until brown. Garnish with mandarin orange sections, if desired.

Labor Law Violation Hinted

Say Concord Hotel Gave Favors to Union Officer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating the American Guild of Variety Artists have been told a high union official accepted gifts from a hotel with which the union has labor agreements.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, and Jerome Adlerman, subcommittee counsel, said violations of federal labor laws punishable by prison terms might be involved.

'Thousands of Dollars'

Officials of the Concord Hotel at Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., in the Catskill Mountains, testified Wednesday that Jackie Bright, the union's administrative secretary and operating head, accepted thousands of dollars worth of free or bargain-rate board and room. The union has collective bargaining contracts with the Concord.

Bright, expected to testify Friday, sat silent as the testimony unfolded about vacation stays with his wife and children at the Concord.

Adlerman said he would produce evidence of more favors, but declined to say who got or gave them. It was learned a free vacation cruise would figure in the story.

The story about the fashionable Concord marked a sharp rise in the level of testimony. Prior testimony had dealt with honky tonk strip tease-exotic dance night clubs in the big towns, pictured by Daniel P. Sullivan of the Greater Miami Crime Comission as successors to and more vicious than the old-fashioned houses of vice.

David Patsiner, treasurer of the Concord, testified that it is a family type hotel and has no B-girl entertainers. He said the Concord abides faithfully by its contracts with the union.

Law Forbids Favors

Patsiner and other hotel officials corroborated testimony by two subcommittee investigators that Bright had accepted complimentary vacations at the hotel in 1959, 1960 and 1961. Adlerman told the subcommittee that the Taft-Hatley labor law forbids such favors, and the Landrum-Griffin Act makes it a felony for a union official to fail to disclose to the Labor Department the acceptance of anything of value from an employer who deals with the union.

Investigator Morris J. Emanuel, on loan from the Labor Department, said Bright never filed reports to the agency about the vacations. Emanuel contended he had told the labor official about this requirement in 1960, and that Bright claimed then to have paid his bills.

The subcommittee produced documents from the hotel's files which showed, Emanuel said, that Bright never did pay for $6,039.05 of his room and board bills at the Concord covering the three years at issue, and owed it more than $10,000 until April.

He said Bright had paid $1,718.46 on Sept. 6, 1960, after Emanuel talked to him about the bills; $4,079.26 last April 12, after the subcommittee started looking at the hotel charges, plus $1,226.20 in 1959, 1960 and 1961.

Bumper Crop

Words Plentiful In Farm Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The farm bill being debated in the House may or may not reduce surplus farm crops, but one thing is certain: It is producing a bumper crop of words.

All the basic oratorial cliches are blooming in rich profusion, and even such exotic offshoots as poetry, cheers and boos are thriving in the hot and heavy climate.

Farm economics is as impenetrable a subject as it is possible to find for debate, but its intricacies offer no obstacle to the leather-lunged House orators.

Who needs to explain parity when there is Billie Sol Estes and his grain storage dealings to talk about? Why mention acreage allotments when you can discuss former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson? If marketing quotas are hard to understand, straitjackets aren't.

"The only recourse for those of you who don't want to put the farmer into a straitjacket is to vote against the bill," said Rep. Charles B. Hoeven, R-Iowa, delivering a typical thrust of the Republican opponents to the bill.

"How many of you consider compulsory education as placing the children of the nation in a straitjacket?" asked Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., executing a typical riposte of the Democrats favoring the bill. "Are we going to repeal compulsory education because it puts them in a straitjacket?"

Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., said the Rural Electrification Administration is expanding its operations so that it may soon be financing "the spotlights and other lighting devices used to illuminate the talents of exotic dancers" in night clubs.

The poetic muse visited each party. Rep. D. R. (Billy) Matthews, D-Fla., dashed off a ditty poking fun at the straitjacket argument of the opponents. Rep. Don L. Short, R-N.D., a farmer himself, delivered a rhymed reply ending:

"So now, Billy says, 'your argument sounds silly,'

"But it's me that would be put in the jacket, not Billie."

Postpone Estes Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)— A House subcommittee investigating the Billie Sol Estes case has postponed until next week a hearing which had been scheduled for today.

The reason for the postponement, announced Wednesday, was that the House was to meet today an hour earlier than usual, and committee meetings cannot be held while the House is in session.

Rusk in Berlin For Wall Visit, Chat With Willy

BERLIN (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived in Berlin today to look at the Red wall and confer with Mayor Willy Brandt in a 2½-hour visit.

He arrived from Paris in a U.S. Air Force Constellation, crossing Communist East Germany through the south corridor.

Rusk left Paris after talks with French President Charles de Gaulle and other French officials which reportedly convinced him that De Gaulle will put France's future nuclear striking force at the disposal of the Western alliance's defense plans.

Goes to Bonn Later

From Berlin, Rusk will fly to Bonn for talks with West German leaders. A government spokesman said that in preparatory talks Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Cabinet had attained complete unity on all questions relating to the political unification of Europe.

Rusk's visit to Berlin comes at a time when tensions are high as a result of incidents along the wall. Hardly a night has gone by without a shooting at or near the wall or around the b raebdwier borders separating East Germany and West Berlin.

The Brandenburg Gate, symbol of unity for the Germans and now walled in by the Communists, was the scene of a shooting early today.

Search Indicated

West Berlin police said East police fired 30 to 40 shots near the famed gate. Two flares went up behind the wall. West police said they believed the East guards were searching for a refugee.

In East Berlin, a funeral was held this morning for a 20-year-old guard shot Monday during the escape of four East Berliners through a tunnel to West Berlin.

East Germany threatened that "dangerous consequences" would follow future Western "aggressive attacks" on the Red wall.

The East German statement accused West German leaders of inciting "criminal provocations, armed attacks, arson, explosions, shootings and common murder" along the border. It said the Western Allies shared responsibility because of their occupation role in Berlin.

Rusk held a third and final meeting with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville today before his flight to Berlin. Rusk, who is making a tour of West European capitals in an effort to clarify major problems within the alliance, appeared confident that some measure of progress had been made with France on the question of that nation's independent nuclear force.

Rusk was reported to feel that when France's nuclear striking force becomes an effective instrument within the next several years, it will be coordinated into Western defense efforts.

De Gaulle, however, withheld any direct commitment, saying the question would be dealt with when France's nuclear force comes fully into being.

Would Separate Po'keepsie Travel

A Poughkeepsie planning official has proposed an inner loop-outer loop roadway and an east-west surface highway as a means of easing the pressing traffic problem in the city's central business area .

Leon R. Bloom, chairman of the Poughkeepsie Planning Board, told Chamber of Commerce Contact Club members at a breakfast yesterday attended by 160 local business leaders, that Poughkeepsie should have a new roadway traffic plan to separate traffic going to the central business district from other traffic.

If the pods of those snap beans bulge, the beans are probably too old to be of good texture and flavor.

Rusk in Berlin For Wall Visit, Chat With Willy

BERLIN (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived in Berlin today to look at the Red wall and confer with Mayor Willy Brandt in a 2½-hour visit.

He arrived from Paris in a U.S. Air Force Constellation, crossing Communist East Germany through the south corridor.

Rusk left Paris after talks with French President Charles de Gaulle and other French officials which reportedly convinced him that De Gaulle will put France's future nuclear striking force at the disposal of the Western alliance's defense plans.

Goes to Bonn Later

From Berlin, Rusk will fly to Bonn for talks with West German leaders. A government spokesman said that in preparatory talks Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Cabinet had attained complete unity on all questions relating to the political unification of Europe.

Rusk's visit to Berlin comes at a time when tensions are high as a result of incidents along the wall. Hardly a night has gone by without a shooting at or near the wall or around the b raebdwier borders separating East Germany and West Berlin.

The Brandenburg Gate, symbol of unity for the Germans and now walled in by the Communists, was the scene of a shooting early today.

Search Indicated

West Berlin police said East police fired 30 to 40 shots near the famed gate. Two flares went up behind the wall. West police said they believed the East guards were searching for a refugee.

In East Berlin, a funeral was held this morning for a 20-year-old guard shot Monday during the escape of four East Berliners through a tunnel to West Berlin.

East Germany threatened that "dangerous consequences" would follow future Western "aggressive attacks" on the Red wall.

The East German statement accused West German leaders of inciting "criminal provocations, armed attacks, arson, explosions, shootings and common murder" along the border. It said the Western Allies shared responsibility because of their occupation role in Berlin.

Rusk held a third and final meeting with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville today before his flight to Berlin. Rusk, who is making a tour of West European capitals in an effort to clarify major problems within the alliance, appeared confident that some measure of progress had been made with France on the question of that nation's independent nuclear force.

Rusk was reported to feel that when France's nuclear striking force becomes an effective instrument within the next several years, it will be coordinated into Western defense efforts.

De Gaulle, however, withheld any direct commitment, saying the question would be dealt with when France's nuclear force comes fully into being.

One Glaring Omission

Rocky's Record Lists Nothing on Shelters

By MICHAEL KEATING

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's plan for re-election contains one glaring omissionI all mention of his various efforts in establishing a fallout-shelter program in New York State.

A 37-page document, "The Rockefeller Republican Record," issued at the Republican dinner in New York City last week, lists the major programs the governor has achieved and many of the minor ones. But the only mention of fallout is that the governor established a statewide monitoring network to record levels of radioactivity in the air.

Strictly Quiet

The record lists nothing connected with the $100-million program for fallout shelters in schools and colleges that was approved in a special session of the Legislature last year.

Nor is anything said of the governor's unsuccessful efforts to have the Legislature enact a program that would have required New Yorkers to build shelters in their homes.

The omission is glaring because, at one point in his four-year career as governor, Rockefeller was building himself into the leading national spokesman for shelter-construction. He is head of the civil defense committee of the Governors Conference, a national body.

In his message to the Legislature last January, Rockefeller cited as one of his accomplishments, "leadership among the states. . .in protection against the dangers of nuclear attack.

Why has this once-dominant Rockefeller concern been set aside?

No explanation came immediately from official quarters.

Some reasons offer themselves, however:

Never Caught On

The program never caught on with the public or the politicians. On the contrary, it drew strenuous opposition from those who contended that shelter - building was a step toward war.

Few schools or colleges have availed themselves of the state financial assistance in building shelters.

Members of the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy (SANE) sponsored a mass march on the Capitol during this year's legislative session to protest the plan.

The shelter program resulted in a series of charges and counter-charges involving legislative ethics, and the issue dominated the headlines for much of he recent legislative session. A Democrat accused Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino of a conflict of interest in the shelter legislation.

The Assembly cleared Carlino of the charge, but it was generally conceded that Carlino had been damaged and that the Republicans and the shelter program had been tarnished. It was a most distasteful episode for the GOP and Rockefeller.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's plan for re-election contains one glaring omissionI all mention of his various efforts in establishing a fallout-shelter program in New York State.

A 37-page document, "The Rockefeller Republican Record," issued at the Republican dinner in New York City last week, lists the major programs the governor has achieved and many of the minor ones. But the only mention of fallout is that the governor established a statewide monitoring network to record levels of radioactivity in the air.

Strictly Quiet

The record lists nothing connected with the $100-million program for fallout shelters in schools and colleges that was approved in a special session of the Legislature last year.

Nor is anything said of the governor's unsuccessful efforts to have the Legislature enact a program that would have required New Yorkers to build shelters in their homes.

The omission is glaring because, at one point in his four-year career as governor, Rockefeller was building himself into the leading national spokesman for shelter-construction. He is head of the civil defense committee of the Governors Conference, a national body.

In his message to the Legislature last January, Rockefeller cited as one of his accomplishments, "leadership among the states. . .in protection against the dangers of nuclear attack.

Why has this once-dominant Rockefeller concern been set aside?

No explanation came immediately from official quarters.

Some reasons offer themselves, however:

Never Caught On

The program never caught on with the public or the politicians. On the contrary, it drew strenuous opposition from those who contended that shelter - building was a step toward war.

Few schools or colleges have availed themselves of the state financial assistance in building shelters.

Members of the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy (SANE) sponsored a mass march on the Capitol during this year's legislative session to protest the plan.

The shelter program resulted in a series of charges and countercharges involving legislative ethics, and the issue dominated the headlines for much of he recent legislative session. A Democrat accused Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino of a conflict of interest in the shelter legislation.

The Assembly cleared Carlino of the charge, but it was generally conceded that Carlino had been damaged and that the Republicans and the shelter program had been tarnished. It was a most distasteful episode for the GOP and Rockefeller.

Troubles Continue To Plague Actress

MOSCOW (AP) — Film actress Shirley Mac Laine today ran into another hitch in her tour of the Communist world—no Czech visa.

She had planned to leave this morning for a film festival at Karlsbad, Czechoslovakia. But no visa was immediately forthcoming and she cooled her heels in her Moscow hotel room.

"We are still hoping we may get the visas later today," said Miss Mac Laine's secretary, Loretta Lee. "Actually, it doesn't make much difference. We are on a vacation and don't have to be back at work until Sept. 1."

The delay gave Miss Mac Laine a chance to rest up after a hectic visit to Leningrad. Her troubles there began when she became so engrossed in a party with some Soviet students that she passed up the midnight train to Moscow.

Not informed of the change in travel plans, her hotel put her bags in the lobby and gave away her room. She finished out the night in the lobby. In the meantime someone stole a bag containing her plane tickets, films and travel notes. The police are still looking for the bag, the actress said.

Soviet officials tried to hush up the incident on her return to Moscow Wednesday, but Miss Mac Laine would not be hushed.

"The way I feel now I'd like to come back and dance the can-can naked in Red Square every May Day," she said.

Premier Khrushchev on his U.S. tour in 1959 watched Miss Mac Laine dance the can-can on a Hollywood movie set and called it degenerate and shocking.

Phone Workers

there would be no interruption of telephone service, but it may delay some installation and repair work. J. J. Kohut, company manager here, said no interruption of telephone service was expected, but installations would be delayed. Those of emergency nature, he said would be "taken care of."

The walkout in the metropolitan area stems from objection to the suspension of union leaders, who, it was reported, had called a meeting last Friday during working hours to protest what the union called unsafe working conditions.

50 Pickets Out Here

Van Etten said today that before the action at Kerhonkson Wednesday night some 75 to 80 per cent of the area employes affected were involved in the walkout.

Some 50 pickets were walking on the Broadway and West O'Reilly Street sides of the local biulding at about 8 a. m. today. They began dwindling down to smaller shifts by 9 a. m. Several began walking early Wednesday afternoon despite the belief by local management that a downstate work stoppage involving some 8,000 workers, would not affect employes here. Local police headquarters was notified of picketing at 1:29 p. m. Wednesday.

The Associated Press reported that the walkout has not been authorized by the union's national headquarters, and listed as among upstate communities involved, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Lockport, Batavia.

Another source reported Albany, Syracuse and Schnectady not involved, but said Troy was.

Up to 23,000 Involved

The AP reported the company's estimate of those involved in the walkout at between 15,000 and 23,000 installers on Wednesday. The union put the figure at more than 20,000 including some 14,000 in the metropolitan area.

A six-hour meeting ending early today between management and union representatives, the AP said, failed to resolve the dispute. Further talks were scheduled today, and a union membership meeting was also scheduled.

Wednesday's statement for the company held that any grievance can be settled through "grievance and collective bargaining procedure," and that "even the two-day suspension of the nine members of Local 1109, Brooklyn . . . could ultimately be subject to arbitration before impartial reference."

The company is "willing and has repeatedly offered" to discuss the grievances," the statement said, and four times in the day and a half before the walkout, had offered to meet with the Brooklyn local. The union, it claims, "ignored these proposals."

Prior to the Friday work stoppage, the statement said, the local's president had agreed to discuss the holding of a meeting following the CWA national convention "to review equalization of overtime, and the matter of transfer." These, it was noted, were two of the items in the local's strike bulletin.

In spite of these plans, management claims, "the local called a work stoppage while its president was attending a CWA convention."

The several men who picketed the local building Wednesday carried signs noting that the walkout was one of protest. Those who began walking there this morning carried no signs.

Strike Is Averted

said the pact assures his organization "greater assurance in their jobs as flight engineers than they have ever had" under any contract.

Vice President David Crombie of TWA, who initialed for the company, said the airline is "gratified at the successful conclusion of these most difficult negotiations" and paid tribute to the help of Goldberg, Undersecretary Willard Wirtz and Feinsinger.

President Kennedy expressed great pleasure at what he termed "a statesmanlike agreement."

In a statement released by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, Kennedy said company officers, union officials and government mediators who took part in marathon sessions leading to the settlement "are deserving of praise."

A strike, poised for more than a week, was held off only moment to moment as the negotiators went over terms of a settlement proposal offered Tuesday—just as the 2 p.m. strike deadline arrived—by Goldberg.

May Extend to Others

The government hoped the proposal—a carefully worked out plan aimed at solving the long and tangled airlines labor wrangle—would also extend to two other airlines involved in the dispute, Pan American World Airways and Eastern Airlines.

But a split within the 3,000-member AFL-CIO Flight Engineers International Association threatened to throw a monkey wrench into these plans.

The union suddenly withdrew its offer to arbitrate outstanding economic issues with Pan Am and Eastern.

While economic conditions are a part of the dispute, the key issue involves reduction of jet cockpit crews from four men to three. Both the engineers' union and the Airline Pilots Association have claimed jurisdiction over the third-man's job in the reconstituted crews.

Some vegetable growers use plastic sheets to help warm the soil, conserve moisture and control weeds.

Mother Serving Time

A 19-year-old Poughkeepsie mother of two children, was in the Dutchess County jail today, under a 60-day sentence imposed by City Judge Milton Haven. Mrs. Maxine Williams, of 24 North Perry Street, that city, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of third degree assault. She was accused of knifing William Slater, 26, at 39 North Perry Street, May 25.

Callan Endorsed By Columbia GOP For Assembly Job

Columbia County Republican Committee members Wednesday night unanimously endorsed Albert S. Callan Jr., of Old Chaham as the party candidate for Assemblyman in November.

Withdrawal of Assemblyman Willard S. Drumm, Niverville, from consideration at last night's session, avoided an anticipated floor fight for the endorsement. Drumm announced his candidacy yesterday and said he will enter the primary contest in September.

Charges Collusion

Supporters of Callan said the withdrawal of Drumm was evidence that his supporters could not hope to cope with the tremendous support built up by Callan in recent weeks.

Drumm said he was convinced that last night's meeting was not an open and free expression of the wishes of the workers and voters in the party. He was quoted as saying," the collusion of a few would-be bosses in Columbia County has so rigged the meeting that to allow my name to go before the committee would be a disservice to anything that our great Republican party stands for."

Addressing the committeemen last night, Drumm said he wanted to quell rumors that he did not give adequate financial support to the party while in office and that he had made an agreement in 1960 that he would not run for the Assembly in 1962.

Contributed $6,800

Drumm said he had contributed $6,800, which he said was eight per cent of his earnings, to support the party, and in most instances had made the donations by check.

The GOP committee also gave unanimous endorsement to incumbents Sheriff Dewey A. Lawrence and Coroner Robert H. Near.

Cement Plant Fire DamagesBuilding With Transformer

A fire resulting of a reported explosion in a one-story concrete block building damaged roof timbers and sheathing and two firemen were injured slightly in fighting the blaze at the Hudson Cement plant, Steep Rocks, Wednesday afternoon.

A short in a circuit breaker in the structure which houses a transformer was reported as the cause of the fire. The circuit carries 66,000 volts firemen said.

Capt. Harry Sills, of Cornell Station, reported a burn on the right hand due to roof tar and Fireman Russell Kahrs, of the same station, suffered an injury of the right arm below the elbow. Both continued on duty and were treated later.

Units from Central and Cornell stations, Union and Cordts companies answered a call at 5:32 p. m. A 1½-inch stream, booster line and chemicals were used to check the blaze.

The circuit breaker was reported badly damaged.

Grange to Check Centralization of 7 Girl Scouters

CAZENOVIA, N.Y. (AP)—Proposed centralization of seven Upstate Girl Scout councils "sounds like an effort to take away individual rule," the master of the New York State Grange said today.

Russell Curtis said in a statement that the Grange, which sponsors some of the affected scout troops, would investigate the reported plan for a centralization spanning nine counties.

A Grange Girl Scout leader said the plan called for seven councils to pool property, equipment and funds in Schoharie, Schenectady, Fulton, Montgomery, Warren and Washington counties and parts of Essex, Hamilton and Saratoga counties, by December, 1963. Control would be vested in one council board, she said.

Thruway to Restrict Niagara Area Travel

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Thruway Authority announced today that traffic on the Niagara section would be restricted periodically during a six-week period beginning Monday.

The restrictions are to allow a contractor to complete construction of the Scajaquada Creek Expressway Interchange and repairs to Thruway property damaged during the interchange construction.

Thruway traffic will be maintained but will be reduced to a single lane or two lanes at times. North-bound traffic can avoid the construction area by leaving at the Porter Avenue-Peace Bridge exit and south-bound traffic, by the Kenmore Avenue exit, the authority said.

Says Lead, Zinc Stockpile Hiked Under Flemming

WASHINGTON (AP) — William N. Lawrence, a stockpile official has told Senate investigators that purchase goals for lead and zinc were manipulated upward for several years under directives from Arthur S. Flemming, a native of Kingston, N.Y.

But Lawrence backed away Wednesday from the repeated charge by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., that Flemming, former Eisenhower administration official who now is president of the University of Oregon, "broke the law."

Not Reached for Comment

Flemming was not reached for comment.

Symington, chairman of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating federal stockpiling operations, noted that the taxpayers now have more than $650 million invested in inventories of more than one million tons each of lead and zinc.

Big Loss, He Says

"They already have lost over $200 million in value," Symington said.

Lawrence testified that he and other stockpile staff officials protested to Flemming, then director of defense mobilization, that the government needed no more zinc nor lead to meet estimated defense needs.

He quoted Flemming as saying higher goals were needed in order to continue stockpile purchases in 1954-57 of both zinc and lead.

"Was not this improper?" Symington asked.

Cambodia Area Border Incidents Increase Tension

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Tension between South Viet Nam and Cambodia increased with new charges of border violations from both sides and a formal complaint by Cambodia to the three-nation control commission.

The Saigon paper Thu Do claimed that 100 Cambodian soldiers attacked the Vietnamese border town of An Lac 100 miles west of here Monday and clashed with Vietnamese forces. The account claimed eight of the Cambodians were killed and arms were seized before the attackers were beaten off.

In a cautiously worded communique tonight, South Viet Nam said the attack was carried out by "about 100 unidentified men in battlefield dress and equipped with many types of weapons" and the fight lasted more than six hours. South Viet Nam listed its losses as one dead and two wounded.

In another incident, it was learned here today that Cambodia has complained to the commission of four border violations by South Viet Nam.

To reduce the danger of border incidents, U.S. forces in South Viet Nam have been ordered to discontinue all helicopter troop-carrying missions within three miles of the frontier.

No solution was in sight for a border dispute between Cambodia and another of its neighbors, Thailand.

Reds Make Hay Out of Second Pacific Fizzle

HONOLULU (AP)—U.S. scientists at Johnston Island were pictured officially as taking in stride the second failure in two tries to explode a nuclear device at high altitude.

Privately, however, sources said the science and military team responsible for America's Pacific nuclear test series was embarrassed by flopping twice while the world looked on. The Soviet Union jumped at the opportunity to make propaganda hay.

Fell Into Safe Areas

The second test late Tuesday night involved the biggest shot this spring—officially classified as more than one million tons of TNT but probably 10 times that size. The Thor missile carrying the warhead to a firing altitude of 200 miles went awry and the missile and nuclear device had to be destroyed.

There was no nuclear detonation. Some of the debris fell on Johnston and a nearby "Sand" island, the remainder in the open sea "well within the safety area."

The two Johnston attempts have been the onl/ pre-announced public tests of the series to date. Firing times have been issued and countdowns have been carried on open radio frequencies. Delays and postponements, as happened both times, have been relayed fairly promptly.

Had the shots been successful, the flashes and, in the case of the second one, the fireball would have been visible 750 miles away in Hawaii.

Joint Task Force 8 said the failures would not change plans to announce future Johnston tests in advance.

Twenty-one successful lower level detonations have been announced at Christmas Island, far to the southeast of Johnston. Most of these tests involved devices dropped from airplanes.

Thor Gets Full Blame

The blame for the Johnston Island failures was placed solidly on the Thor missiles. The tracking system malfunctioned on the first try, June 4. The trouble Tuesday night wasn't disclosed, but officials said it was in the missile.

Officials indicated it might take 10 days to two weeks to prepare the single Thor launching pad at Johnston Island for another shot.

Radio Moscow was quick to comment on the second blowup at Johnston. The Soviet broadcast spoke of imperfections in U.S. rockets and suggested a runaway missile could endanger mankind inhabited territory.

by carring a nuclear device over

For the record, the U.S. government denied all and said a malfunctioning rocket can be destroyed by radio seconds after it leaves the launching pad.

Conservatives Say GOP Chiefs Panic

NEW YORK (AP)—The newly formed Conservative party says its organizational success has caused panic among Republican leaders and led to the GOP criticism of the Conservative party last Thursday.

A statement issued by the Conservatives Wednesday night said the GOP action "obviously reflects the reports of our progress which are pouring into Rockefeller's headquarters."

The Conservative party has announced plans to run Conservative Republican candidates against Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob K. Javits in the general election next November.

Rockefeller was among GOP leaders who last Thursday endorsed a declaration that Republicans should refuse to join splinter parties.

The executive committee of the Republican State Committee said in a resolution that "no Republican can be a member of a splinter party and, at the same time, be a Republican." The resolution was aimed at the Conservative party, but did not mention it by name.

The right-wing party's statement Wednesday night said Rockefeller, Javits, Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse and others "have made the Republican party on the state level virtually indistinguishable from the Democratic party."

They have done this, the statement said, by "taking advantage of the absence of a primary in this state and of their machine control of the state convention."

Survey Land-Use In Traffic Study Of Dutchess Area

A State Department of Public Works assistant engineer made known Wednesday that preliminary work is underway on a land-use survey as the third stage of a comprehensive traffic survey by the DPW in the City and Town of Poughkeepsie and Village of Wappingers Falls.

Leslie Kerr, an assistant engineer in the Bureau of Highway Planning and Programming in the Albany office of the DPW, specific use of each parcel of land in the area under survey is being noted by use of maps.

The third phase of the traffic study will take place in the fall.

The previous two stages of the study made a check of workers at area industrial plants and an origin-destination survey of drivers. Figures noted from those studies are under review at Albany. They will later be combined with information gathered from the land use and home interview surveys.

Results of the surveys will aid the DPW in planning future road-building programs.

Kerr said information derived in the land-use survey is punched into IBM cards and will be fed into an IBM machine in Albany to provide the DPW with statistics denoting traffic patterns now and what can be anticipated in the future.

Kerr stated that William Curlette and Joseph Eraca have started a portion of the study in midtown Poughkeepsie. Curlette is a student engineer in the Albany office, and Eraca an engineering aide at the DPW office in Poughkeepsie.

Four other workers will join the survey group next week.

Laos Coalition Still Up in Air

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—One of the chief aides of Prince Souphanouvong, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao leader, arrived today to help remove roadblocks barring installation of a coalition government.

Phoumi Vongvichit, who has been designated information minister in the projected government, flew from the rebel-held Plaine des Jarres.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist premier-designate, told newsmen the right-wing faction of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan still maintains a royal decree creating the coalition should contain a clause saying the coalition agreement was approved by the National Assembly.

The neutralists and pro-Communists object to recognition of the legality of the National Assembly, a right-wing body.

Souvanna indicated, however, that the dispute primarily was between the right-wingers and pro-Communists.

The negotiators are facing a deadline Friday. The coalition agreement signed at the Plaine des Jarres provided that the first Cabinet meeting should be held within 10 days. Asked if the agreement would become void if the Cabinet is unable to meet Friday, Souvanna said, "The agreement will still be valid, but this will prove that bad faith exists somewhere."

Faces Charges In Clubbing of 15-Year-Old Boy

Charges with clubbing a 15-year-old boy with a baseball bat in a wooded area, May 20, Robert Joseph Craddock, 40, of 92½ Academy Street, Poughkeepsie, appeared Wednesday in Dutchess County court to face second degree assault charges.

Craddock was accused in a two-count indictment of assaulting Donald S. Signor of 60 Carroll Street, Poughkeepsie, in the woods off South Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, and later tying him to a bush for hours before taking him to a physician.

The boy was hospitalized several days, suffering multiple head and other injuries.

Acting County Judge W. Vincent Grady entered a plea of innocent after denying a defense request to parole Craddock in his own custody pending trial. "I am a victim of circumstances," Craddock told the judge.

Craddock was remanded to the Dutchess County Jail. The case was adjourned until Tuesday.

Welfare costs in the City of Poughkeepsie in 1961 totaled $1,264,159.70, or $210,085.70 more than $1,054,074 budgeted for the police and fire departments for the year.

City Welfare Commissioner John W. Sweeney noted that of the total costs for welfare last year, the city received $770,868.56 in state and federal aid. City residents paid $493,291.14 of the total.

35 Cents, Jobless

Helps to Ease Plight of 11 Sleeping in Car

FLORHAM PARK, N.J. (AP)—Two families with seven children and assets they said totaled 35 cents were found by police today sleeping in a car parked in a side road.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Erving Hewitt, all of Glens Falls, N.Y., told officers they had driven south when the two men, both house painters, could not find work in the Upstate New York community.

Police discovered the group in Elm Street. The children, ranging in age from 1 to 4, were huddled in the back seat of the car, a 1950 model.

Officers rounded up milk and rolls for the families and found them shelter at a home here.

Faces Second Trial

A 19-year-old Dutchess County youth will stand trial a second time in July, on charges of second degree grand larceny. He is William James Carlton, of 77 Beekman Street, Beacon, who is accused of the theft of $172.60 from a truck from in front of Fernbrook Farms, Jan. 28. At 11:40 p. m. Tuesday, Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz dismissed a trial jury after the jurors reported they were hopelessly deadlocked after deliberating 11 hours. The youth formerly was employed by Carl Swenson, operator of the dairy farm, Town of Wappinger.

Thefts Reported

Local police were asked Wednesday to investigate theft of articles valued at $350 to $400 from the home of Walter Donnaruma, 143 Franklin Street. They included a camera, transit and compass, steel measuring tapes, and an undetermined number of hand tools, and were taken during the past two weeks, the report said.

Troubles Continue To Plague Actress

MOSCOW (AP) — Film actress Shirley Mac Laine today ran into another hitch in her tour of the Communist world—no Czech visa.

She had planned to leave this morning for a film festival at Karlsbad, Czechoslovakia. But no visa was immediately forthcoming and she cooled her heels in her Moscow hotel room.

"We are still hoping we may get the visas later today," said Miss Mac Laine's secretary, Loretta Lee. "Actually, it doesn't make much difference. We are on a vacation and don't have to be back at work until Sept. 1."

The delay gave Miss Mac Laine a chance to rest up after a hectic visit to Leningrad. Her troubles there began when she became so engrossed in a party with some Soviet students that she passed up the midnight train to Moscow.

Not informed of the change in travel plans, her hotel put her bags in the lobby and gave away her room. She finished out the night in the lobby. In the meantime someone stole a bag containing her plane tickets, films and travel notes. The police are still looking for the bag, the actress said.

Soviet officials tried to hush up the incident on her return to Moscow Wednesday, but Miss Mac Laine would not be hushed.

"The way I feel now I'd like to come back and dance the can-can naked in Red Square every May Day," she said.

Premier Khrushchev on his U.S. tour in 1959 watched Miss Mac Laine dance the can-can on a Hollywood movie set and called it degenerate and shocking.

Phone Workers

there would be no interruption of telephone service, but it may delay some installation and repair work. J. J. Kohut, company manager here, said no interruption of telephone service was expected, but installations would be delayed. Those of emergency nature, he said would be "taken care of."

The walkout in the metropolitan area stems from objection to the suspension of union leaders, who, it was reported, had called a meeting last Friday during working hours to protest what the union called unsafe working conditions.

50 Pickets Out Here

Van Etten said today that before the action at Kerhonkson Wednesday night some 75 to 80 per cent of the area employes affected were involved in the walkout.

Some 50 pickets were walking on the Broadway and West O'Reilly Street sides of the local biulding at about 8 a. m. today. They began dwindling down to smaller shifts by 9 a. m. Several began walking early Wednesday afternoon despite the belief by local management that a downstate work stoppage involving some 8,000 workers, would not affect employes here. Local police headquarters was notified of picketing at 1:29 p. m. Wednesday.

The Associated Press reported that the walkout has not been authorized by the union's national headquarters, and listed as among upstate communities involved, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Lockport, Batavia.

Another source reported Albany, Syracuse and Schnectady not involved, but said Troy was.

Up to 23,000 Involved

The AP reported the company's estimate of those involved in the walkout at between 15,000 and 23,000 installers on Wednesday. The union put the figure at more than 20,000 including some 14,000 in the metropolitan area.

A six-hour meeting ending early today between management and union representatives, the AP said, failed to resolve the dispute. Further talks were scheduled today, and a union membership meeting was also scheduled.

Wednesday's statement for the company held that any grievance can be settled through "grievance and collective bargaining procedure," and that "even the two-day suspension of the nine members of Local 1109, Brooklyn . . . could ultimately be subject to arbitration before impartial reference."

The company is "willing and has repeatedly offered" to discuss the grievances," the statement said, and four times in the day and a half before the walkout, had offered to meet with the Brooklyn local. The union, it claims, "ignored these proposals."

Prior to the Friday work stoppage, the statement said, the local's president had agreed to discuss the holding of a meeting following the CWA national convention "to review equalization of overtime, and the matter of transfer." These, it was noted, were two of the items in the local's strike bulletin.

In spite of these plans, management claims, "the local called a work stoppage while its president was attending a CWA convention."

The several men who picketed the local building Wednesday carried signs noting that the walkout was one of protest. Those who began walking there this morning carried no signs.

Strike Is Averted

said the pact assures his organization "greater assurance in their jobs as flight engineers than they have ever had" under any contract.

Vice President David Crombie of TWA, who initialed for the company, said the airline is "gratified at the successful conclusion of these most difficult negotiations" and paid tribute to the help of Goldberg, Undersecretary Willard Wirtz and Feinsinger.

In a statement released by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, Kennedy said company officers, union officials and government mediators who took part in marathon sessions leading to the settlement "are deserving of praise."

A strike, poised for more than a week, was held off only moment to moment as the negotiators went over terms of a settlement proposal offered Tuesday—just as the 2 p.m. strike deadline arrived—by Goldberg.

May Extend to Others

The government hoped the proposal—a carefully worked out plan aimed at solving the long and tangled airlines labor wrangle—would also extend to two other airlines involved in the dispute, Pan American World Airways and Eastern Airlines.

But a split within the 3,000-member AFL-CIO Flight Engineers International Association threatened to throw a monkey wrench into these plans.

The union suddenly withdrew its offer to arbitrate outstanding economic issues with Pan Am and Eastern.

While economic conditions are a part of the dispute, the key issue involves reduction of jet cockpit crews from four men to three. Both the engineers' union and the Airline Pilots Association have claimed jurisdiction over the third-man's job in the reconstituted crews.

She was accused of knifing William Slater, 26, at 39 North Perry Street, May 25.

Callan Endorsed By Columbia GOP For Assembly Job

Columbia County Republican Committee members Wednesday night unanimously endorsed Albert S. Callan Jr., of Old Chaham as the party candidate for Assemblyman in November.

Withdrawal of Assemblyman Willard S. Drumm, Niverville, from consideration at last night's session, avoided an anticipated floor fight for the endorsement. Drumm announced his candidacy yesterday and said he will enter the primary contest in September.

Charges Collusion

Supporters of Callan said the withdrawal of Drumm was evidence that his supporters could not hope to cope with the tremendous support built up by Callan in recent weeks.

Drumm said he was convinced that last night's meeting was not an open and free expression of the wishes of the workers and voters in the party. He was quoted as saying," the collusion of a few would-be bosses in Columbia County has so rigged the meeting that to allow my name to go before the committee would be a disservice to anything that our great Republican party stands for."

Addressing the committeemen last night, Drumm said he wanted to quell rumors that he did not give adequate financial support to the party while in office and that he had made an agreement in 1960 that he would not run for the Assembly in 1962.

Contributed $6,800

Drumm said he had contributed $6,800, which he said was eight per cent of his earnings, to support the party, and in most instances had made the donations by check.

The GOP committee also gave unanimous endorsement to incumbents Sheriff Dewey A. Lawrence and Coroner Robert H. Near.

Cement Plant Fire DamagesBuilding With Transformer

A fire resulting of a reported explosion in a one-story concrete block building damaged roof timbers and sheathing and two firemen were injured slightly in fighting the blaze at the Hudson Cement plant, Steep Rocks, Wednesday afternoon.

A short in a circuit breaker in the structure which houses a transformer was reported as the cause of the fire. The circuit carries 66,000 volts firemen said.

Capt. Harry Sills, of Cornell Station, reported a burn on the right hand due to roof tar and Fireman Russell Kahrs, of the same station, suffered an injury of the right arm below the elbow. Both continued on duty and were treated later.

Units from Central and Cornell stations, Union and Cordts companies answered a call at 5:32 p. m. A 1½-inch stream, booster line and chemicals were used to check the blaze.

The circuit breaker was reported badly damaged.

Grange to Check Centralization of 7 Girl Scouters

CAZENOVIA, N.Y. (AP)—Proposed centralization of seven Upstate Girl Scout councils "sounds like an effort to take away individual rule," the master of the New York State Grange said today.

Russell Curtis said in a statement that the Grange, which sponsors some of the affected scout troops, would investigate the reported plan for a centralization spanning nine counties.

A Grange Girl Scout leader said the plan called for seven councils to pool property, equipment and funds in Schoharie, Schenectady, Fulton, Montgomery, Warren and Washington counties and parts of Essex, Hamilton and Saratoga counties, by December, 1963. Control would be vested in one council board, she said.

Thruway to Restrict Niagara Area Travel

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Thruway Authority announced today that traffic on the Niagara section would be restricted periodically during a six-week period beginning Monday.

The restrictions are to allow a contractor to complete construction of the Scajaquada Creek Expressway Interchange and repairs to Thruway property damaged during the interchange construction.

Thruway traffic will be maintained but will be reduced to a single lane or two lanes at times. North-bound traffic can avoid the construction area by leaving at the Porter Avenue-Peace Bridge exit and south-bound traffic, by the Kenmore Avenue exit, the authority said.

Says Lead, Zinc Stockpile Hiked Under Flemming

WASHINGTON (AP) — William N. Lawrence, a stockpile official has told Senate investigators that purchase goals for lead and zinc were manipulated upward for several years under directives from Arthur S. Flemming, a native of Kingston, N.Y.

But Lawrence backed away Wednesday from the repeated charge by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., that Flemming, former Eisenhower administration official who now is president of the University of Oregon, "broke the law."

Not Reached for Comment

Flemming was not reached for comment.

Symington, chairman of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating federal stockpiling operations, noted that the taxpayers now have more than $650 million invested in inventories of more than one million tons each of lead and zinc.

Big Loss, He Says

"They already have lost over $200 million in value," Symington said.

Lawrence testified that he and other stockpile staff officials protested to Flemming, then director of defense mobilization, that the government needed no more zinc nor lead to meet estimated defense needs.

He quoted Flemming as saying higher goals were needed in order to continue stockpile purchases in 1954-57 of both zinc and lead.

"Was not this improper?" Symington asked.

Cambodia Area Border Incidents Increase Tension

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Tension between South Viet Nam and Cambodia increased with new charges of border violations from both sides and a formal complaint by Cambodia to the three-nation control commission.

The Saigon paper Thu Do claimed that 100 Cambodian soldiers attacked the Vietnamese border town of An Lac 100 miles west of here Monday and clashed with Vietnamese forces. The account claimed eight of the Cambodians were killed and arms were seized before the attackers were beaten off.

In a cautiously worded communique tonight, South Viet Nam said the attack was carried out by "about 100 unidentified men in battlefield dress and equipped with many types of weapons" and the fight lasted more than six hours. South Viet Nam listed its losses as one dead and two wounded.

In another incident, it was learned here today that Cambodia has complained to the commission of four border violations by South Viet Nam.

To reduce the danger of border incidents, U.S. forces in South Viet Nam have been ordered to discontinue all helicopter troop-carrying missions within three miles of the frontier.

No solution was in sight for a border dispute between Cambodia and another of its neighbors, Thailand.

Reds Make Hay Out of Second Pacific Fizzle

HONOLULU (AP)—U.S. scientists at Johnston Island were pictured officially as taking in stride the second failure in two tries to explode a nuclear device at high altitude.

Privately, however, sources said the science and military team responsible for America's Pacific nuclear test series was embarrassed by flopping twice while the world looked on. The Soviet Union jumped at the opportunity to make propaganda hay.

Fell Into Safe Areas

The second test late Tuesday night involved the biggest shot this spring—officially classified as more than one million tons of TNT but probably 10 times that size. The Thor missile carrying the warhead to a firing altitude of 200 miles went awry and the missile and nuclear device had to be destroyed.

There was no nuclear detonation. Some of the debris fell on Johnston and a nearby "Sand" island, the remainder in the open sea "well within the safety area."

The two Johnston attempts have been the only pre-announced public tests of the series to date. Firing times have been issued and countdowns have been carried on open radio frequencies. Delays and postponements, as happened both times, have been relayed fairly promptly.

Had the shots been successful, the flashes and, in the case of the second one, the fireball would have been visible 750 miles away in Hawaii.

Joint Task Force 8 said the failures would not change plans to announce future Johnston tests in advance.

Twenty-one successful lower level detonations have been announced at Christmas Island, far to the southeast of Johnston. Most of these tests involved devices dropped from airplanes.

Thor Gets Full Blame

The blame for the Johnston Island failures was placed solidly on the Thor missiles. The tracking system malfunctioned on the first try, June 4. The trouble Tuesday night wasn't disclosed, but officials said it was in the missile.

Officials indicated it might take 10 days to two weeks to prepare the single Thor launching pad at Johnston Island for another shot.

Radio Moscow was quick to comment on the second blowup at Johnston. The Soviet broadcast spoke of imperfections in U.S. rockets and suggested a runaway missile could endanger mankind inhabited territory.

by carring a nuclear device over

For the record, the U.S. government denied all and said a malfunctioning rocket can be destroyed by radio seconds after it leaves the launching pad.

Conservatives Say GOP Chiefs Panic

NEW YORK (AP)—The newly formed Conservative party says its organizational success has caused panic among Republican leaders and led to the GOP criticism of the Conservative party last Thursday.

A statement issued by the Conservatives Wednesday night said the GOP action "obviously reflects the reports of our progress which are pouring into Rockefeller's headquarters."

The Conservative party has announced plans to run Conservative Republican candidates against Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob K. Javits in the general election next November.

Rockefeller was among GOP leaders who last Thursday endorsed a declaration that Republicans should refuse to join splinter parties.

The executive committee of the Republican State Committee said in a resolution that "no Republican can be a member of a splinter party and, at the same time, be a Republican." The resolution was aimed at the Conservative party, but did not mention it by name.

The right-wing party's statement Wednesday night said Rockefeller, Javits, Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse and others "have made the Republican party on the state level virtually indistinguishable from the Democratic party."

They have done this, the statement said, by "taking advantage of the absence of a primary in this state and of their machine control of the state convention."

Survey Land-Use In Traffic Study Of Dutchess Area

A State Department of Public Works assistant engineer made known Wednesday that preliminary work is underway on a land-use survey as the third stage of a comprehensive traffic survey by the DPW in the City and Town of Poughkeepsie and Village of Wappingers Falls.

Leslie Kerr, an assistant engineer in the Bureau of Highway Planning and Programming in the Albany office of the DPW, specific use of each parcel of land in the area under survey is being noted by use of maps.

The third phase of the traffic study will take place in the fall.

The previous two stages of the study made a check of workers at area industrial plants and an origin-destination survey of drivers. Figures noted from those studies are under review at Albany. They will later be combined with information gathered from the land use and home interview surveys.

Results of the surveys will aid the DPW in planning future road-building programs.

Kerr said information derived in the land-use survey is punched into IBM cards and will be fed into an IBM machine in Albany to provide the DPW with statistics denoting traffic patterns now and what can be anticipated in the future.

Kerr stated that William Curlette and Joseph Eraca have started a portion of the study in midtown Poughkeepsie. Curlette is a student engineer in the Albany office, and Eraca an engineering aide at the DPW office in Poughkeepsie.

Four other workers will join the survey group next week.

Laos Coalition Still Up in Air

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—One of the chief aides of Prince Souphanouvong, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao leader, arrived today to help remove roadblocks barring installation of a coalition government.

Phoumi Vongvichit, who has been designated information minister in the projected government, flew from the rebel-held Plaine des Jarres.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist premier-designate, told newsmen the right-wing faction of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan still maintains a royal decree creating the coalition should contain a clause saying the coalition agreement was approved by the National Assembly.

The neutralists and pro-Communists object to recognition of the legality of the National Assembly, a right-wing body.

Souvanna indicated, however, that the dispute primarily was between the right-wingers and pro-Communists.

The negotiators are facing a deadline Friday. The coalition agreement signed at the Plaine des Jarres provided that the first Cabinet meeting should be held within 10 days. Asked if the agreement would become void if the Cabinet is unable to meet Friday, Souvanna said, "The agreement will still be valid, but this will prove that bad faith exists somewhere."

Faces Charges In Clubbing of 15-Year-Old Boy

Charges with clubbing a 15-year-old boy with a baseball bat in a wooded area, May 20, Robert Joseph Craddock, 40, of 92½ Academy Street, Poughkeepsie, appeared Wednesday in Dutchess County court to face second degree assault charges.

Craddock was accused in a two-count indictment of assaulting Donald S. Signor of 60 Carroll Street, Poughkeepsie, in the woods off South Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, and later tying him to a bush for hours before taking him to a physician.

The boy was hospitalized several days, suffering multiple head and other injuries.

Acting County Judge W. Vincent Grady entered a plea of innocent after denying a defense request to parole Craddock in his own custody pending trial. "I am a victim of circumstances," Craddock told the judge.

Craddock was remanded to the Dutchess County Jail. The case was adjourned until Tuesday.

Report Welfare Costs Are Higher In Poughkeepsie

Welfare costs in the City of Poughkeepsie in 1961 totaled $1,264,159.70, or $210,085.70 more than $1,054,074 budgeted for the police and fire departments for the year.

City Welfare Commissioner John W. Sweeney noted that of the total costs for welfare last year, the city received $770,868.56 in state and federal aid. City residents paid $493,291.14 of the total.

Sweeney also said that in addition to the funds received in federal and state aid, the city also received $66,079.04 through refunds and sale of property.

The commissioner reported the per capita welfare cost in Poughkeepsie last year was $20.39, a decrease of 18 cents below the $20.57 per capita figure. (Per capita cost is the average cost of welfare to each person in a municipality concerned for a year.)

Sweeney noted that the per capita cost for welfare in the City of Newburgh increased from $16.08 to $16.76 from 1960 to 1961.

Helps to Ease Plight of 11 Sleeping in Car

FLORHAM PARK, N.J. (AP)—Two families with seven children and assets they said totaled 35 cents were found by police today sleeping in a car parked in a side road.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Erving Hewitt, all of Glens Falls, N.Y., told officers they had driven south when the two men, both house painters, could not find work in the Upstate New York community.

Police discovered the group in Elm Street. The children, ranging in age from 1 to 4, were huddled in the back seat of the car, a 1950 model.

Officers rounded up milk and rolls for the families and found them shelter at a home here.

Faces Second Trial

Thefts Reported

Local police were asked Wednesday to investigate theft of articles valued at $350 to $400 from the home of Walter Donnaruma, 143 Franklin Street. They included a camera, transit and compass, steel measuring tapes, and an undetermined number of hand tools, and were taken during the past two weeks, the report said.

2,600 in State Idled by Ford

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Approximately 2,600 employes of the Ford Motor Co. in New York State have been idled by production cutbacks resulting from a strike at a Ford plant near Cleveland.

The stamping plant at Woodlawn, a Buffalo suburb, has laid off 2,400 of its 4,000 workers, and nearly 800 of them have applied for state unemployment insurance benefits.

At Green Island, near Troy, the Ford plant laid of 200 of its 870 workers Wednesday. More workers will be idled if the strike continues, a plant spokesman said.

The Green Island plant makes heaters, radiators, supply tanks and rear springs.

The strike, which began June 6 at Ford's plant at Walton Hills, Ohio, has idled 70,000 Ford workers across the country since negotiations stalled.

Shillelagh Missile Job Assigned to Area

Watervliet Arsenal has been assigned a major responsibility in development of the armament for the Army's revolutionary Shillelagh surface-to-surface guided missile system.

The complete research and development mission for the gun launcher of the tank-killing Shillelagh has been assigned to the Arsenal's Research & Engineering Division.

The Shillelagh, named after the legendary Irish war club, is antifortification weapon system.

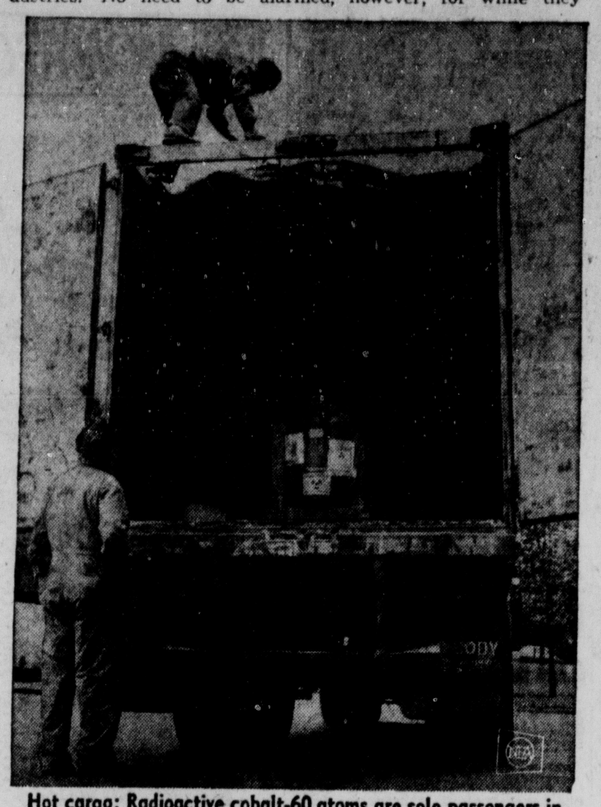
The Arsenal role in development of the gun launcher is being performed by the original design section of the R&E Division. Phases of the work include initial concept and feasibility studies as well as development and testing of the first prototype.

Watervliet also has the responsibility for research and development, and pilot-line production of the Shillelagh missile container.

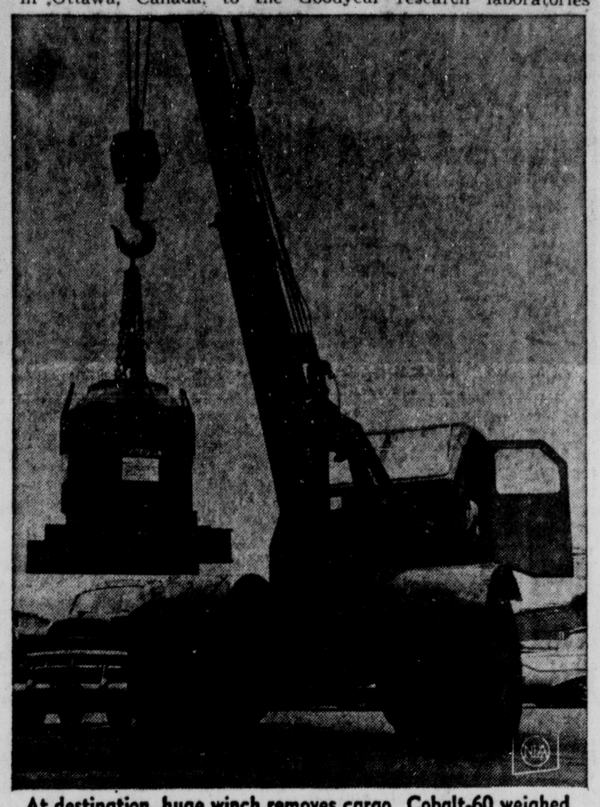
The Shillelagh missile is being developed by the Aeronautics Division of the Ford Motor Co.

Atoms on the Road:

If you drive very much, chances are that sometime or other you will see a truck bearing a distinctive cloverlike symbol with words "Caution — Radioactive." Such trucks are crisscrossing the country in greater frequency as radiation research increase at government agencies, universities and industries. No need to be alarmed, however, for while they are among the most dangerous substances ever made by man, the radiation sources are so carefully shielded that no conceivable highway accident could spill them. Recently, a shipment of 11,000 curies (equal to 11,000 grams of pure radium) of cobalt-60 was trucked from Atomic Energy Ltd. in Ottawa, Canada, to the Goodyear research laboratories in Akron, Ohio, as shown in pictures below. The cobalt was packed in an 8,000-pound lead container, clad with stainless steel and built to withstand an impact of 250 G's, which rode alone in a barn-sized Dixie-Ohio Express truck. The 632-mile trip was routine and the cobalt atoms are now being used to help develop new types of rubber and plastic.



Hot cargo: Radioactive cobalt-60 atoms are sole passengers in truck, beginning journey from Ottawa, Canada to Akron, Ohio.



At destination, huge winch removes cargo. Cobalt-60 weighed only 3/10ths of an ounce, but its lead container 8,000 pounds!

Journey's end: Scientist double-checks for radiation traces as the glowing cobalt rests at bottom of 17-foot-deep well.

Stratton Sounds Out Rockfeller On Milk Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., has demanded a public statement from Gov. Rockefeller today on a bill Stratton says would assure orderly conditions in the New York-New Jersey milk-marketing area.

Stratton, who is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, introduced the bill last week. He said in a House speech Wednesday that he had heard nothing from the Republican governor about it.

The Schenectady congressman said the measure was designed to overcome the effects of a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision that outlawed compensatory payments previously required of outsiders who shipped milk into the New York-New Jersey milkshed.

The payments were designed to prevent the outside dairymen from gaining a competitive advantage over those in the marketing area.

Stratton said his bill would make the payments legal.

Earlier this month, Rockefeller, who is seeking re-election, asked President Kennedy to take prompt action to maintain orderly marketing in the milkshed.

Bobby's Wife, 2 Guests Dunked, But Not Glenn

WASHINGTON (AP)—"In the social swim" usually describes someone who's making a splash on the champagne and caviar circuit.

It means something more at the Robert F. Kennedys' now. It means making a splash in the Kennedy swimming pool—sort of a formal splash in evening clothes, dancing shoes and the rest.

It happened the other night at an outside dinner-dance for about 300 given by the attorney general and his wife at their Virginia estate. And the hostess was the first to get a dunking.

Betty Beale, columnist for the Washington Evening Star, said it happened this way:

At the party—for actor Peter Lawford and his wife, a Kennedy sister—the dance floor extended from a back fence right to the edge of the swimming pool.

One small table was perched on a plank that stretched across the pool with the three chairs around it only inches from the edge.

Mrs. Kennedy occupied one chair, astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. was in the second and the third was for Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White who apparently judged the position was untenable and took a stand on firmer ground.

It was bound to happen and it did. Mrs. Kennedy tumbled in and was drenched but Glenn remained dry, just as he did when his space capsule plopped into the ocean after his three orbits around the earth.

Before the evening's end two other guests somehow also ended up taking a dip fully clothed—Mrs. Spencer Davis, a friend of Mrs. Kennedy, and presidential assistant Arthur Schlesinger.

Pays Fine on Tuesday; Caught Again Wednesday

Arthur Ferro, 30 of West Chester Street, Kingston, who appeared before Town of Saugerties Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers Tuesday and paid a $25 fine on a speeding violation committed June 11, was issued a summons Wednesday morning for improper use of village streets.

Ferro was halted by Saugeries Village Patrolman Nick Steyer on Partition Street and issued a summons for appearance Friday 7 p. m. before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr.

Kingston troopers issued the speeding citation June 11 after a four-mile chase at high speeds along Route 9W. He was apprehended on Main Street, Saugerties and issued a summons for going 75 miles-per-hour. Troopers William Whalen and Kenneth Kreminick took up the chase on Route 9W shortly before 5:30 a. m. Ferro told troopers he was on his way to work.

13th Arrest Made And More Due in Burglary Series

A thirteenth arrest has been made by authorities in the investigation of a rash of burglaries in Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia Counties, and more arrests are anticipated, according to Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan.

Beacon police arrested Anthony J. Russo, 45, of 18 Park Avenue, that city on a charge of criminally buying, receiving and concealing stolen goods. Russo pleaded innocent Wednesday in Beacon City Court and received an adjournment until Wednesday, June 27 for hearing.

Raymond H. Stanton, 48, of 54 Jefferson Street Poughkeepsie, who authorities say had admitted more than 200 burglaries in the tri-county wave of burglaries that netted more than $500,000 loot, has been charged by Columbia County authorities with third degree burglary by Claverack troopers.

BCI Senior Investigator Fred Potts, Philmont, said Stanton is being questioned in connection with nine Columbia County burglaries that netted loot estimated at "about $20,000."

Columbia County authorities have filed a warrant with Dutchess County Sheriff Quinlan charging Stanton with third degre burglary.

Investigator Potts noted that the largest amount taken in a Columbia County burglary was an estimated $15,000 in travelogue film and camera equipment from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes, Beachwood, N. J., whose Copake home was entered last September.

Dutchess authorities say Stanton has admitted burglaries in the last five or six years that netted more than $500,000 in loot. Truckloads have been recovered and stored in buildings leased by Dutchess authorities.

The investigation, which began several months ago, has extended to Ulster County, and County Investigator Arthur H. Brown has been working several months with Dutchess sheriffs.

Ford Is Silent On Mediator to Help in Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — The federal government sought to enter the Ford Motor Co. strike today through an offer of mediation.

The United Auto Workers accepted the offer following five hours of inconclusive negotiations that ended late Wednesday night.

Ford spokesmen met with an initial silence Federal Mediator James MacPherson's offer to lend his services in the dispute over production standards at Ford's stamping plant in suburban Walton Hills.

Consent of both parties in the dispute is needed for MacPherson to participate in the negotiations scheduled to resume here at 2 p.m. today.

The Walton Hills plant walkout June 7 has cut the flow of body stampings to other Ford plants and halted production of all Ford passenger cars. Approximately half of Ford's hourly rated production workers have been laid off and additional thousands are threatened with layoffs. About 70,000 are now idle because of the strike.

Bobby's Wife, 2 Guests Dunked, But Not Glenn

WASHINGTON (AP)—"In the social swim" usually describes someone who's making a splash on the champagne and caviar circuit.

It means something more at the Robert F. Kennedys' now. It means making a splash in the Kennedy swimming pool—sort of a formal splash in evening clothes, dancing shoes and the rest.

It happened the other night at an outside dinner-dance for about 300 given by the attorney general and his wife at their Virginia estate. And the hostess was the first to get a dunking.

Betty Beale, columnist for the Washington Evening Star, said it happened this way:

At the party—for actor Peter Lawford and his wife, a Kennedy sister—the dance floor extended from a back fence right to the edge of the swimming pool.

One small table was perched on a plank that stretched across the pool with the three chairs around it only inches from the edge.

Mrs. Kennedy occupied one chair, astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. was in the second and the third was for Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White who apparently judged the position was untenable and took a stand on firmer ground.

It was bound to happen and it did. Mrs. Kennedy tumbled in and was drenched but Glenn remained dry, just as he did when his space capsule plopped into the ocean after his three orbits around the earth.

Before the evening's end two other guests somehow also ended up taking a dip fully clothed—Mrs. Spencer Davis, a friend of Mrs. Kennedy, and presidential assistant Arthur Schlesinger.

Pays Fine on Tuesday; Caught Again Wednesday

Arthur Ferro, 30 of West Chester Street, Kingston, who appeared before Town of Saugerties Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers Tuesday and paid a $25 fine on a speeding violation committed June 11, was issued a summons Wednesday morning for improper use of village streets.

Ferro was halted by Saugeries Village Patrolman Nick Steyer on Partition Street and issued a summons for appearance Friday 7 p. m. before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr.

Kingston troopers issued the speeding citation June 11 after a four-mile chase at high speeds along Route 9W. He was apprehended on Main Street, Saugerties and issued a summons for going 75 miles-per-hour. Troopers William Whalen and Kenneth Kreminick took up the chase on Route 9W shortly before 5:30 a. m. Ferro told troopers he was on his way to work.

13th Arrest Made And More Due in Burglary Series

A thirteenth arrest has been made by authorities in the investigation of a rash of burglaries in Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia Counties, and more arrests are anticipated, according to Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan.

Beacon police arrested Anthony J. Russo, 45, of 18 Park Avenue, that city on a charge of criminally buying, receiving and concealing stolen goods. Russo pleaded innocent Wednesday in Beacon City Court and received an adjournment until Wednesday, June 27 for hearing.

Raymond H. Stanton, 48, of 54 Jefferson Street Poughkeepsie, who authorities say had admitted more than 200 burglaries in the tri-county wave of burglaries that netted more than $500,000 loot, has been charged by Columbia County authorities with third degree burglary by Claverack troopers.

BCI Senior Investigator Fred Potts, Philmont, said Stanton is being questioned in connection with nine Columbia County burglaries that netted loot estimated at "about $20,000."

Early End Predicted by Humphrey

'Foolish' Hassle Threatens Payless Paydays for Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The spectre of payless paydays for members of Congress and their employes may bring an early end to a Senate-House deadlock holding up appropriation bills.

In the backlog of bills jammed up by what has been called a "childish" and "foolish" technical controversy is one carrying money to operate Congress for the government year starting July 1.

Would Start July 1

Of lesser immediate importance on Capitol Hill are other bills financing the Treasury, Interior, Postoffice, Defense, Labor and Welfare departments and the President's own office for the same period.

Unless a face-saving compromise is worked out soon between the Senate and House Appropriations committees, just about every employe of the government and Congress technically will face payless paydays starting July 1.

Traditionally, senators have presided at joint meetings to compromise money bills on which the two branches differed. Traditionally, all appropriations bills have originated in the House.

The House group wants to change the rules and rotate the chairmanship at joint sessions. The Senate group said this would be okay if the House agreed to let the Senate institute every other appropriation bill.

Neither side appears willing to give in.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., called the hassle "foolish" and predicted it would end soon.

SS Men Off Payroll

Meanwhile, Secret Service employes are off the payroll and are working on the theory that they eventually will get paid. Their pay funds expired recently, as did those of some other agencies.

With none of the big annual money bills cleared, the usual procedure would be for Congress to swish through an emergency measure financing all departments on a temporary basis. But there's no assurance the Senate committee would consider such a measure, although it always has in the past when there was no intercommittee feuding.

Current prospects are that some legislative heads will be bumped together soon and the stalemate will end with a guarantee that in the new Congress the entire subject of rotation of joint committee chairmanships will be considered. All other major joint committees rotate their chairmanships every two years between the Senate and the House.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined sharply in heavy trading early this afternoon, dropping below the closing lows of 1962 in some averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.40 to 208.50 with industrials off 2.10, rails off .40, and utilities off 1.00.

Brokers said there was nothing in the news to account for the continued decline.

IBM sank a dozen points or so, still remaining well above its '62 low of 300. Xerox lost about 7, Polaroid around 8, Litton Industries about 4—all sharp moves but not too unusual for these volatile issues. Du Pont sank more than 4.

Celotex advanced more than 3 points in response to news that Ruberoid plans to invite tenders for 350,000 shares of Celotex at $25 a share. The stock closed at 20¼ Wednesday.

$3 Prize Is Won By Woman Who Stole $3 Million

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Miss Minnie Mangum, the embezzling spinster from Portsmouth, Va., has won a $3 prize in an essay contest sponsored by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

"Miss Minnie," now in the sixth year of a 20-year sentence imposed for stealing some $3 million from a Norfolk building and loan association, doesn't seem to harbor any ill feelings against the state.

Her essay topic: "Why I'm Glad I'm a Virginian."

children presently enrolled in Catholic elementary and high schools in New York State, and that at the same average per year per child, this is saving the taxpayers of the state about $475,000,000 each year in taxes. Were there no voluntarily supported Catholic schools, the taxpayers of New York State would have nearly half a billion dollars added to their yearly tax bill.

Likewise in the nation, 5,287,230 children are presently attending Catholic elementary and high schools, where the national average cost per child is computed at $341 per child, the savings to the taxpayers of the nation amounts to more than $1,782,000,000.

Must Meet Standards

The Catholic School System in New York State is not a law unto itself, Monsignor Shea said. While its basic philosophy determines those subjects necessary to a complete and effective education, at the same time it must maintain the standards in the curriculum prescribed by the State Education Department. Requirements in the field of religion and Catholic culture are established in addition to the general standards for all schools.

Comparing the above figures with the New York State Education Department's Census and Enrollment report, published in February 1961, we see that one of every five children of school age in the state is attending a Catholic school.

It is this responsibility for 20 per cent of tomorrow's homemakers, laborers and professional people in New York State, that leads the Catholic School system to aspire to high standards of excellence in scholarship, discipline and integrity.

Reference was made during discussion, of what is considered an "arbitrary size limitation of the proposed retail area and to the ability of the area to draw patronage from all sections of the city." This phase of the study, it was indicated, is due for further discussion.

James B. Rboerts, of the B & F Market, felt that too much "general talk" about urban renewal without definite action can be deterimental to an area.

Group Is Formed To Press on Canal Between 2 Lakes

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An advisory group, composed of 22 Western New York business and industrial leaders, has been formed to help a drive to get an All-American canal built between Lakes Erie and Ontario.

The group, named Wednesday, said it planned to establish a permanent committee later and draw up a report on business factors connected with the plan. The report would be presented to the Joint Legislative Committee on the Lake Erie - Lake Ontario Waterway.

The proposed canal would carry Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Seaway shipping around Niagara Falls, as does the Welland Canal in Canada.

The legislative committee, headed by Sen. Walter J. Mahoney, Republican Majority Leader of the State Senate, was established in 1962, and plans its first public hearings on the matter this summer.

Mahoney presided at Wednesday's meeting. He said he was aware of the need for a full economic study before federal funds could be spent on the actual construction. He said he hoped the new advisory group would prevent public interest from lagging as the lengthy survey is conducted.

Kenneth Lloyd of Youngstown, Ohio, a member of the advisory board on the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., spoke on the problems and benefits of inland waterways. He said he believed Western New York would suffer economically if all seaway traffic by-passed it.

The U.S. Corps of engineers already has spent $35,000 on preliminary studies and seeks $200,000 to start a full economic survey this year. The engineers figure the project would cost up to $700 million and might be started in about eight years if advanced studies are favorable.

U.S. Sounds Out

has been under scrutiny of the Budget Bureau.

President Roberto Chiari of Panama was in Washington last week and told newsmen he and President Kennedy talked about possible new canal sites, but not in detail.

At one time, government engineers also considered Nicaragua and Mexico's isthmus as possible canal sites, but the proposal to be sent Congress has been construed to mean that Panama and Colombia offer the most promising sites.

Two Potential Places

Panama has two potential places for new canals, both between the present canal and the Colombian border. One would begin on the Atlantic side at the sheltered Gulf of San Blas, connect with a major river about midway across the isthmus, and follow it to the Pacific. The other would start on the Atlantic side and tie into the Sabana River and end in another protected area, the Gulf of San Miguel.

The Colombian site, near the Panama border, would utilize the Atrato and Truando rivers to cross a land area of about 90 miles, against about 50 miles for the Panama sites. The present canal is 40 miles long.

All three sites, one informed source said, would lend themselves to the idea of a sea level canal, which would eliminate the need for the costly locks system used in the Panama waterway and speed transits through the canal.

From 1951 to 1961 cargo moved through the Panama Canal increased from 31.3 million tons to 65.2 million, and the number of crossings by ocean-going vessels rose from 5,593 to 10,866.

Buying on Margin Best Left to Pros

Q) "I have been reading about buying stock on margin. What does this mean?" O. B.

A) When using margin, the buyer in effect uses credit to finance part of his purchase.

Under today's rules, for instance, your broker can lend you 30 per cent of the purchase price of listed shares if you put up the other 70 per cent. In so doing, you will, of course, have to pay interest on the funds borrowed until the loan is paid off.

Margin transactions are used by speculators who wish to increase the profit potentials of their available cash. However, if the stock falls in price, this also means a larger potential loss.

During a steep market sell-off, your broker may ask you to put up more cash to maintain the required amount of equity. And if you're unable to do so, he will be forced to sell your shares at a steep loss.

Obviously, margin accounts sh uld be used only by the experienced investor, who is well aware of the risks involved.

Q) "I started to invest six years ago with $3,600, and my holdings are now worth $5,000. Included are: S. S. Kresge, Great A & P, and Woolworth. I am a conservative investor and dislike taking risks of any sort. Do you have any changes to suggest?" E. M.

A) Yes, I do. While distributing goods to the American consumer is a huge and ever-growing business, I think your list is topheavy with chain retailers and believe some diversification is needed.

I advise you to hold the Great A & P and Woolworth, because these two issues offer good values and the downside potential of each is fairly limited at present levels.

On the other hand, I feel that Kresge should be sold. The company has launched a big expansion program which may eventually add to the basic earning power. However, there is a possibility that the dividend could be cut. Which casts some doubt over the near-term prospects of the situation.

I suggest you switch into Pendleton Tool (NYSE), a sound stock which offers close to a 5 per cent yield and has moderate appreciation potentials as well.

Early End Predicted by Humphrey

'Foolish' Hassle Threatens Payless Paydays for Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The spectre of payless paydays for members of Congress and their employes may bring an early end to a Senate-House deadlock holding up appropriation bills.

In the backlog of bills jammed up by what has been called a "childish" and "foolish" technical controversy is one carrying money to operate Congress for the government year starting July 1.

Would Start July 1

Of lesser immediate importance on Capitol Hill are other bills financing the Treasury, Interior, Postoffice, Defense, Labor and Welfare departments and the President's own office for the same period.

Unless a face-saving compromise is worked out soon between the Senate and House Appropriations committees, just about every employe of the government and Congress technically will face payless paydays starting July 1.

Traditionally, senators have presided at joint meetings to compromise money bills on which the two branches differed. Traditionally, all appropriations bills have originated in the House.

The House group wants to change the rules and rotate the chairmanship at joint sessions. The Senate group said this would be okay if the House agreed to let the Senate institute every other appropriation bill.

Neither side appears willing to give in.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., called the hassle "foolish" and predicted it would end soon.

SS Men Off Payroll

Meanwhile, Secret Service employes are off the payroll and are working on the theory that they eventually will get paid. Their pay funds expired recently, as did those of some other agencies.

With none of the big annual money bills cleared, the usual procedure would be for Congress to swish through an emergency measure financing all departments on a temporary basis. But there's no assurance the Senate committee would consider such a measure, although it always has in the past when there was no intercommittee feuding.

Current prospects are that some legislative heads will be bumped together soon and the stalemate will end with a guarantee that in the new Congress the entire subject of rotation of joint committee chairmanships will be considered. All other major joint committees rotate their chairmanships every two years between the Senate and the House.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined sharply in heavy trading early this afternoon, dropping below the closing lows of 1962 in some averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.40 to 208.50 with industrials off 2.10, rails off .40, and utilities off 1.00.

Brokers said there was nothing in the news to account for the continued decline.

IBM sank a dozen points or so, still remaining well above its '62 low of 300. Xerox lost about 7, Polaroid around 8, Litton Industries about 4—all sharp moves but not too unusual for these volatile issues. Du Pont sank more than 4.

Celotex advanced more than 3 points in response to news that Ruberoid plans to invite tenders for 350,000 shares of Celotex at $25 a share. The stock closed at 20¼ Wednesday.

One would begin on the Atlantic side at the sheltered Gulf of San Blas, connect with a major river about midway across the isthmus, and follow it to the Pacific. The other would start on the Atlantic side and tie into the Sabana River and end in another protected area, the Gulf of San Miguel.

The Colombian site, near the Panama border, would utilize the Atrato and Truando rivers to cross a land area of about 90 miles, against about 50 miles for the Panama sites. The present canal is 40 miles long.

All three sites, one informed source said, would lend themselves to the idea of a sea level canal, which would eliminate the need for the costly locks system used in the Panama waterway and speed transits through the canal.

From 1951 to 1961 cargo moved through the Panama Canal increased from 31.3 million tons to 65.2 million, and the number of crossings by ocean-going vessels rose from 5,593 to 10,866.

Buying on Margin Best Left to Pros

Q) "I have been reading about buying stock on margin. What does this mean?" O. B.

A) When using margin, the buyer in effect uses credit to finance part of his purchase.

Under today's rules, for instance, your broker can lend you 30 per cent of the purchase price of listed shares if you put up the other 70 per cent. In so doing, you will, of course, have to pay interest on the funds borrowed until the loan is paid off.

Margin transactions are used by speculators who wish to increase the profit potentials of their available cash. However, if the stock falls in price, this also means a larger potential loss.

During a steep market sell-off, your broker may ask you to put up more cash to maintain the required amount of equity. And if you're unable to do so, he will be forced to sell your shares at a steep loss.

Obviously, margin accounts sh uld be used only by the experienced investor, who is well aware of the risks involved.

Q) "I started to invest six years ago with $3,600, and my holdings are now worth $5,000. Included are: S. S. Kresge, Great A & P, and Woolworth. I am a conservative investor and dislike taking risks of any sort. Do you have any changes to suggest?" E. M.

A) Yes, I do. While distributing goods to the American consumer is a huge and ever-growing business, I think your list is topheavy with chain retailers and believe some diversification is needed.

I advise you to hold the Great A & P and Woolworth, because these two issues offer good values and the downside potential of each is fairly limited at present levels.

On the other hand, I feel that Kresge should be sold. The company has launched a big expansion program which may eventually add to the basic earning power. However, there is a possibility that the dividend could be cut. Which casts some doubt over the near-term prospects of the situation.

I suggest you switch into Pendleton Tool (NYSE), a sound stock which offers close to a 5 per cent yield and has moderate appreciation potentials as well.

Has 33 Parking Meter Violations, Pays $100, Fines

A Poughkeepsie assembly worker was fined $100 Wednesday, when he appeared before City Judge Milton Haven in that city to answer for 33 parking meter violations.

James E. Parker, 39, of 236 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, pleaded guilty to illegal parking in a city operated lot. The violations dated back to January.

Judge Haven noted the motorist had ignored letters sent him by the Traffic Bureau, directing him to report the violations.

Parker said in court he worked nights and parked his car in the lot day time.

"I hope this teaches you a lesson." Judge Haven told Parker as the fines were paid.

Ostertag Fighting Orders About Grain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harold C. Ostertag, R-N.Y., says his constituents are "overwhelmingly opposed" to proposals that would permit the government to order reductions in acreage on which a farmer could plant grain.

Ostertag told the House Wednesday that what he termed "unsound and unwise solutions" to farm problems in the administration's farm bill should be rejected.

He said the bill would empower the agriculture secretary to order reductions in the amount of land that a farmer could use to grow wheat, corn, oats and other grains.

His constituents, he said, "are overwhelmingly opposed to this kind of solution for the farm problem."

He said the measure would make the agriculture secretary an absolute czar over a large segment of American farming.

House Would Rotate Leadership

Haggling Over Committee Head Ties Up Money Bills

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — You'd better smile, pardner, if you call the U.S. House of Representatives the "lower house."

Otherwise you're in trouble with House members.

For there is nothing in the Constitution which says the Senate is higher than the House. They are co-equal. As a matter of fact, some authorities feel that if either branch is expendable it is the Senate, not the House.

Hidden in Complexes

But though House members get the same pay—$22,500—as senators, it has long been surmised that many of them have hidden inferiority complexes. For one thing, the size of the House (437 as against 100 senators) tends to dilute an individual member's prestige. And to get any work done, the House has developed rules which regiment its run-of-the-mill members. No representative can make a marathon speech, for example.

At any rate, the House has long suspected the Senate of haughtiness. So now representatives have their backs up. They are insisting that the chairmanship of Senate-House Conference Committees appointed to iron out differences in appropriations bills shall rotate instead of always being held by a senator. This dispute has tied up several appropriations bills and many government exployes face payless paydays, including the valiant Secret Service.

Though the Constitution makes no mention of it, some people contend Congress has a "third house" —namely its system of conference committees. When Senate and House pass a bill in different form a conference committee usually is appointed to reconcile the differences.

Wield Great Power

Working in secret, conferees wield great power. Sometimes in the past they have altered legislation almost beyond recognition. And sometimes, especially in session-end logjams, Congress has passed the conferees' "compromise" without knowing exactly what was in it.

Suggestions sometimes have been made that America could get along with a one-chamber Congress. Many foreign countries and one American state, Nebraska, manage to do it. But it is inconceivable that either Senate or House would vote for a constitutional amendment to put itself out of business.

The present clash between Senate and House, though tense, is conducted quietly in gentlemanly fashion. Both chambers have rules against using the floor to speak ill of colleagues in either house.

Gone are the good old days when Congressman "Sockless Jerry" Simpson (1842-1905) of Kansas could arise on the House floor and call a colleague "a political cannibal autocrat."

Nowadays the steam seems to have gone out of presidential language too. It is hard to imagine President Kennedy saying of any senator what President Andrew Jackson wrote of John C. Calhoun in 1832:

"His best former friends say he ought to be hanged."

Hargrove Still Battling Brass, But in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twenty years later, Private Hargrove is still battling the brass.

The difference is that his adversaries are not the top kicks and shavetails from whom he extracted his wartime best seller, "See Here, Private Hargrove."

Now he is contending with the production minds of the Hollywood studios. I might add that as one of the town's most in-demand comedy writers, his pay is somewhat different this time.

Hargrove appears to have prospered in spite of his refusal to knuckle under the Hollywood system. But he admitted in his cozy Universal office that it sometimes pays to be cautious.

"Most of the time I am writing satire," he explained, "but the trick is never to tell the producers that it is satire. That would scare them."

Hargrove came here in 1955 to research and write a comedy about the peacetime army, "The Girl He Left Behind," for Warner Brothers. He persuaded the studio to let him write the yarn as a book while a script writer followed a few paces behind, turning it into a scenario. Hargrove's hilarious passages came out serious in the script; Hollywood was on a drama kick.

While waiting for the studios to come over to comedy, Hargrove turned out a pack of television Westerns — "the way Westerns should be written," that is, funny. His 'Mavericks" were pure satire but no one admitted it out loud.

Hollywood finally found out that comedies sell, and he was in demand for features. He converted "Music Man" to films and had his sport with bossman J. L. Warmer doing so.

Hargrove did an adaptation for the Kim Novak comedy, "Boy's Night Out," but battled with the director. "I had to apologize for calling him a frustrated writer," Hargrove recalled. 'I told him it was his writer who was the frustrated writer."

Couldn't Hargrove get a book out of Hollywood, as he did with the Army? "No," he said. "Too fantastic."

Boy Scout Troop 6 HoldsProgram for 45th Anniversary

This past week Boy Scout Troop 6 of the First Baptist Church, Kingston, had its 45th anniversary highlighted with an Eagle Scout presentation to Douglas Eighmey, junior assistant scoutmaster.

The evening's program opened with a candlelighting ceremony. Scoutmaster Edward Safford presented to the senior patrol leader, for attachment to the troop flag, a streamer for prompt re-registration and another ribbon which is awarded to units which achieve during the year the goals in good programming, troop growth, service to the community, and trained manpower. The troop also earned the 100 per cent Boy's Life banner and the National Camp Award.

Presents Charter

Scout Commissioner Louis Gerbon presented the troop charter to the Institutional Representative Lester Decker with the comment that this troop is now a 45 year veteran, having first registered only one year after the Scouting movement was chartered by the Congress of the United States. Records indicate that Decker was one of the first assistant scoutmasters of Troop 6 and has been a registered scouter ever since.

Douglas Eighmey Jr. Assistant scoutmaster presented service stars to Robert Dunbar, Stephen Celuch, Bruce Giacoma and Richard Patterson. Robert Fisk was awarded the Second Class rank upon having completed the requirements by Assistant Scoutmaster David Eighmey. Mrs. Fisk was presented a miniature pin, the duplicate of her son's award.

Presentation of the Eagle Award to Douglas Eighmey was made by Scoutmaster Safford. Joining with the Scouts of the troop in congratulating the new Eagle were his two brothers H. Philips Eighmey and David Eighmey, both Eagle Scouts. Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey, parents of the boys were guests of honor. Eighmey is the council camping chairman and he reports that the summer's quota for Camp Tri-Mount is quickly filing up with a record registration.

Adds Congratulations

Rip Van Winkle Council Scout Executive Alex MacDonald added his congratulations pointing out that achievement of Eagle Scout Rank is no pushover and that only those scouts with will to learn and the ability to overcome hardship reach the top. The Troop Committee for the next Charter year was introduced by Lester Decker. They are: George Dunbar, George Matthews, Sherwood Lasher, Robert Rathbun, William W. Brady, and Vernon Hull. Troop 6 has four assistant scoutmasters, Robert Booth, David Eighmey, H. Phillips Eighmey and Robert Hillis.

While the Scouts held their business meeting and had a game the parents discussed the projected summer program of swimming, hiking and overnight camp. Over half of the troop will be at Camp Tri-Mount in August.

The meeting was closed with refreshments and the Scoutmaster's Minute.

Military Academy Personnel Chief Talks at Rotary

The United States Military Academy at West Point was the subject of an interesting illustrated talk by Colonel Stacey Capers, chief of personnel at the Military Academy, before the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday. The Colonel was presented by Frederic Snyder.

The speaker explained that the purpose of the Military Academy is to instruct and train the corps of cadets so that each graduate will have the qualities and attributes essential to his progressive and continued development throughout his career as an officer of the Regular Army.

The academic, moral, physical and military aspects of the cadet's life all contribute to the fulfillment of this purpose. Through discipline and the development of character and leadership, the cadets are prepared to be leaders in the Regular Army. How this is accomplished was graphically presented.

West Point demands honesty, loyalty, obedience and respect for superiors and subordinates. As a cadet progresses through the four years at the Military Academy, he is required to demonstrate qualities of leadership and to assume ever-increasing responsibilities.

The honor code at West Point states that a cadet will not lie, cheat or steal. Each cadet is especially proud of the honor system and jealously guards its basic tenets. The honor system belongs to the corps and it is they who uphold its high standards.

The course of instruction includes an academic program in the arts and sciences which provides a foundation for graduate study, a basic military education covering all branches of the army and an intensive physical education program emphasizing both individual and team competition.

The foundation of West Point's educational system was established more than a century ago by Colonel Sylvanus Thayer. One of his principles still intact is that every cadet actively participates in every class at every possible opportunity.

A young man must obtain a nomination to the Military Academy before he can take the academic, medical and physical aptitude examinations which determine his qualification for entrance. He must be 17 but not yet 22 years of age, a citizen of the United States, never been married, physically sound, graduate from a second school and a desire for a military career.

Weekly Food Review

Sandwiches and salads come to the rescue of housewives harried by summer heat and taxed by school youngsters home and underfoot.

Many of the nation's supermarkets are featuring picnic hams this weekend. One national chain features a 3-pound ham for $2.99 in New York.

Broiler-fryers offer an opportunity for the backyard chef to show his stuff. One national chain is selling whole birds for 27 cents a pound in New York area outlets.

Other cookout bargains include frankfurters and ground beef. Steaks, both beef and pork, are featured regionally and spareribs and shortribs are bargain priced in some stores.

Among salad ingredients, lettuce is lower priced almost everywhere. Other greens, cucumbers, green onions and cabbage also are possibilities.

Fruit choices include watermelon, strawberries, peaches, cantaloupe, oranges and lemons.

CAMDEN, S. C. (AP)—When raiders hit a big still near Camden, they found the human operators had fled leaving some natural guardians behind.

First, a flock of bees, apparently tipsy from the mash, attacked. The officers countered with a smoke screen.

Then, from under the mash barrel, came a water moccasin, too much under the influence to crawl straight. The snake fell into the nearby creek and floated off downstream — too drunk to swim, said a raider.

Easy Play Slam Tough to Bid

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The rest of this week's series will deal with slams which should have been easy to bid, but weren't so simple when actually played.

Playing at three no-trump South gathered in the ace of spades, six diamonds, and three hearts, but North pointed out to him that six diamonds was a lead pipe cinch and that somehow or other they ought to have reached that nice contract.

North felt that the trouble was with South's first rebid. He suggested that if South had jumped to three diamonds then he, north, could have asked for aces with a four no-trump bid and settled for the diamond slam when South showed only two of them.

North was right about what would have happened if South had tried a three diamond bid, but I feel that there can be no valid criticism of his two diamond call.

The trouble came at his next turn to bid. After North went to three clubs. South had an excellent bid at his disposal. He should have bid three spades. This bid could not get him into any trouble.

North could not have a spade suit otherwise he would have shown it earlier.

With many holdings North would simply go to three no-trump over the three spade bid and South would pass. With his actual holding North might well jump all the way to six diamonds, but at least he would jump to five and South could certainly go on to six after that bid.

Specialists Will Conduct Course At Camp Jay CC

Two American Camping Association program specialists will assist with the annual staff training week at Camp Jay Cee this season.

Anthony J. Mennone, former assistant director of Camp Shalom, Waterbury, Conn., a specialist in camp administration, program planning and parent relationships will conduct a clinic for the staff of the Jewish Community Center Day Camp and will review and evaluate the plans for the season with the camp supervisory staff.

Mennone is an assistant principal in the Waterbury, Conn., public school system and has had 11 years of experience in Jewish Center camps. He has a master of education degree from New York University and was decorated for combat activities while serving in the U.S. Army during World War II.

Roger D. Connor, a member of the faculty of the Wolcott, Conn., Junior High School is a specialist in Indian lore, Woodcraft and Campcraft, and overall program planning. He will conduct workshops for staff members in outdoor activities, nature crafts, Indian lore, and preparation for sleepouts. Connor is currently a candidate for the master of education degree from the Central College of Connecticut. He has served seven years as program director in Jewish Community Center Day Camps, and this year will be a specialist in the Waterbury, Conn., YMCA camping program.

Camp Director Robert Kurland said that these specialists were volunteering their services this year to the local community in an effort to prepare camp staff members more thoroughly for their camp leadership roles.

A rush of registrations for the camp which opens on July 2 has indicated a need for two more counselors. College students, graduates or teachers who are interested in working at Camp Jay Cee Cee this season are invited to contact Kurland between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Camp Jay Cee Cee is sponsored by the Kingston Jewish Community Center on a 124 acre campsite on top of Old Hurley Mountain. The camp has a large outdoor swimming pool, spacious pavillion, bunkhouses, modern sanitary facilities, office and infirmary. Chartered buses pick up and deliver children and staff members from various convenient points throughout Kingston daily.

They Stretch and Stretch

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—How far will a rubber band stretch?

Giant versions, which look like the ordinary office rubber band, but are six feet long, are now being used in industry warehouses and shipping rooms, reports President Clyde O. DeLong of B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Co. They will stretch 18 feet.

The king-size bands were developed to hold cartons together in stacks so they won't slip or tumble when being loaded, DeLong says.

Deadline Dates Given on Housing Loans for Vets

Many veterans of World War 2 eligible for G. I. Loans have until July 25 to take advantage of the GI Housing Program. In some cases, WW 2 veterans entitlement will not expire until July 25, 1965, Charles Culver, NYS Veteran Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs and John Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, said today.

Eligible Korean veterans have until Jan. 31, 1965 to exercise their entitlement to a Government guaranteed or insured loan, but again some Korean veterans will have until Jan. 31, 1975 to take advantage of this benefit, they continued.

Both World War 2 and Korean veterans who have existing GI Loans, but who would find it necessary to dispose of their present holdings and move elsewhere, under certain conditions, can obtain a new loan, Culver and Tyler further said.

Those who have any questions about the provisions of the G. I. loan program may obtain expert counseling and assistance from Culver or Tyler, 32 Main Street Monday through Friday.

Star Array Set For Saugerties Circus on July 21

Stars from 18 nations will provide a thrilling variety of circus acts in the three-rings of Mills Bros., coming to Saugerties July 21 under the sponsorship of C. A. Lynch Fire Company and Washington Hook and Ladder Company of Saugerties.

There will be two performances at the Knaust lot, end of Market Street in the village, at 2 and 8 p. m.

The fire companies will receive 50 per cent of the proceeds which will go toward the Christmas candy fund and other charities supported by the volunteer firemen.

Mandeville Diaz, Lynch company president and general chairman of the project said the fund will derive the largest amount of money from advance ticket sales. The advance tickets are sold at reduced prices.

Tickets are available from any local volunteer fireman or at various locations in the village, Diaz said.

The 23rd anniversary edition of Mills Bros. circus brings to Saugerties many new and novel acts, including a steel arena filled with African lions; the great Ruwills with a daring foot-perch balancing act; Professor Charles and his educated chimpanzees, and from Saudi Arabia, Capt. John Herriott and his trained camels, llamas and pony.

An outstanding feature of the show will be the elephant ballet.

Summer Debuts On Damp Note In East States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Summer makes its debut under sunny skies in most areas of the nation today. Showers marring its arrival dampened the Atlantic Coast states.

The last full day of spring scattered rain in the East and Southeast. Most fell along a week cool front stretching from the Carolinas to the New Orleans area.

Miami measured 1.67 inches Wednesday, Brookley Air Force Base near Mobile, Ala., had 1.28 inches and almost 2 inches in a 6-hour period soaked Flat Top, W. Va.

The weather continued hot and dry during the night in the nation's southwest quarter, a preview of the summer season that begins today at 4:24 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Nighttime readings in the 80s were common.

The mercury rose Wednesday to 11 at Yuma and Gila Bend, Ariz., and Needles, Calif. It was 105 in Las Vegas and 109 in Phoenix.

Some violent weather was reported in the Plain states. An airline pilot reported a tornado 60 miles southeast of Dickinson, N.D. Other twister reports came from Pierre, S.D., and Kimball, Sidney and Gurley, Neb.

Temperatures early today were in the cool 40s in the northern Great Lakes region and in the mild 50s and 60s in most of the rest of the nation outside the warm Southwest. The Weather Bureau reported a morning low of 37 at Marquette, Mich., and a high of 95 at Blythe, Calif.

Postman Braves Rain In His Swim Trunks

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)— Postman William Bucklin braved the rains Wednesday in completing his appointed rounds—but not until he finally resorted to swim trunks.

Bucklin, 20, started his day in full uniform. He got soaked in a matter of minutes, went home, and donned his only spare uniform.

The rains continued. He again went home and this time chose the trunks. The latter, he said, matched his postal hat pretty close.

Customer reaction to his third ensemble, he said, was mixed. Some liked it, some didn't and some called his boss to report that Bucklin was not only out of uniform but in hardly anything else.

Reserve Decision On Pilch Motion To Withdraw Plea

Decision on a defense motion to withdraw pleas of guilty previously entered by Walter E. Pilch, 39, former Staatsburg and Rhinebeck resident, was reserved Wednesday by Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz.

Pilch was indicted on 16 counts in five indictments. He was accused of abducting a 14-year-old Town of Poughkeepsie girl, abandonment of two children, third degree burglary, second degree assualt, unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, first and second degree grand larceny, petty larceny, forgery second degree.

Henry Hirschberg, Newburgh attorney and former Orange County district attorney, made the motion on behalf of Pilch, explaining that he was retained by the defendant June 12 after the guilty pleas were made.

Hirschberg contended Pilch is innocent of the charges and requested a trial. The motion was opposed by District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta.

Avoids Animal on 209, Loses Control of Car

A 39-year-old Kerhonkson man avoided hitting an unidentified animal shortly after 1 a. m. today on Route 209, Kerhonkson, but lost control of his car.

Trooper Joseph Ellsworth, Elenville, said Hyman Carmel, of Kerhonkson, was driving north on Route 209, south of Route 44-55 at 1:05 a. m. when an animal darted in the path of his car.

Carmel swerved and avoided the animal. His car left the highway and went on a lawn in front of a residence.

Four Cops Deny Beating of Man

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Four policemen say an out-of-state Negro who claims he was beaten after his arrest on a disorderly conduct charge had watering and swollen eyes when he was booked.

Samuel E. Clark, 39, a Stratford, Conn., postal employe has charged that a policeman slapped him "with a terrific wallop across the eyes," that he was punched in the stomach, and that his bare foot was "stomped on" after his arrest here Memorial Day.

But four policemen who were in the station when Clark was brought in to be booked all denied at a hearing before Police Commissioner James A. Kirwin Wednesday that Clark had been beaten.

After his release in bail, Clark was admitted to a hospital for six days.

The last full day of spring scattered rain in the East and Southeast. Most fell along a week cool front stretching from the Carolinas to the New Orleans area.

Miami measured 1.67 inches Wednesday, Brookley Air Force Base near Mobile, Ala., had 1.28 inches and almost 2 inches in a 6-hour period soaked Flat Top, W. Va.

The weather continued hot and dry during the night in the nation's southwest quarter, a preview of the summer season that begins today at 4:24 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Nighttime readings in the 80s were common.

The mercury rose Wednesday to 11 at Yuma and Gila Bend, Ariz., and Needles, Calif. It was 105 in Las Vegas and 109 in Phoenix.

Some violent weather was reported in the Plain states. An airline pilot reported a tornado 60 miles southeast of Dickinson, N.D. Other twister reports came from Pierre, S.D., and Kimball, Sidney and Gurley, Neb.

Temperatures early today were in the cool 40s in the northern Great Lakes region and in the mild 50s and 60s in most of the rest of the nation outside the warm Southwest. The Weather Bureau reported a morning low of 37 at Marquette, Mich., and a high of 95 at Blythe, Calif.

Postman Braves Rain In His Swim Trunks

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)— Postman William Bucklin braved the rains Wednesday in completing his appointed rounds—but not until he finally resorted to swim trunks.

Bucklin, 20, started his day in full uniform. He got soaked in a matter of minutes, went home, and donned his only spare uniform.

The rains continued. He again went home and this time chose the trunks. The latter, he said, matched his postal hat pretty close.

Customer reaction to his third ensemble, he said, was mixed. Some liked it, some didn't and some called his boss to report that Bucklin was not only out of uniform but in hardly anything else.

Avoids Animal on 209, Loses Control of Car

Four Cops Deny Beating of Man

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Four policemen say an out-of-state Negro who claims he was beaten after his arrest on a disorderly conduct charge had watering and swollen eyes when he was booked.

Samuel E. Clark, 39, a Stratford, Conn., postal employe has charged that a policeman slapped him "with a terrific wallop across the eyes," that he was punched in the stomach, and that his bare foot was "stomped on" after his arrest here Memorial Day.

But four policemen who were in the station when Clark was brought in to be booked all denied at a hearing before Police Commissioner James A. Kirwin Wednesday that Clark had been beaten.

After his release in bail, Clark was admitted to a hospital for six days.

Kenneth Blundell conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Stephen Martello, and introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Sister Marie Loretta, administrator of the Child Evaluation Clinic of St. Vincent's Hospital.

Rank Doesn't Count

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—At the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, a lieutenant can tell a colonel: "I don't agree with you."

The Institute offers officers advanced training in engineering, logistics, installations engineering and business. Officers of all ranks mix and argue in class, and one instructor says: "There are strong disagreements and rank doesn't enter into this at all."

Angry Bulldozer Operator Plows Up LL Diamond

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An angry bulldozer operator, who contended he wasn't paid enough for work he did on a Little League baseball field, interrupted a league game with his machine Wednesday night.

He dropped the blade near second base and pushed up a mound of earth halfway to home plate.

"There, that'll show you," he said.

The boys had been led from the field by their managers, John Fuller and Marion Estes, as the tractor moved in from center field.

"It caught us all by surprise," Estes said.

Police said no charges were placed against the bulldozer operator, who was not identified.

League officials say they agreed to pay the man $175 for work on the field, but he asked $350. He said it took him longer than he expected.

CubansHaveFight In New York City Over Castro Views

NEW YORK (AP) — Several hundred Cubans, for and against Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, battled sporadically for three hours outside a meeting hall on Wednesday night. Two Molotov cocktails were tossed but did no damage.

During the melee, a dummy likeness of Castro was trampled and burned.

Six men were arrested on charges of unlawful assembly, malicious mischief and violation of the Sullivan (anti-weapons) law.

One man was stabbed but he fled the scene in a taxi. Several men were taken to hospitals with head, leg and arm bruises.

The disturbance began after the "Cuban American Civil Rights Committee" met at Palm Gardens on West 52nd street "to protest the persecution of Cuban Americans who favor the Castro government."

Anti-Castro Cubans gathered outside. The riot started when several men left the hall to rebuke the crowd for shouting "Down with Castro!"

Kenneth Blundell conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Stephen Martello, and introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Sister Marie Loretta, administrator of the Child Evaluation Clinic of St. Vincent's Hospital.

Sister Loretta dealt with the problems of adolescence, stressing the point that youth at this period needs a greater feeling of security but at the same time is seeking independence. She encouraged the parents to invite confidence from their children, without being domineering in their control.

A question and answer period followed, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Theresa Fesce and a committee of the seventh grade mothers.

Rank Doesn't Count

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—At the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, a lieutenant can tell a colonel: "I don't agree with you."

The Institute offers officers advanced training in engineering, logistics, installations engineering and business. Officers of all ranks mix and argue in class, and one instructor says: "There are strong disagreements and rank doesn't enter into this at all."

Angry Bulldozer Operator Plows Up LL Diamond

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An angry bulldozer operator, who contended he wasn't paid enough for work he did on a Little League baseball field, interrupted a league game with his machine Wednesday night.

He dropped the blade near second base and pushed up a mound of earth halfway to home plate.

"There, that'll show you," he said.

The boys had been led from the field by their managers, John Fuller and Marion Estes, as the tractor moved in from center field.

"It caught us all by surprise," Estes said.

Police said no charges were placed against the bulldozer operator, who was not identified.

League officials say they agreed to pay the man $175 for work on the field, but he asked $350. He said it took him longer than he expected.

CubansHaveFight In New York City Over Castro Views

NEW YORK (AP) — Several hundred Cubans, for and against Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, battled sporadically for three hours outside a meeting hall on Wednesday night. Two Molotov cocktails were tossed but did no damage.

During the melee, a dummy likeness of Castro was trampled and burned.

Six men were arrested on charges of unlawful assembly, malicious mischief and violation of the Sullivan (anti-weapons) law.

One man was stabbed but he fled the scene in a taxi. Several men were taken to hospitals with head, leg and arm bruises.

The disturbance began after the "Cuban American Civil Rights Committee" met at Palm Gardens on West 52nd street "to protest the persecution of Cuban Americans who favor the Castro government."

Anti-Castro Cubans gathered outside. The riot started when several men left the hall to rebuke the crowd for shouting "Down with Castro!"

Farm Bill May Pass House Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders hope to push through the administration's controversial farm bill late today by the margin of a few votes.

Two days of acrimonious debate ended Wednesday and the long process of amendment began, with 15 voted on before the House quit for the day.

Sometime today a test vote is likely to come on a key Republican amendment to substitute for the entire bill a mere extension of the present voluntary wheat and feed grain programs.

Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma said Wednesday night he believed he had enough votes to win.

Democratic members of the agriculture committee Wednesday started offering a long list of "acceptable" amendments designed to make the bill conform to the already passed Senate version, which is not quite as harsh. It is on these amendments that Albert based his hope of attracting enough support to get it through.

But none of these amendments strips out the basic fundamentals of the bill, which are mandatory acreage reductions for wheat and feed grains, with strict penalties for overplanting.

Two Returned to Prison

Allen Walker, who is serving a 5 to 10 year term in Clinton State Prison, was returned to Dannemora Tuesday by Deputy Sheriffs Jack Seaholm and Emil Kunhen after appearing in County Court where Walker was given a year suspended jail sentence for forgery. He is now serving time on another forgery charge.

Also returned to Clinton Prison to continue serving a term was Harold Quick, who had been returned to Ulster County to testify in the John Bernard Ferraro burglary case. Ferraro was found guilty of burglary in connection with the entrance to the J. B. Back Cigar factory in January 1961. He will be sentenced Monday.

Weekly Publishers To Study Techniques

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association will sponsor a tour of its weekly members next month to help them become better acquainted with new printing techniques.

The association said Wednesday representatives of the weekly papers will gather in Williamsport July 19.

The group will have breakfast Friday morning, July 2, as guests of the Williamsport Sun-Gazette, then travel by chartered bus to Corning, N.Y., for lunch and a tour of the Corning Glass Center.

Discussions and demonstrations of latest printing equipment and processes will be held July 21 at the Graphics Art Center of the Rochester Institute of Technology, in Rochester, N.Y.

The editors will return to Williamsport Sunday, July 22.

Hillsdale Couple Accepts $238,750 Award for Crash

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — A man and his wife injured in a traffic accident last July have agreed to accept a $238,750 out-of-court settlement of their $1,925,000 suit for damages.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Winant of nearby Hillsdale agreed to the settlement Wednesday in the case that arose from the collision of their automobile and a cement truck.

The defendants were Everett Rental Co., owner of the truck, Chemical Tank Lines and Raymond Snyder of Saugerties, the truck driver.

Winant and his wife were hospitalized for more than 100 days as a result of the accident on Route 23 east of here. Winant lost a leg.

Snyder was fined $100 for reckless driving.

Deaths

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Mario Crespi, co-owner of Corriere Della Sera, widely regarded as Italy's most influential newspaper, died Wednesday after a long illness.

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)— Maurice T. (Moe) Reilly, executive vice president since 1953 of Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, Inc., died Wednesday after a long illness. Reilly, who was 61, was on the Chicago Tribune staff from 1928 until he took the syndicate post.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. John L. DeWitt, Ret., commander during World War II of the Western Defense Command died Wednesday of a heart ailment. DeWitt, who retired in 1944 after 49 years in the Army, was 82.

Gallagher With Fleet

Vincent A. Gallagher, aviation machinist's mate seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent A. Gallagher of Kerhonkson, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Purdy, operating as a unit of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

A new depth record for escape from a submerged submarine was set in May 1961 off Key West, Fla. Using a new apparatus two officers escaped from the submarine "Balao" in 318 feet of water. They reached surface in only 55 seconds.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Well-written, meaningful dramas, impeccably performed by fine actors, have been rare indeed during this television season. But Wednesday night's CBS "The First Day," more than made up for many long hours of tedious mediocrity and trivia.

The original play by Roger Hirson was a quietly powerful and shrewdly observant story about the reaction of family and friends to a not-so-young school teacher returning to home and—hopefully—job after three months in a mental institution.

Margaret Leighton, an actress of vast skill, played the teacher with understanding and insight, carrying the viewer with her through a triumphant struggle with the doubts, fears and nervousness of her family and associates. Ralph Bellamy, playing the well-intentioned but uncomprehending father, was also just right—but then so were all the players.

The teacher's fumbling but determined efforts to find her own life made not only a gripping hour of television but shed some interesting light on shattering, cooly-cruel attitudes toward convalescent and recovered mental patients.

CBS, as a special gift to its New York City area viewers, is knocking off its re-runs tonight in order to broadcast a 2½-hour tape production of "The Merchant of Venice"—and without commercial interruptions, too.

There are indications that some daytime shows—game programs and one serial—may be among the missing when fall comes to the television networks. Among those whose future currently looks dark are Jan Murray's show, "Camouflage" and "Window Shopping." "Our Five Daughters," a sudsy newcomer, is also reported to be shaky.

If American housewives showed as much affection for their husbands as the television housewives do for their favorite bar or box of soap, and as much concern for hubby's opinion as they do for "The Girls" opinion about their stained sinks, the divorce rate would drop like recent stock prices.

Recommended tonight: "Dr. Kildare," NBC, 8:30-9:30 (Eastern Daylight Time) — Probably the best show on an evening comprised totally of network repeats.

Kennedy to Greet Bighearted Class

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, who has asked sacrifices from the nation, greets today 33 teen-agers who were willing to sacrifice their senior trip to help a classmate.

The visit with Kennedy climaxes a three-day tour of Washington by the 1962 graduates of Michigan's Glen Lake Community High School whose selflessness was rewarded with a red-carpet tour of the capital.

The 21 boys and 12 girls earned national acclaim this month when the word spread that they had voted to turn over $700 in class funds—earmarked for the traditional Washington trip—to classmate and star athlete Duane Richardson, 17.

Richardson has cancer. His classmates decided to help pay the medical bills.

But Washington heard about the big-hearted youngsters from the upper reaches of Lower Michigan and decided they should have their class trip. Funds came in from many sources — including senators, representatives and a local radio station.

Richardson, who is given a favorable prognosis for recovery, was with the group and raring to go.

"There are so many things—the White House, the President. It's incredible," he said. "We're really looking forward to it."

Jurors Support Bill in Congress To Exempt Pay

A bill which would exempt payments for jury duty from being computed in figuring income for purposes of payment of pensions and for other purposes is supported by the Association of Grand Jurors of Ulster County.

The stand was reported today by Thomas J. Murphy, president of the AGJ.

The measure is now before Congress.

A letter for support of the bill has been forwarded to Congressman J. Ernest Wharton and also urges his personal support of the measure.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Well-written, meaningful dramas, impeccably performed by fine actors, have been rare indeed during this television season. But Wednesday night's CBS "The First Day," more than made up for many long hours of tedious mediocrity and trivia.

The original play by Roger Hirson was a quietly powerful and shrewdly observant story about the reaction of family and friends to a not-so-young school teacher returning to home and—hopefully—job after three months in a mental institution.

Margaret Leighton, an actress of vast skill, played the teacher with understanding and insight, carrying the viewer with her through a triumphant struggle with the doubts, fears and nervousness of her family and associates. Ralph Bellamy, playing the well-intentioned but uncomprehending father, was also just right—but then so were all the players.

The teacher's fumbling but determined efforts to find her own life made not only a gripping hour of television but shed some interesting light on shattering, cooly-cruel attitudes toward convalescent and recovered mental patients.

CBS, as a special gift to its New York City area viewers, is knocking off its re-runs tonight in order to broadcast a 2½-hour tape production of "The Merchant of Venice"—and without commercial interruptions, too.

There are indications that some daytime shows—game programs and one serial—may be among the missing when fall comes to the television networks. MAVERICK SOLOIST: One of the world's greatest young violinists, Sidney Harth, will appear in a pre-seasonal concert Sunday at Maverick Hall. He has just returned from Puerto Rico where he was concert master for the famed Casals Festival.

Sidney Harth, Alex Semmler In Sunday Maverick Concert

A concert of major importance, performed by two internationally known artists, will be given as a pre-seasonal concert at Maverick Hall in Woodstock, Sunday, June 24, at 3 p. m.

Presented by the Woodstock Festival Committee, pianist Alexander Semmler and violinist Sidney Harth will play the famous Beethoven Sonata in C Minor; Brahms' Sonata in D Minor and Semmler's own Sonata for violin and Piano, Op. 15

Sidney Harth, who has just returned from the Cassals Festival in Puerto Rico, where he was concert master, has been hailed by critics in Belgium, Poland and Yugoslavia as a virtuoso of first rank, and by Howard Taubman of the New York Times as "one of the most important young violinists of our time." He was born in Cleveland in 1925, studied with Misbel Piastro, Leon Barzin and Georges Enesco. He has toured Europe many times and been concert master of the Louisville Orchestra and the Chicago Symphony.

Played With Greats

At the Prades Festival in 1950 he played in the company of Serkin, Szigeti, Stern and Horszowski and, in 1957, won high honors at the Wieniawski Competition in Poland where the Polish papers reported that "the rafters rang as the audiences applauded him their favorite."

Woodstock audiences do not need to be reminded that in 1952, Harth was leader of the Woodstock String Quartet.

Alex Semmler, who has been program director of the Maverick Summer Concerts since 1955, wrote his Sonata in Berlin where he was American Administrator of the RIAS Music Department in 1952. Three years ago it was performed by John Corigliano, concertmaster of the Philharmonic in New York and it was called by violinist Arthur Hartman, "one of the two or three most exciting experiences in my life."

Semmler has toured South America and Europe extensively and is ofen heard live and on records on radio and television.

The concert is being given for the benefit of the Maverick.

Street Signs to Be Completed by Private Firm

The perennial problem of completing the street signs project in Woodstock township was resolved at this week's meeting of the Woodstock Town Board.

Supervisor Molyneaux informed the board that a private contractor would be hired to install the remainder of the signs.

The project has been dragging some three years and was the outgrowth of the advent of first class mail service in Woodstock.

It was originally announced that employes of the town highway department under Superintendent Cashdollar would set up the signs in the off season and in spare moments. The project, however, was not completed this spring and the highway department is now at its peak season of road repairs.

Following three years of delays it was decided to hire an outside firm and get the perennial project completed. The number of signs remaining to be set up was not revealed.

The board filed an application for plat approval submitted by William Whitney.

The board meeting was delayed until nearly 9 p. m. because of an unusually long executive session. Present at the meeting besides Supervisor Molyneaux were Councilman William West Jr. and Justices of the Peace Rudi Baumgarten and Charles A. Farley. Councilman John Pike, who is on a business trip was absent.

Board Sets New Regulations On Littering and Loitering

A resolution setting forth regulations on littering and loitering at three Woodstock township park sites was unanimously adopted by the Woodstock Town Board Tuesday night.

The three areas affected are the Village Green, Mallory Grove and the so-called "Big Deep" which was deeded to the town by Mrs. Zulma Parker several months ago.

The resolution, offered by Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux, stipulated that there shall be no loitering at any of these three places between the hours of 12 midnight and 7 a. m. Persons using the sites also must remove their own litter, if litter baskets are not available. The state law on littering will be invoked, it was said.

Organizational camping permits for Mallory Grove and the Big Deep will be available at town hall. Individuals will not be permitted to camp at these sites.

Persons who violate the new regulations will be liable to arrest and fines.

It was also announced that in the future no signs or billboards will be permitted on the Village Green without the permission of the Town Board and the Dutch Reformed Church.

Traffic Report

The township's efforts to have traffic lights installed at key intersections have again been rejected by the State Traffic Commission, the supervisor told the board.

A representative of the commission recently spent an afternoon in Woodstock checking the traffic flow at key sectors. Following the survey, he informed local officials that he would not recommend the installation of traffic lights and doubted if the State Traffic Commission would approve an application for a light, even at the potentially dangerous intersection of Route 375 and 212, at the entrance to the village.

It was announced at the meeting, however, that the board would petition the state commission for permission to install stop signs at key intersections and fix a speed limit for the Woodstock Gardens area.

Praises Harmony Of Sportsmen And Landowners

The following letter has been submitted for publication by Ella R. Schwabe and Carl W. Schwabe of Bearsville:

"We wish to express publicly our most profound gratitude to the Wittenberg Sportsman's Club in Bearsville for their most delicious family-style landowners' dinner given last Saturday evening at their clubhouse on Yankee Pond Road.

"Although the excellent dinner, roast beef with all the trimmings, cooked by the sportsmen themselves in their spacious kitchen and served by them in their large hall (which was filled to capacity) was most praiseworthy, the friendly atmosphere which prevailed among the sportsmen and invited guests was a treat in itself and made one happy and proud to live in such a community.

"What were the motives behind this get-together? No joining of the club. No collection. Just a fostering of good relations between the landowners and the sportsmen in this area. In the words of their letter of invitation: "As more lands disappear through highway construction, new shopping centers and public work projects, a great need arises for closer harmony with the private landowner and those who desire to benefit from his holdings for their recreation."

We were assured by looking at the radiant faces that a good time was had by all and the neighborly spirit of mutual help and understanding, so essential these days in a world torn by misunderstanding, stood out like "a light shining in the darkness.'"

Taxpayer Group Seeks Ruling On Board Action

The Woodstock Town Board has taken under advisement a request from the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association seeking to clarify the legal significance of action by members of the town Planning Board in the recent litigation involving Ulster Homes, Inc. and the so-called Streamside Terrace project.

The WTTA expresses concern over reports that members of the Planning Board were sued individually along with the Board as an entity and then paid for legal services out of their own pocket.

The WTTA inquires if this does not establish a dangerous precedent and might tend to discourage qualified persons from accepting appointment to the board in the future. The association letter requests that the Town Board furnish it with a legal interpretation of all factors involved in the recent pretrial examination between the Board and Ulster Homes.

Supervisor Molyneaux notified the taxpayer group the Town Board would take the letter under advisement and reply by the next board meeting.

The letter follows.

"I have been informed by a member of the Woodstock Planning Board that the recent dispute concerning plat approval to Mr. Hendrick Wolters' development has incurred no cost to Woodstock taxpayers. As the WPB is part of Woodstock's official family, I questioned this and was told the complaint was against the individual members and not the WPB and that said members are paying all costs out of their collective pockets.

A recent examination of the complaint instituted by Mr. Walters does indeed name individual board members, but it also lists the Woodstock Town Board. With this in mind, I ask the following questions:

1. Is the Woodstock Planning Board, acting on behalf of all Woodstock residents, liable for costs incurred because of this action and if not, why not.

2. If the W.P.B. and the town are not liable for these costs, then it follows that individual members are personally liable for their official actions as members of this body? Is this true?

3. If an individual, acting in good faith, as an official appointed by this board to the Woodstock Planning Board must heat these and any future pre-trial and trial costs because of his official position and decisions; I ask, is this establishing a detrimental precedent for community minded citizens not financially independent but, who may wish to serve on the Woodstock Planning Board in the future?

Realizing the remifications of these questions to the community as a whole and specifically to citizens who may wish to serve on the planning board, we respectfully request a written answer by the 13th of July.

Respectfully submitted for the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association . . . LAWRENCE G. CASEY, Vice President."

League Display At Orange Bank

Because of the debate in Congress on June 25 on the new Trade Expansion Act of 1962, the Foreign Economic Policy Committee of the Woodstock League of Women Voters has arranged an interesting exhibit in the Bank of Orange County show window this week, pertaining to World Trade.

Items of export and import from and to the United States are shown.

Material for the exhibit was loaned to the committee by Miss Pam Copeland of Anne's Delicatessen, Mrs. Shea of the Hilda Lightstone Shop, the McLean Syntorque Corporation of Woodstock and the Natural History Museum of New York City.

West Berlin's 8,400-acre Grunewald Park, once a royal hunting ground, provides a haven for wild boar, deer, fox and weasel —as well as hikers, picnickers and horseback riders.

Seaway, Canal Traffic ReportedBeingHeavier

OTTAWA (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway officials report that traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the waterway and through the Welland Canal in April and May is up significantly over the corresponding period last year.

The heavier traffic is a result of the late opening of the Seaway this year and large increases in upbound shipments of iron ore and in general cargo, they said Wednesday.

Traffic through the Welland Canal for the two months this year was 11.6 per cent higher than for April and May of 1961, they said. Traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the Seaway was 4.5 per cent higher for the two months this year.

The greatest recorded flood disaster occurred in 1887 when China's Yellow River overflowed, killing an estimated 900,000 people.

New Art Gallery Opens Saturday; Three-Man Show

A new gallery, the High Woods Studio of Contemporary Art, will open for the summer months on Saturday. Located at the Lokos property alongside the Church Road connecting High Woods and Zena, the gallery will be open daily from 12 noon until 7 p. m.

The opening exhibition will be a three-man show featuring the work of two painters and a sculptor, all of whom work in the abstract to non-objective idiom. The artists to be represented are Stefan Lokos of High Woods, painter; Philip Schreibman of New York City, painter; and Jean Wrolsen of High Woods, sculptor.

Mr. Lokos, born in Hungary in 1913, studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Budapest (1933-37). After World War II he lived and worked in Austria, Italy, the Middle East and Germany and finally reached the United States in 1954. He is now a United States citizen. Mr. Lokos exhibits regularly at the Silvermine Guild of Artists, New Caanan, Conn., where he has had a one-man show, and has also exhibited in the Eastern States Exhibition, Springfield, Mass., the Audubon Annual, and at Farleigh Dickinson University, as well as in various regional shows. He is also an accomplished violinist.

Philip Schreibman, recipient of the Emily Lowe Award in 1961, was born in Boston, Mass. in 1925. He studied at the Art Students League in New York and has exhibited in the Eastern States Exhibition, Springfield, Mass., the Portland, Maine Museum, in Rhode Island, and in New York City galleries.

Jean Wrolsen, born in Cumberland, Md., in 1920, studied at the Corcoran School of Art, Washington, D. C., the Art Students League, New York City, and with sculptors Jose de Creeft in New York and Harvey Fite at Bard College. A member of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen and the Woodstock Art Association, she has exhibited in group shows in Woodstock, Albany, Baltimore and New York.

MRS. GEORGE C. BROWN

Margaret Freese, George Brown Exchange Vows at First Methodist Church, Conn.

On June 2 at 4:30 p. m., Miss Margaret Ann Freese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Freese of 41 Mountford Street, Bridgeport, Conn., exchanged marriage vows with George Cormack Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Greenwich, Conn., at the First Methodist Church, Bridgeport. The Rev. Dr. William H. Anderson, pastor, officiated at the candlelight ceremony. The church was decorated with white snapdragons, peonies and woodwardia ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Freese are former residents of Kingston, N. Y.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore white silk organza and Alencon lace designed with a scalloped portrait neckline outlined with lace, short sleeves, a bow at the waistline and a full skirt with panels of Alencon lace appliques and a chapel train. She wore a veil of Belgian lace arranged in Mantilla style and carried a bouquet of cymbidium orchids, white heather lilies of the valley and ivy.

Serving as matron of honor, Mrs. Conrad Stahl, wore a ballerina gown of white over blue silk organza, accented with a deeper blue sash. Her floral headdress matched her gown and she carried a bouquet of deep blue cornflowers, lilies of the valley, gypsophilia and ivy. The other attendants, Mrs. Frank Accurso Jr., Miss Marilyn Brown, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Robert Lown of Kingston, N. Y., were gowned similarly to that worn by the matron of honor.

The flower girl, Cheryl Lee Freese, niece of the bride, wore white over blue organdy with blue corn flowers in her hair. She carried lilies of the valley and ivy.

A reception was given in the Fountain Room of the Fairfield Motor Inn, Fairfield, Conn., after which the couple left for the Pocono Mountains. They will live in Greenwich.

Mrs. Brown was graduated from Bassick High School and Greenwich Hospital School of Nursing. She is attending the University of Bridgeport and is an assistant evening supervisor in Greenwich Hospital.

Mr. Brown was graduated from Greenwich High School and is attending the University of Bridgeport where he is president of Kappa Beta Rho fraternity.

Hudson Valley Philharmonic Schedules Competition; Receives $5,000 Grant

The Hudson Valley Philharmonic has announced that its 1962-63 New York State Competition for young musicians will be held on October 20 at Skinner Hall, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie. Applications for entry must be mailed no later than July 1. All applicants must be legal residents of New York State and studying music in the state.

It was also announced that the Philharmonic has received a grant of $5,000 from the New York State Council on the Arts, with the stipulation that it be used to give concerts in smaller communities of the Hudson Valley, and not for the regular concert season's scheduled series.

To Extend Activities

According to John H. MacFayden, executive director of the state council, "the sum of $5,000 has been earmarked for the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society with the provision that this money be used for extending the activities of the orchestra outside the cities of Poughkeepsie, Kingston and Newburgh. It is the council's intention that these funds be used to bring your orchestra into communities in your general area which, for one reason or another, are deprived of the opportunity to hear top quality symphonies. This is in line with the Council's policy of extending audiences and raising standards."

This grant will open up an entirely new activity for the Philharmonic, bringing concerts with a smaller orchestra than the Philharmonic's usual 70-80 musicians, to small towns in widely scattered parts of the Hudson Valley in the 1962-63 season.

Young Musicians

For the young musicians competition, applications may be procured from Mrs. Peter McComb, 27 Hornbeck Ridge, Poughkeepsie, or Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Kingston.

Categories included in the competition are violin, viola and cello. The competition is divided into two sections:

Group I, for applicants between 18 and 25 years of age, who will be competing for a $400 cash award and the "Betty Friedman Memorial Award" of $200. The latter award is limited to residents of Orange, Ulster, or Dutchess Counties. Under certain conditions of financial need, the Friedman Award may be $400. A winner in this group will have the opportunity to appear in a minimum of two performances with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra.

Group II, for music students under 18, who will compete for a $100 cash award, a minimum of one performance with the Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra, and the "Betty Friedman Award" of $50 for residents of Orange, Ulster, or Dutchess Counties. If there is financial need, the latter award may be $100.

Applicants will be required to perform from memory one complete concerto to be chosen from the following repetoire list; violin — works by Bach, Mozart, or Haydn; viola — works by Handel, Telemann, or Rolla; cello — works by Boccherini, or Haydn. Each applicant will also be required to perform an unaccompanied selection of his own choice and one sonata with piano.

Guest speakers included A. Banyo, trustee and supervisor of the Town of Ulster, who spoke on education and the community; J. McGregor, trustee, who spoke on education and the family; and A. Daly, manager of education of IBM, Kingston, who spoke on education and industry. E. Devine, retiring president of the Holy Name Society, was master of ceremonies. Among the guests introduced were the Rev. Bernard Gerrity, assistant pastor, R. Campbell, incoming president of the Holy Name Society; Mrs. J. McNierney, president of the Altar and Rosary Society; and H. Brink of Lake Katrine.

More than 200 people attended the ceremony and were guided through the new school by members of the Holy Name Society. Refreshments were served by the members of the Altar and Rosary Society.

MAVERICK SOLOIST: One of the world's greatest young violinists, Sidney Harth, will appear in a pre-seasonal concert Sunday at Maverick Hall. He has just returned from Puerto Rico where he was concert master for the famed Casals Festival.

Sidney Harth, Alex Semmler In Sunday Maverick Concert

A concert of major importance, performed by two internationally known artists, will be given as a pre-seasonal concert at Maverick Hall in Woodstock, Sunday, June 24, at 3 p. m.

Presented by the Woodstock Festival Committee, pianist Alexander Semmler and violinist Sidney Harth will play the famous Beethoven Sonata in C Minor; Brahms' Sonata in D Minor and Semmler's own Sonata for violin and Piano, Op. 15

Sidney Harth, who has just returned from the Cassals Festival in Puerto Rico, where he was concert master, has been hailed by critics in Belgium, Poland and Yugoslavia as a virtuoso of first rank, and by Howard Taubman of the New York Times as "one of the most important young violinists of our time." He was born in Cleveland in 1925, studied with Misbel Piastro, Leon Barzin and Georges Enesco. He has toured Europe many times and been concert master of the Louisville Orchestra and the Chicago Symphony.

Played With Greats

At the Prades Festival in 1950 he played in the company of Serkin, Szigeti, Stern and Horszowski and, in 1957, won high honors at the Wieniawski Competition in Poland where the Polish papers reported that "the rafters rang as the audiences applauded him their favorite."

Woodstock audiences do not need to be reminded that in 1952, Harth was leader of the Woodstock String Quartet.

Alex Semmler, who has been program director of the Maverick Summer Concerts since 1955, wrote his Sonata in Berlin where he was American Administrator of the RIAS Music Department in 1952. Three years ago it was performed by John Corigliano, concertmaster of the Philharmonic in New York and it was called by violinist Arthur Hartman, "one of the two or three most exciting experiences in my life."

Semmler has toured South America and Europe extensively and is often heard live and on records on radio and television.

The concert is being given for the benefit of the Maverick.

Street Signs to Be Completed by Private Firm

The perennial problem of completing the street signs project in Woodstock township was resolved at this week's meeting of the Woodstock Town Board.

Supervisor Molyneaux informed the board that a private contractor would be hired to install the remainder of the signs.

The project has been dragging some three years and was the outgrowth of the advent of first class mail service in Woodstock.

It was originally announced that employes of the town highway department under Superintendent Cashdollar would set up the signs in the off season and in spare moments. The project, however, was not completed this spring and the highway department is now at its peak season of road repairs.

Following three years of delays it was decided to hire an outside firm and get the perennial project completed. The number of signs remaining to be set up was not revealed.

The board filed an application for plat approval submitted by William Whitney.

The board meeting was delayed until nearly 9 p. m. because of an unusually long executive session. Present at the meeting besides Supervisor Molyneaux were Councilman William West Jr. and Justices of the Peace Rudi Baumgarten and Charles A. Farley. Councilman John Pike, who is on a business trip was absent.

Board Sets New Regulations On Littering and Loitering

A resolution setting forth regulations on littering and loitering at three Woodstock township park sites was unanimously adopted by the Woodstock Town Board Tuesday night.

The three areas affected are the Village Green, Mallory Grove and the so-called "Big Deep" which was deeded to the town by Mrs. Zulma Parker several months ago.

The resolution, offered by Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux, stipulated that there shall be no loitering at any of these three places between the hours of 12 midnight and 7 a. m. Persons using the sites also must remove their own litter, if litter baskets are not available. The state law on littering will be invoked, it was said.

Organizational camping permits for Mallory Grove and the Big Deep will be available at town hall. Individuals will not be permitted to camp at these sites.

Persons who violate the new regulations will be liable to arrest and fines.

It was also announced that in the future no signs or billboards will be permitted on the Village Green without the permission of the Town Board and the Dutch Reformed Church.

Traffic Report

The township's efforts to have traffic lights installed at key intersections have again been rejected by the State Traffic Commission, the supervisor told the board.

A representative of the commission recently spent an afternoon in Woodstock checking the traffic flow at key sectors. Following the survey, he informed local officials that he would not recommend the installation of traffic lights and doubted if the State Traffic Commission would approve an application for a light, even at the potentially dangerous intersection of Route 375 and 212, at the entrance to the village.

It was announced at the meeting, however, that the board would petition the state commission for permission to install stop signs at key intersections and fix a speed limit for the Woodstock Gardens area.

Praises Harmony Of Sportsmen And Landowners

The following letter has been submitted for publication by Ella R. Schwabe and Carl W. Schwabe of Bearsville:

"We wish to express publicly our most profound gratitude to the Wittenberg Sportsman's Club in Bearsville for their most delicious family-style landowners' dinner given last Saturday evening at their clubhouse on Yankee Pond Road.

"Although the excellent dinner, roast beef with all the trimmings, cooked by the sportsmen themselves in their spacious kitchen and served by them in their large hall (which was filled to capacity) was most praiseworthy, the friendly atmosphere which prevailed among the sportsmen and invited guests was a treat in itself and made one happy and proud to live in such a community.

"What were the motives behind this get-together? No joining of the club. No collection. Just a fostering of good relations between the landowners and the sportsmen in this area. In the words of their letter of invitation: "As more lands disappear through highway construction, new shopping centers and public work projects, a great need arises for closer harmony with the private landowner and those who desire to benefit from his holdings for their recreation."

We were assured by looking at the radiant faces that a good time was had by all and the neighborly spirit of mutual help and understanding, so essential these days in a world torn by misunderstanding, stood out like "a light shining in the darkness.'"

Taxpayer Group Seeks Ruling On Board Action

The Woodstock Town Board has taken under advisement a request from the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association seeking to clarify the legal significance of action by members of the town Planning Board in the recent litigation involving Ulster Homes, Inc. and the so-called Streamside Terrace project.

The WTTA expresses concern over reports that members of the Planning Board were sued individually along with the Board as an entity and then paid for legal services out of their own pocket.

The WTTA inquires if this does not establish a dangerous precedent and might tend to discourage qualified persons from accepting appointment to the board in the future. The association letter requests that the Town Board furnish it with a legal interpretation of all factors involved in the recent pre-trial examination between the Board and Ulster Homes.

Supervisor Molyneaux notified the taxpayer group the Town Board would take the letter under advisement and reply by the next board meeting.

The letter follows.

"I have been informed by a member of the Woodstock Planning Board that the recent dispute concerning plat approval to Mr. Hendrick Wolters' development has incurred no cost to Woodstock taxpayers. As the WPB is part of Woodstock's official family, I questioned this and was told the complaint was against the individual members and not the WPB and that said members are paying all costs out of their collective pockets.

A recent examination of the complaint instituted by Mr. Walters does indeed name individual board members, but it also lists the Woodstock Town Board. With this in mind, I ask the following questions:

1. Is the Woodstock Planning Board, acting on behalf of all Woodstock residents, liable for costs incurred because of this action and if not, why not.

2. If the W.P.B. and the town are not liable for these costs, then it follows that individual members are personally liable for their official actions as members of this body? Is this true?

3. If an individual, acting in good faith, as an official appointed by this board to the Woodstock Planning Board must heat these and any future pre-trial and trial costs because of his official position and decisions; I ask, is this establishing a detrimental precedent for community minded citizens not financially independent but, who may wish to serve on the Woodstock Planning Board in the future?

Realizing the remifications of these questions to the community as a whole and specifically to citizens who may wish to serve on the planning board, we respectfully request a written answer by the 13th of July.

Respectfully submitted for the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association . . . LAWRENCE G. CASEY, Vice President."

League Display At Orange Bank

Because of the debate in Congress on June 25 on the new Trade Expansion Act of 1962, the Foreign Economic Policy Committee of the Woodstock League of Women Voters has arranged an interesting exhibit in the Bank of Orange County show window this week, pertaining to World Trade.

Items of export and import from and to the United States are shown.

Material for the exhibit was loaned to the committee by Miss Pam Copeland of Anne's Delicatessen, Mrs. Shea of the Hilda Lightstone Shop, the McLean Syntorque Corporation of Woodstock and the Natural History Museum of New York City.

West Berlin's 8,400-acre Grunewald Park, once a royal hunting ground, provides a haven for wild boar, deer, fox and weasel —as well as hikers, picnickers and horseback riders.

Seaway, Canal Traffic ReportedBeingHeavier

OTTAWA (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway officials report that traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the waterway and through the Welland Canal in April and May is up significantly over the corresponding period last year.

The heavier traffic is a result of the late opening of the Seaway this year and large increases in upbound shipments of iron ore and in general cargo, they said Wednesday.

Traffic through the Welland Canal for the two months this year was 11.6 per cent higher than for April and May of 1961, they said. Traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the Seaway was 4.5 per cent higher for the two months this year.

The greatest recorded flood disaster occurred in 1887 when China's Yellow River overflowed, killing an estimated 900,000 people.

The WTTA expresses concern over reports that members of the Planning Board were sued individually along with the Board as an entity and then paid for legal services out of their own pocket.

The WTTA inquires if this does not establish a dangerous precedent and might tend to discourage qualified persons from accepting appointment to the board in the future. The association letter requests that the Town Board furnish it with a legal interpretation of all factors involved in the recent pretrial examination between the Board and Ulster Homes.

Supervisor Molyneaux notified the taxpayer group the Town Board would take the letter under advisement and reply by the next board meeting.

The letter follows.

"I have been informed by a member of the Woodstock Planning Board that the recent dispute concerning plat approval to Mr. Hendrick Wolters' development has incurred no cost to Woodstock taxpayers. As the WPB is part of Woodstock's official family, I questioned this and was told the complaint was against the individual members and not the WPB and that said members are paying all costs out of their collective pockets.

A recent examination of the complaint instituted by Mr. Walters does indeed name individual board members, but it also lists the Woodstock Town Board. With this in mind, I ask the following questions:

1. Is the Woodstock Planning Board, acting on behalf of all Woodstock residents, liable for costs incurred because of this action and if not, why not.

2. If the W.P.B. and the town are not liable for these costs, then it follows that individual members are personally liable for their official actions as members of this body? Is this true?

3. If an individual, acting in good faith, as an official appointed by this board to the Woodstock Planning Board must heat these and any future pre-trial and trial costs because of his official position and decisions; I ask, is this establishing a detrimental precedent for community minded citizens not financially independent but, who may wish to serve on the Woodstock Planning Board in the future?

Realizing the remifications of these questions to the community as a whole and specifically to citizens who may wish to serve on the planning board, we respectfully request a written answer by the 13th of July.

Respectfully submitted for the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association . . . LAWRENCE G. CASEY, Vice President."

League Display At Orange Bank

Items of export and import from and to the United States are shown.

Material for the exhibit was loaned to the committee by Miss Pam Copeland of Anne's Delicatessen, Mrs. Shea of the Hilda Lightstone Shop, the McLean Syntorque Corporation of Woodstock and the Natural History Museum of New York City.

Seaway, Canal Traffic ReportedBeingHeavier

OTTAWA (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway officials report that traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the waterway and through the Welland Canal in April and May is up significantly over the corresponding period last year.

The heavier traffic is a result of the late opening of the Seaway this year and large increases in upbound shipments of iron ore and in general cargo, they said Wednesday.

Traffic through the Welland Canal for the two months this year was 11.6 per cent higher than for April and May of 1961, they said. Traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the Seaway was 4.5 per cent higher for the two months this year.

The greatest recorded flood disaster occurred in 1887 when China's Yellow River overflowed, killing an estimated 900,000 people.

Hudson Valley Philharmonic Schedules Competition; Receives $5,000 Grant

The Hudson Valley Philharmonic has announced that its 1962-63 New York State Competition for young musicians will be held on October 20 at Skinner Hall, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie. Applications for entry must be mailed no later than July 1. All applicants must be legal residents of New York State and studying music in the state.

It was also announced that the Philharmonic has received a grant of $5,000 from the New York State Council on the Arts, with the stipulation that it be used to give concerts in smaller communities of the Hudson Valley, and not for the regular concert season's scheduled series.

To Extend Activities

According to John H. MacFayden, executive director of the state council, "the sum of $5,000 has been earmarked for the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society with the provision that this money be used for extending the activities of the orchestra outside the cities of Poughkeepsie, Kingston and Newburgh. It is the council's intention that these funds be used to bring your orchestra into communities in your general area which, for one reason or another, are deprived of the opportunity to hear top quality symphonies. This is in line with the Council's policy of extending audiences and raising standards."

This grant will open up an entirely new activity for the Philharmonic, bringing concerts with a smaller orchestra than the Philharmonic's usual 70-80 musicians, to small towns in widely scattered parts of the Hudson Valley in the 1962-63 season.

Young Musicians

For the young musicians competition, applications may be procured from Mrs. Peter McComb, 27 Hornbeck Ridge, Poughkeepsie, or Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Kingston.

Categories included in the competition are violin, viola and cello. The competition is divided into two sections:

Group I, for applicants between 18 and 25 years of age, who will be competing for a $400 cash award and the "Betty Friedman Memorial Award" of $200. The latter award is limited to residents of Orange, Ulster, or Dutchess Counties. Under certain conditions of financial need, the Friedman Award may be $400. A winner in this group will have the opportunity to appear in a minimum of two performances with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra.

Group II, for music students under 18, who will compete for a $100 cash award, a minimum of one performance with the Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra, and the "Betty Friedman Award" of $50 for residents of Orange, Ulster, or Dutchess Counties. If there is financial need, the latter award may be $100.

Applicants will be required to perform from memory one complete concerto to be chosen from the following repetoire list; violin — works by Bach, Mozart, or Haydn; viola — works by Handel, Telemann, or Rolla; cello — works by Boccherini, or Haydn. Each applicant will also be required to perform an unaccompanied selection of his own choice and one sonata with piano.

MAVERICK SOLOIST: One of the world's greatest young violinists, Sidney Harth, will appear in a pre-seasonal concert Sunday at Maverick Hall. He has just returned from Puerto Rico where he was concert master for the famed Casals Festival.

Sidney Harth, Alex Semmler In Sunday Maverick Concert

A concert of major importance, performed by two internationally known artists, will be given as a pre-seasonal concert at Maverick Hall in Woodstock, Sunday, June 24, at 3 p. m.

Presented by the Woodstock Festival Committee, pianist Alexander Semmler and violinist Sidney Harth will play the famous Beethoven Sonata in C Minor; Brahms' Sonata in D Minor and Semmler's own Sonata for violin and Piano, Op. 15

Sidney Harth, who has just returned from the Cassals Festival in Puerto Rico, where he was concert master, has been hailed by critics in Belgium, Poland and Yugoslavia as a virtuoso of first rank, and by Howard Taubman of the New York Times as "one of the most important young violinists of our time." He was born in Cleveland in 1925, studied with Misbel Piastro, Leon Barzin and Georges Enesco. He has toured Europe many times and been concert master of the Louisville Orchestra and the Chicago Symphony.

Played With Greats

At the Prades Festival in 1950 he played in the company of Serkin, Szigeti, Stern and Horszowski and, in 1957, won high honors at the Wieniawski Competition in Poland where the Polish papers reported that "the rafters rang as the audiences applauded him their favorite."

Woodstock audiences do not need to be reminded that in 1952, Harth was leader of the Woodstock String Quartet.

Alex Semmler, who has been program director of the Maverick Summer Concerts since 1955, wrote his Sonata in Berlin where he was American Administrator of the RIAS Music Department in 1952. Three years ago it was performed by John Corigliano, concertmaster of the Philharmonic in New York and it was called by violinist Arthur Hartman, "one of the two or three most exciting experiences in my life."

Semmler has toured South America and Europe extensively and is often heard live and on records on radio and television.

The concert is being given for the benefit of the Maverick.

Street Signs to Be Completed by Private Firm

The perennial problem of completing the street signs project in Woodstock township was resolved at this week's meeting of the Woodstock Town Board.

Supervisor Molyneaux informed the board that a private contractor would be hired to install the remainder of the signs.

The project has been dragging some three years and was the outgrowth of the advent of first class mail service in Woodstock.

It was originally announced that employes of the town highway department under Superintendent Cashdollar would set up the signs in the off season and in spare moments. The project, however, was not completed this spring and the highway department is now at its peak season of road repairs.

Following three years of delays it was decided to hire an outside firm and get the perennial project completed. The number of signs remaining to be set up was not revealed.

The board filed an application for plat approval submitted by William Whitney.

The board meeting was delayed until nearly 9 p. m. because of an unusually long executive session. Present at the meeting besides Supervisor Molyneaux were Councilman William West Jr. and Justices of the Peace Rudi Baumgarten and Charles A. Farley. Councilman John Pike, who is on a business trip was absent.

Board Sets New Regulations On Littering and Loitering

A resolution setting forth regulations on littering and loitering at three Woodstock township park sites was unanimously adopted by the Woodstock Town Board Tuesday night.

The three areas affected are the Village Green, Mallory Grove and the so-called "Big Deep" which was deeded to the town by Mrs. Zulma Parker several months ago.

The resolution, offered by Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux, stipulated that there shall be no loitering at any of these three places between the hours of 12 midnight and 7 a. m. Persons using the sites also must remove their own litter, if litter baskets are not available. The state law on littering will be invoked, it was said.

Organizational camping permits for Mallory Grove and the Big Deep will be available at town hall. Individuals will not be permitted to camp at these sites.

Persons who violate the new regulations will be liable to arrest and fines.

It was also announced that in the future no signs or billboards will be permitted on the Village Green without the permission of the Town Board and the Dutch Reformed Church.

Traffic Report

The township's efforts to have traffic lights installed at key intersections have again been rejected by the State Traffic Commission, the supervisor told the board.

A representative of the commission recently spent an afternoon in Woodstock checking the traffic flow at key sectors. Following the survey, he informed local officials that he would not recommend the installation of traffic lights and doubted if the State Traffic Commission would approve an application for a light, even at the potentially dangerous intersection of Route 375 and 212, at the entrance to the village.

It was announced at the meeting, however, that the board would petition the state commission for permission to install stop signs at key intersections and fix a speed limit for the Woodstock Gardens area.

Praises Harmony Of Sportsmen And Landowners

The following letter has been submitted for publication by Ella R. Schwabe and Carl W. Schwabe of Bearsville:

"We wish to express publicly our most profound gratitude to the Wittenberg Sportsman's Club in Bearsville for their most delicious family-style landowners' dinner given last Saturday evening at their clubhouse on Yankee Pond Road.

"Although the excellent dinner, roast beef with all the trimmings, cooked by the sportsmen themselves in their spacious kitchen and served by them in their large hall (which was filled to capacity) was most praiseworthy, the friendly atmosphere which prevailed among the sportsmen and invited guests was a treat in itself and made one happy and proud to live in such a community.

"What were the motives behind this get-together? No joining of the club. No collection. Just a fostering of good relations between the landowners and the sportsmen in this area. In the words of their letter of invitation: "As more lands disappear through highway construction, new shopping centers and public work projects, a great need arises for closer harmony with the private landowner and those who desire to benefit from his holdings for their recreation."

We were assured by looking at the radiant faces that a good time was had by all and the neighborly spirit of mutual help and understanding, so essential these days in a world torn by misunderstanding, stood out like "a light shining in the darkness.'"

Taxpayer Group Seeks Ruling On Board Action

The Woodstock Town Board has taken under advisement a request from the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association seeking to clarify the legal significance of action by members of the town Planning Board in the recent litigation involving Ulster Homes, Inc. and the so-called Streamside Terrace project.

The WTTA expresses concern over reports that members of the Planning Board were sued individually along with the Board as an entity and then paid for legal services out of their own pocket.

The WTTA inquires if this does not establish a dangerous precedent and might tend to discourage qualified persons from accepting appointment to the board in the future. The association letter requests that the Town Board furnish it with a legal interpretation of all factors involved in the recent pre-trial examination between the Board and Ulster Homes.

Supervisor Molyneaux notified the taxpayer group the Town Board would take the letter under advisement and reply by the next board meeting.

The letter follows.

"I have been informed by a member of the Woodstock Planning Board that the recent dispute concerning plat approval to Mr. Hendrick Wolters' development has incurred no cost to Woodstock taxpayers. As the WPB is part of Woodstock's official family, I questioned this and was told the complaint was against the individual members and not the WPB and that said members are paying all costs out of their collective pockets.

A recent examination of the complaint instituted by Mr. Walters does indeed name individual board members, but it also lists the Woodstock Town Board. With this in mind, I ask the following questions:

1. Is the Woodstock Planning Board, acting on behalf of all Woodstock residents, liable for costs incurred because of this action and if not, why not.

2. If the W.P.B. and the town are not liable for these costs, then it follows that individual members are personally liable for their official actions as members of this body? Is this true?

3. If an individual, acting in good faith, as an official appointed by this board to the Woodstock Planning Board must heat these and any future pre-trial and trial costs because of his official position and decisions; I ask, is this establishing a detrimental precedent for community minded citizens not financially independent but, who may wish to serve on the Woodstock Planning Board in the future?

Realizing the remifications of these questions to the community as a whole and specifically to citizens who may wish to serve on the planning board, we respectfully request a written answer by the 13th of July.

Respectfully submitted for the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association . . . LAWRENCE G. CASEY, Vice President."

League Display At Orange Bank

Because of the debate in Congress on June 25 on the new Trade Expansion Act of 1962, the Foreign Economic Policy Committee of the Woodstock League of Women Voters has arranged an interesting exhibit in the Bank of Orange County show window this week, pertaining to World Trade.

Items of export and import from and to the United States are shown.

Material for the exhibit was loaned to the committee by Miss Pam Copeland of Anne's Delicatessen, Mrs. Shea of the Hilda Lightstone Shop, the McLean Syntorque Corporation of Woodstock and the Natural History Museum of New York City.

West Berlin's 8,400-acre Grunewald Park, once a royal hunting ground, provides a haven for wild boar, deer, fox and weasel —as well as hikers, picnickers and horseback riders.

Seaway, Canal Traffic ReportedBeingHeavier

OTTAWA (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway officials report that traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the waterway and through the Welland Canal in April and May is up significantly over the corresponding period last year.

The heavier traffic is a result of the late opening of the Seaway this year and large increases in upbound shipments of iron ore and in general cargo, they said Wednesday.

Traffic through the Welland Canal for the two months this year was 11.6 per cent higher than for April and May of 1961, they said. Traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the Seaway was 4.5 per cent higher for the two months this year.

A NEIGHBOR'S BARKING DOG

Q: We have new neighbors living next door to us who have a dog. Every morning, around six o'clock, they let the dog out. He races around the yard barking like mad. My husband does not have to get up until seven o'clock but this incessant barking awakens him at six and he cannot go back to sleep. He works very hard and needs all the rest he can get. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully put an end to this situation without causing ill-feelings?

A: Write a note to your neighbor, or tell her when you see her, about your husband's need of rest and ask her if she won't please wait until seven before letting the dog out.

Identifying the Bride-to-Be

Q: When sending out bridal shower invitations to the bridegroom's relatives, would it be proper to write after the bride-to-be's name, "future daughter-in-law of Mrs. John Brown"? The bride-to-be has never met the bridegroom's relatives and will probably not know who Mary Smith is without some identifying note.

A: It would not be proper to do as you suggest. Anyone who does not even know who Mary Smith is should not be invited to a shower for her.

Resigning From a Club

Q: I have been a member of our local woman's club for the past three years but now find it necessary to resign. Will you please tell me to whom I should address a letter of resignation and also how it should be worded?

A: You address a letter of resignation to the secretary and word it as follows: "It is with great regret that I find it necessary to resign from the club and to ask you, therefore, to present my resignation at the next meeting of the governors.

For a Beautiful Bride: These Wedding Fashions

There is no single "look" for this year's June bride. She may choose her wedding gown from a variety of silhouettes and fabrics. Chiffon bridal gown (left) by Murray Hamburger has French smocking on bodice and sleeves. It is worn with a single-strand necklace of baguette diamonds and white straw-and-chiffon headdress by Sally Victor. Short bridal dress of white Chantilly lace (center) is done over ivory lightweight taffeta. Headpiece is a narrow band. Her engagement ring is a four-carat emerald cut diamond. Formal gown (right) is organza over taffeta, is cut with soft bustle and slight train. She wears diamond bracelet and pear-shaped earrings in a flower motif. Her bridal headdress is a massing of delicate flowers.

TeenagePromParties Show Trend Toward Safer Programming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Instead, they do just that—dance all night and into the early morning and even into the early afternoon of the next day—all in the name of saving lives.

A sampling across the nation turned up these novel events which kept the party going and gave mom and pop peace of mind:

Two groups of students on Long Island danced in a decorated baggage car of the Long Island Rail Road as they made the four-hour trip on a special train to Montauk Point. They were served a buffet en route and took a swim in the ocean before returning home.

Youngsters in the Chicago suburb of Arlington Heights chartered a special train for a 50-mile, dance-en route trip to a resort area where a chuck wagon breakfast was served and golfing, swimming and more dancing were offered.

The graduating class of Wakefield High School, Wakefield, Mass., went on a moonlight cruise of Boston harbor. They were transported to and from the dock by bus.

ManWinsNational Prize for Flower ArrangementBow

NEWARK, N.Y. (AP) — The ladies were slightly aghast. A man won the national flower arranging competition.

Dowling was declared the winner of the seventh annual Sterling Bowl Tournament at the annual Newark Rose Festival Wednesday for his arrangement of a combination of Pink Sensation and Velvet Times roses mingled with rose foliage.

"The entire arrangement cost me less than $5. I used some scrap aluminum spirals from a factory that makes molds for re-capping tires," he said.

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP)—Loud, long cheers for "The Tempest."

Saving the best for last, Canada's Shakespeare Festival Company Wednesday night completed its 10th season panoply with a production of the bard's farewell play which simmers with theatrical enchantment.

Director George McCowan has woven an entertainment of delicate, complicated nuance. There is, thoughtful depth, pantaloon comedy, touching romance, gossamer fantasy—and each bit seems exactly right and integrated to the rest.

The performers meet the artistic challenge with flashing sincerity. William Hutt as Prospero; Martha Henry, his daughter; Peter Donat, the young prince; and Bruno Gerussi and John Colicos, as those rival spirits of good and evil—Ariel and Caliban—give familiar lines a fresh glow. Roistering slapstick is the contribution of Normal Welsh and Hugh Webster.

Designer Desmond Heeley sets the great arena stage with costumes of rich colos and climaxes the decor with an opulent dream of towering candelabra and figurines for a pre-nuptial masque filled with flowing movement and sound. The musical touches are the composition of John Cock.

YMCA Slates 2 Lifesaving Summer Classes

Kingston YMCA Day Camp Director Steve Orozco, announced today the camp program will include two life saving courses during the summer. The first course in lifesaving will begin the third week of camp and extend until the end of the fourth camp week, July 9-July 16. The second lifesaving class will begin the sixth week and extend until the end of the seventh camp week, July 30-Aug. 6.

The two courses will be primarily junior lifesaving classes and are open to any boy or girl attending day camp, who are between the ages of 12-15. National YMCA and Red Cross junior lifesaving certification badges will be awarded to all who successfully complete the course.

"This lifesaving couse is not a swimming class, so all persons who plan to take it should be good swimmers ready to work," according to Orozco. Orozco, recently completed a three-day aquatic course at the YMCA operated at Holiday Hills resort, where he received the YMCA aquatic instructors certification. During the aquatic course he received the latest techniques in lifesaving, resuscitation, boating, canoeing, and waterfront programming. This is Orozco's second year at the YMCA Day Camp, and he has 13 years previous experience as swimming instructor at various clubs and pools throughout the United States.

Tow Truck's Mistake Caught by Youngster

NUTLEY, N.J. (AP) — Four-year-old Donald Rubino looked out the window of his home Wednesday night and let out a shout.

Donald's mother called police. They stopped the truck.

What is that? A timepiece that has been certified as 99.98% accurate.

Who says so? In Switzerland, any of seven government testing stations.

Anyone else? Absolutely not.

What are the official tests? Each wrist watch is timed against electronic equipment in (1) an oven, (2) at 4° Centigrade, (3) at room temperature. Each test involves five different positions.

What are the standards? There are 86,400 seconds in a day. The watch cannot vary more than six of those seconds in 24 hours.

If it fails? It is just a watch.

Will the Swiss Government vary these standards? Never. They are inflexible.

How many become certified chronometers? About one tenth of 1%.

The exact figure, please? 312,220.

Freese of 41 Mountford Street, Bridgeport, Conn., exchanged marriage vows with George Cormack Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Greenwich, Conn., at the First Methodist Church, Bridgeport. The Rev. Dr. William H. Anderson, pastor, officiated at the candlelight ceremony. The church was decorated with white snapdragons, peonies and woodwardia ferns.

Hudson Valley Philharmonic Schedules Competition; Receives $5,000 Grant

The Hudson Valley Philharmonic has announced that its 1962-63 New York State Competition for young musicians will be held on October 20 at Skinner Hall, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie. Applications for entry must be mailed no later than July 1. All applicants must be legal residents of New York State and studying music in the state.

It was also announced that the Philharmonic has received a grant of $5,000 from the New York State Council on the Arts, with the stipulation that it be used to give concerts in smaller communities of the Hudson Valley, and not for the regular concert season's scheduled series.

To Extend Activities

According to John H. MacFayden, executive director of the state council, "the sum of $5,000 has been earmarked for the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society with the provision that this money be used for extending the activities of the orchestra outside the cities of Poughkeepsie, Kingston and Newburgh. It is the council's intention that these funds be used to bring your orchestra into communities in your general area which, for one reason or another, are deprived of the opportunity to hear top quality symphonies. This is in line with the Council's policy of extending audiences and raising standards."

This grant will open up an entirely new activity for the Philharmonic, bringing concerts with a smaller orchestra than the Philharmonic's usual 70-80 musicians, to small towns in widely scattered parts of the Hudson Valley in the 1962-63 season.

Young Musicians

For the young musicians competition, applications may be procured from Mrs. Peter McComb, 27 Hornbeck Ridge, Poughkeepsie, or Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Kingston.

Categories included in the competition are violin, viola and cello. The competition is divided into two sections:

Group I, for applicants between 18 and 25 years of age, who will be competing for a $400 cash award and the "Betty Friedman Memorial Award" of $200. The latter award is limited to residents of Orange, Ulster, or Dutchess Counties. Under certain conditions of financial need, the Friedman Award may be $400. A winner in this group will have the opportunity to appear in a minimum of two performances with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra.

Group II, for music students under 18, who will compete for a $100 cash award, a minimum of one performance with the Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra, and the "Betty Friedman Award" of $50 for residents of Orange, Ulster, or Dutchess Counties. If there is financial need, the latter award may be $100.

Applicants will be required to perform from memory one complete concerto to be chosen from the following repetoire list; violin — works by Bach, Mozart, or Haydn; viola — works by Handel, Telemann, or Rolla; cello — works by Boccherini, or Haydn. Each applicant will also be required to perform an unaccompanied selection of his own choice and one sonata with piano.

Burns Hurls No-Hitter In Babe Ruth League

Mike Burns of Kiwanis pitched a no-hit, no-run game to turn back Hurley, 9 to 0, in the Babe Ruth League Wednesday night.

He struck out nine batters and walked four. The Kiwanians had eight hits off Gary Van Etten and Nick Becktold. Van Etten struck out 10.

Dom Berardi, the Kiwanis shortstop and cleanup hitter, slugged a two-run homer in the sixth and added a single. Mike Burns hit a single and double and Tibor Tomshaw had two singles.

In the companion game, Brian Bach fanned 13 and yielded only five hits as the Masons defeated the Knights of Columbus, 6 to 3. One of the five hits off Bach was a home run by Dan McGrane.

Pete Watzka was the batting star for the Masons with three singles and a triple for a perfect "4 for 4" performance.

Latman Is Winner

Barry Latman (4-4) fired a five-hit shutout in the second game and Buba Phillips clinched the opener with a three-run homer in the Indians double victory over the Red Sox. Phillips' homer off Gene Conley came in the sixth inning and brought Cleveland from behind. Jim Perry was the winning pitcher with help from Gary Bell.

The Angels started off with Bob Rodgers' two-run homer in the second. Wagner whacked No. 20 in the fourth. When Wagner came up in the sixth, Walker plunked him and a typical baseball battle ensued—much milling and swinging, little hitting and hurting.

After peace was restored, Danny McDevitt became the Kansas City pitcher and was touched for Los Aneles' last two runs in the seventh. Ted Bowsfield won it, getting a big assist from Bob Botz over the final three innings.

Misdirected pitches also helped the White Sox over the Twins. Chicago got a run in the second against Joe Bonikowski on a walk to Al Smith, an error and a wild pitch then wrapped it up with three in the third off reliever Ted Sadowski. Ray Herbert gave up 10 Minnesota hits, but went all the way.

The last-place Senators rallied for three runs in the seventh inning and got some nifty relief pitching from Pete Burnside in beating the Tigers.

Dubious Record for Boston's Mike Fornieles

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Either American League pitchers are suffering a collective streak of poor marksmanship or they're feeling uncommonly vindictive toward their natural enemies—the hitters.

Wednesday night Boston's Mike Fornieles matched a modern major league single game record by plunking four Cleveland batters in the Indians' doubleheader sweep over the Red Sox. And at Kansas City, Jerry Walker of the Athletics nicked Leon Wagner of Los Angeles, Wagner, threw his bat at Walker, Walker threw the ball at Wagner again, and both were ejected after a medium sized free-for-all.

By beating Boston twice, 6-3 and 3-0, the Indians boosted their league lead to two full games over Minnesota, a 5-1 loser to Chicago. Los Angeles whipped the A's for the seventh straight time, 5-1, and Washington nipped Detroit 5-4. New York and the Orioles were rained out at Baltimore.

New Tournament Matches Winners Of 4 Classics

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A new exclusive golf tournament matching the winners of the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and the PGA Championships for a $50,000 first prize will be played for the first time here Sept. 8-9.

Announcement of the new tournament, to be played at the Firestone Country Club course, was made Wednesday. Only the four major tournament champions, with alternates named by the PGA in case one man wins more than one of the tournaments, will be eligible for the 36-hole medal play competition. One round will be played on Saturday, the other on Sunday with the winner receiving $50,000, the runner-up $15,000 and the third and fourth place finishers at least $5,000 each. Third place money may be boosted to $10,000.

Arnold Palmer, the Masters champ, and Jack Nicklaus, who beat Palmer last Sunday in the U.S. Open playoff, already have qualified for the tournament—called the "world series of golf."

The competition will be televised (NBC) both days from the 13th hole through the 18th.

Temple Hardest Puncher: Cincy Sportswriter

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati baseball writer Earl Lawson says Johnny Temple throws a harder punch than Vada Pinson. He should know.

Pinson, angered by a Lawson story criticizing his fielding, landed a right to Lawson's chin in the Cincinnati dressing room Wednesday night prior to the Pittsburgh game won by the Pirates 5-4. Temple punched Lawson six years ago in a dispute.

Pinson, a 5-foot-11, 175-pound speed demon, told The Associated Press he was sorry about the whole thing.

"It was just something that happened on the spur of the moment," Pinson, 23, said. "I don't go around punching people.

"He (Lawson) apologized during batting practice and so did I," Pinson added. "He said he was wrong."

Lawson said he holds no grudge against Pinson, but he added: "I'm a little tired of getting hit all the time by ballplayers."

Temple, former Red second baseman now with the Baltimore Orioles, socked Lawson over a dispute on a call the writer made as an official scorer. The two later became friends.

"Temple hit harder," Lawson grinned.

Sports Club Opposes Albany For Upstate Soccer Laurels

It may come as a shock to many folks who consider themselves sportsminded to learn that Kingston has a powerful soccer squad in the strong Central New York Soccer Association.

It is known as the Kingston Sport Club, Inc. and has been playing beautifully, if somewhat unnoticed, in the state league since its organization in 1959.

Matter of fact, the Kingston squad, made up mostly of European-trained players, will be battling for the league title against the Albany Athletic Club Sunday afternoon at 5:30 p. m. at Dietz Stadium.

The Kingston Hospital Building Fund will benefit from the game which will provide local spectators with soccer at its best.

Organized in 1959, the Sports Club played the first official soccer game to take place in Kingston on October 4 that year at Hasbrouck Park. The locals that day defeated Endicott Athletic Club, 7 to 1, before a crowd estimated at 400. A substantially larger turnout is anticipated for Sunday's benefit championship game.

Graves Is Manager

Kurt Schoch has been president of the Kingston Sport Club since its inception. The team manager is Robert Graves, Port Ewen school principal, who is also well known in baseball and softball circles. Under Graves' expert leadership, the Sport Club reeled off 18 consecutive victories before a 3-3 tie with the Schenectady Sons of Italy.

The Albany team has an interesting background and has long been considered the leading soccer team of the Central New York Section and in upper New York State for many years. Originally founded by Franz Zwicklbauer, well known proprietor of the "Little Bavaria" restaurant in Albany. The team has won many honors and today boasts of one of the finest soccer fields in the eastern United States.

The Sports Club is primed for the supreme effort against Albany on Sunday. A large turnout of spectators would lend solid moral support to their bid for the championship and help a most worthy cause — the Kingston Hospital Building Fund.

Leads by 4 Strokes

Can Herdegen Golfers Thwart Randall's Bid for 4th Title?

The question now arises: Can anybody in the Herdegen Memorial field overhaul Leon Randall of Wiltwyck, who carries a 4-stroke lead over the field into the tournament's third round Saturday at Woodstock Country Club.

Ronnie Marks, four shots away at 152, is a redoubtable competitor, has to be given an outside chance to thwart the Blond Belter's bid for a fourth Herdegen title which would tie him with George Hughes of Twaalfskill.

Hughes' name brings up some interesting speculation. If anybody can overhaul Randall, it would seem that Hughes has the weightiest credentials, particularly with the finishing rounds at Woodstock and Twaalfskill.

But there is one interesting factor mitigating against the Sweet Swinger—his inability to conquer his home layout at Twaalfskill in the same manner he demolishes the rolling Woodstock links.

Hughes went into the 1961 finals at Woodstock trailing Alvin Boice by four shots. What happened? He uncorked a spectacular 5-under-par 65 to edge Boice by one stroke. It marked the third time that Boice, never a winner, had been cheated out of the coveted title by one stroke.

Interesting Comparisons

A comparison of the performances of Randall and Hughes at Woodstock and Twaalfskill reflects the big job ahead of Hughes, despite his brilliance at Woodstock.

In the last three tournaments, Randall has played Woodstock in exactly par figures of 210, with successive rounds of 70, 67 and 73. Hughes, meanwhile, was scorching the village links with 69, 71 and 65 for a 5-under-par 205.

The results at Twaalfskill have been slightly different, however, and may be the key to the weekend shooting. While Hughes has gone 5 over par in three years with 215 on 71, 68 and 76, Randall has been 4-under par (a spread of nine strokes between the two) with rounds of 65, 70 and 71.

Saturday's third round for the 24 qualifiers gets underway at 9 a. m. at Woodstck. The finals are slated Sunday at 9 a. m. at Twaalfskill, with the official luncheon following.

Saturday Pairings

Randal is scheduled to tee off at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in a threesome with Ricki Barthel and Eric Knutsen. Hughes goes 12 minutes earlier with Bill Waterous and Charlie Bostic.

The pairings for the third round:

9:00 a. m. — Buzzy Costello, Harry Kapreilian, George Cosenza.

9:06—Bud Leininger, Carl Carter, Brian Smith.

9:12—Fred Barthel, Dick Van Keuren, Hank Boice.

9:18—George Hughes, Bill Waterous, Charlie Bostic.

Hank Aaron, Big Brave on Hitting Spree

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Aaron doesn't look like a slugger until he starts hitting.

But in the last five years the Milwaukee outfielder has had more home runs than anyone else in the National League.

In the past three days he's played four games against the New York Mets, had nine hits in 16 times at bat, including a double and three home runs, and driven in 11 runs.

His big day was Wednesday with five hits, including two home runs, and six runs batted in as the Braves swept a pair, 9-4 and 3-2. The nightcap was called at the end of six innings because of rain.

Leading Los Angeles dropped a 5-4, 11 inning affair to the Cardinals, but retained their 2½ game lead when Houston clipped second-place San Francisco 9-5. Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 5-4 in the only other game. Chicago at Philadelphia was postponed by rain.

White Wins Game

Bill White drove in the 11th inning tie-breaker for St. Louis with a single. His drive through the box off loser Ron Perranoski followed singles by Ken Boyer and Jim Schaffer. Bobby Shantz, who took over in the eighth, got the victory.

Norm Larker's grand slam homer and a pinch double by Pidge Browne that broke a 5-5 tie were the key blows in Houston's conquest of San Francisco. Roman Mejias also got a homer for the Colts.

Pittsburgh's victory, forged on a rally-killing ninth-inning relief performance by ElRoy Face, boosted the Pirates into sole control of third place.

Aaron's two homers were the only Brave hits in their abbreviated second game with the Mets, and drove in all three runs. The Mets rallied for two in the sixth and last inning, but Lew Burdette came in to chop it off.

In the opener, Aaron had three singles and drove in three runs, Gus Bell had a three-run homer and Joe Adcock a one-run blast to pace the 15-hit attack off five Met pitchers.

A NEIGHBOR'S BARKING DOG

Q: We have new neighbors living next door to us who have a dog. Every morning, around six o'clock, they let the dog out. He races around the yard barking like mad. My husband does not have to get up until seven o'clock but this incessant barking awakens him at six and he cannot go back to sleep. He works very hard and needs all the rest he can get. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully put an end to this situation without causing ill-feelings?

A: Write a note to your neighbor, or tell her when you see her, about your husband's need of rest and ask her if she won't please wait until seven before letting the dog out.

Identifying the Bride-to-Be

Q: When sending out bridal shower invitations to the bridegroom's relatives, would it be proper to write after the bride-to-be's name, "future daughter-in-law of Mrs. John Brown"? The bride-to-be has never met the bridegroom's relatives and will probably not know who Mary Smith is without some identifying note.

A: It would not be proper to do as you suggest. Anyone who does not even know who Mary Smith is should not be invited to a shower for her.

Resigning From a Club

Q: I have been a member of our local woman's club for the past three years but now find it necessary to resign. Will you please tell me to whom I should address a letter of resignation and also how it should be worded?

A: You address a letter of resignation to the secretary and word it as follows: "It is with great regret that I find it necessary to resign from the club and to ask you, therefore, to present my resignation at the next meeting of the governors.

Acts for City by Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Trichter, an assistant city health commissioner, keeps busy by night as an actor. Trichter, who is 55, became interested in theatrical work eight years ago. After extended workout with amateur groups, he made his professional debut recently in the off-Broadway production, "Nathan the Wise."

For a Beautiful Bride: These Wedding Fashions

There is no single "look" for this year's June bride. She may choose her wedding gown from a variety of silhouettes and fabrics. Chiffon bridal gown (left) by Murray Hamburger has French smocking on bodice and sleeves. It is worn with a single-strand necklace of baguette diamonds and white straw-and-chiffon headdress by Sally Victor. Short bridal dress of white Chantilly lace (center) is done over ivory lightweight taffeta. Headpiece is a narrow band. Her engagement ring is a four-carat emerald cut diamond. Formal gown (right) is organza over taffeta, is cut with soft bustle and slight train. She wears diamond bracelet and pear-shaped earrings in a flower motif. Her bridal headdress is a massing of delicate flowers.

TeenagePromParties Show Trend Toward Safer Programming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Teen-agers in many parts of the country no longer return from their senior proms to sadly lament they could have danced all night.

Instead, they do just that—dance all night and into the early morning and even into the early afternoon of the next day—all in the name of saving lives.

Others practice the art to the roll of a river boat.

Still others trip the light fantastic while speeding along in a railroad coach.

It's all part of a save-lives campaign that has been growing steadily across the nation for years.

Because of the automobile, the prom month of June began to assume a grim countenance.

Parents began to arrange after-prom parties with bus and other transportation to and from the site.

A sampling across the nation turned up these novel events which kept the party going and gave mom and pop peace of mind:

Two groups of students on Long Island danced in a decorated baggage car of the Long Island Rail Road as they made the four-hour trip on a special train to Montauk Point. They were served a buffet en route and took a swim in the ocean before returning home.

Youngsters in the Chicago suburb of Arlington Heights chartered a special train for a 50-mile, dance-en route trip to a resort area where a chuck wagon breakfast was served and golfing, swimming and more dancing were offered.

The graduating class of Wakefield High School, Wakefield, Mass., went on a moonlight cruise of Boston harbor. They were transported to and from the dock by bus.

A senior class prom in Richardson, Tex. consisted of a three day dude ranch trip in chartered buses.

In Seattle, Wash., the trend this year is toward Puget Sound cruises followed by breakfasts.

Some Baltimore, Md., schools offer post-prom bus rides to Washington and Potomac River boat rides with breakfasts aboard.

ManWinsNational Prize for Flower ArrangementBow

NEWARK, N.Y. (AP) — The ladies were slightly aghast. A man won the national flower arranging competition.

He is John C. Dowling Jr., 48, of Gaffney, S.C., who, with his wife, operates a women's ready-to-wear clothing store.

"I really invaded a women's field, didn't I?" he said today.

Dowling was declared the winner of the seventh annual Sterling Bowl Tournament at the annual Newark Rose Festival Wednesday f.. his arrangement of a combination of Pink Sensation and Velvet Times roses mingled with rose foliage.

"The entire arrangement cost me less than $5. I used some scrap aluminum spirals from a factory that makes molds for recapping tires," he said.

Dowling, the only man in the field of 14 national finalists in the festival competition, was nominated by the State Garden Club Council of South Carolina as its lone representative. The original entry list included 110 persons from 41 states.

Shakespeare Play By Canadian Group Is Rated Tops

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP)—Loud, long cheers for "The Tempest."

Saving the best for last, Canada's Shakespeare Festival Company Wednesday night completed its 10th season panoply with a production of the bard's farewell play which simmers with theatrical enchantment.

In every detail it provokes applause and must be regarded as one of this Canadian troupe's finest accomplishments.

Director George McCowan has woven an entertainment of delicate, complicated nuance. There is, thoughtful depth, pantaloon comedy, touching romance, gossamer fantasy—and each bit seems exactly right and integrated to the rest.

The performers meet the artistic challenge with flashing sincerity. William Hutt as Prospero; Martha Henry, his daughter; Peter Donat, the young prince; and Bruno Gerussi and John Colicos, as those rival spirits of good and evil—Ariel and Caliban—give familiar lines a fresh glow. Roistering slapstick is the contribution of Normal Welsh and Hugh Webster.

Designer Desmond Heeley sets the great arena stage with costumes of rich colos and climaxes the decor with an opulent dream of towering candelabra and figurines for a pre-nuptial masque filled with flowing movement and sound. The musical touches are the composition of John Cock.

YMCA Slates 2 Lifesaving Summer Classes

Kingston YMCA Day Camp Director Steve Orozco, announced today the camp program will include two life saving courses during the summer. The first course in lifesaving will begin the third week of camp and extend until the end of the fourth camp week, July 9-July 16. The second lifesaving class will begin the sixth week and extend until the end of the seventh camp week, July 30-Aug. 6.

The two courses will be primarily junior lifesaving classes and are open to any boy or girl attending day camp, who are between the ages of 12-15. National YMCA and Red Cross junior lifesaving certification badges will be awarded to all who successfully complete the course.

"This lifesaving couse is not a swimming class, so all persons who plan to take it should be good swimmers ready to work," according to Orozco. Orozco, recently completed a three-day aquatic course at the YMCA operated at Holiday Hills resort, where he received the YMCA aquatic instructors certification. During the aquatic course he received the latest techniques in lifesaving, resuscitation, boating, canoeing, and waterfront programming. This is Orozco's second year at the YMCA Day Camp, and he has 13 years previous experience as swimming instructor at various clubs and pools throughout the United States.

Tow Truck's Mistake Caught by Youngster

NUTLEY, N.J. (AP) — Four-year-old Donald Rubino looked out the window of his home Wednesday night and let out a shout.

Sure enough, there was a tow truck, dispatched by a garage, pulling away.

Donald's mother called police. They stopped the truck.

The driver had made a mistake. He found the right auto—same make, same description, same year—parked just a few feet away from the Rubino residence.

What is that? A timepiece that has been certified as 99.98% accurate.

Who says so? In Switzerland, any of seven government testing stations.

Anyone else? Absolutely not.

What are the official tests? Each wrist watch is timed against electronic equipment in (1) an oven, (2) at 4° Centigrade, (3) at room temperature. Each test involves five different positions.

How long does this take? Fifteen days.

What are the standards? There are 86,400 seconds in a day. The watch cannot vary more than six of those seconds in 24 hours.

Then what? If it passes, the watch is issued an individual, numbered Timing Certificate.

If it fails? It is just a watch.

Will the Swiss Government vary these standards? Never. They are inflexible.

How many watch movements were produced in Switzerland in 1960? 42,225,000.

How many become certified chronometers? About one tenth of 1%.

How many chronometers have been produced in the past 30 years? 487,647.

Hasn't one company produced well over two-thirds of this amount? That's quite true.

The exact figure, please? 312,220.

Burns Hurls No-Hitter In Babe Ruth League

Mike Burns of Kiwanis pitched a no-hit, no-run game to turn back Hurley, 9 to 0, in the Babe Ruth League Wednesday night.

He struck out nine batters and walked four. The Kiwanians had eight hits off Gary Van Etten and Nick Becktold. Van Etten struck out 10.

Dom Berardi, the Kiwanis shortstop and cleanup hitter, slugged a two-run homer in the sixth and added a single. Mike Burns hit a single and double and Tibor Tomshaw had two singles.

In the companion game, Brian Bach fanned 13 and yielded only five hits as the Masons defeated the Knights of Columbus, 6 to 3. One of the five hits off Bach was a home run by Dan McGrane.

Pete Watzka was the batting star for the Masons with three singles and a triple for a perfect "4 for 4" performance.

Dubious Record for Boston's Mike Fornieles

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Either American League pitchers are suffering a collective streak of poor marksmanship or they're feeling uncommonly vindictive toward their natural enemies—the hitters.

Wednesday night Boston's Mike Fornieles matched a modern major league single game record by plunking four Cleveland batters in the Indians' doubleheader sweep over the Red Sox. And at Kansas City, Jerry Walker of the Athletics nicked Leon Wagner of Los Angeles, Wagner, threw his bat at Walker, Walker threw the ball at Wagner again, and both were ejected after a medium sized free-for-all.

By beating Boston twice, 6-3 and 3-0, the Indians boosted their league lead to two full games over Minnesota, a 5-1 loser to Chicago. Los Angeles whipped the A's for the seventh straight time, 5-1, and Washington nipped Detroit 5-4. New York and the Orioles were rained out at Baltimore.

Latman Is Winner

Barry Latman (4-4) fired a five-hit shutout in the second game and Buba Phillips clinched the opener with a three-run homer in the Indians double victory over the Red Sox. Phillips' homer off Gene Conley came in the sixth inning and brought Cleveland from behind. Jim Perry was the winning pitcher with help from Gary Bell.

The Angels started off with Bob Rodgers' two-run homer in the second. Wagner whacked No. 20 in the fourth. When Wagner came up in the sixth, Walker plunked him and a typical baseball battle ensued—much milling and swinging, little hitting and hurting.

After peace was restored, Danny McDevitt became the Kansas City pitcher and was touched for Los Aneles' last two runs in the seventh. Ted Bowsfield won it, getting a big assist from Bob Botz over the final three innings.

Misdirected pitches also helped the White Sox over the Twins. Chicago got a run in the second against Joe Bonikowski on a walk to Al Smith, an error and a wild pitch then wrapped it up with three in the third off reliever Ted Sadowski. Ray Herbert gave up 10 Minnesota hits, but went all the way.

The last-place Senators rallied for three runs in the seventh inning and got some nifty relief pitching from Pete Burnside in beating the Tigers.

New Tournament Matches Winners Of 4 Classics

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A new exclusive golf tournament matching the winners of the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and the PGA Championships for a $50,000 first prize will be played for the first time here Sept. 8-9.

Announcement of the new tournament, to be played at the Firestone Country Club course, was made Wednesday. Only the four major tournament champions, with alternates named by the PGA in case one man wins more than one of the tournaments, will be eligible for the 36-hole medal play competition. One round will be played on Saturday, the other on Sunday with the winner receiving $50,000, the runner-up $15,000 and the third and fourth place finishers at least $5,000 each. Third place money may be boosted to $10,000.

Arnold Palmer, the Masters champ, and Jack Nicklaus, who beat Palmer last Sunday in the U.S. Open playoff, already have qualified for the tournament—called the "world series of golf."

The competition will be televised (NBC) both days from the 13th hole through the 18th.

Temple Hardest Puncher: Cincy Sportswriter

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati baseball writer Earl Lawson says Johnny Temple throws a harder punch than Vada Pinson. He should know.

Pinson, angered by a Lawson story criticizing his fielding, landed a right to Lawson's chin in the Cincinnati dressing room Wednesday night prior to the Pittsburgh game won by the Pirates 5-4. Temple punched Lawson six years ago in a dispute.

"I criticized Pinson's fielding which hasn't been good this year," Lawson said.

Pinson, a 5-foot-11, 175-pound speed demon, told The Associated Press he was sorry about the whole thing.

"It was just something that happened on the spur of the moment," Pinson, 23, said. "I don't go around punching people.

"He (Lawson) apologized during batting practice and so did I," Pinson added. "He said he was wrong."

Lawson said he holds no grudge against Pinson, but he added: "I'm a little tired of getting hit all the time by ballplayers."

Temple, former Red second baseman now with the Baltimore Orioles, socked Lawson over a dispute on a call the writer made as an official scorer. The two later became friends.

"Temple hit harder," Lawson grinned.

Sports Club Opposes Albany For Upstate Soccer Laurels

It may come as a shock to many folks who consider themselves sportsminded to learn that Kingston has a powerful soccer squad in the strong Central New York Soccer Association.

It is known as the Kingston Sport Club, Inc. and has been playing beautifully, if somewhat unnoticed, in the state league since its organization in 1959.

Matter of fact, the Kingston squad, made up mostly of European-trained players, will be battling for the league title against the Albany Athletic Club Sunday afternoon at 5:30 p. m. at Dietz Stadium.

The Kingston Hospital Building Fund will benefit from the game which will provide local spectators with soccer at its best.

Organized in 1959, the Sports Club played the first official soccer game to take place in Kingston on October 4 that year at Hasbrouck Park. The locals that day defeated Endicott Athletic Club, 7 to 1, before a crowd estimated at 400. A substantially larger turnout is anticipated for Sunday's benefit championship game.

Graves Is Manager

Kurt Schoch has been president of the Kingston Sport Club since its inception. The team manager is Robert Graves, Port Ewen school principal, who is also well known in baseball and softball circles. Under Graves' expert leadership, the Sport Club reeled off 18 consecutive victories before a 3-3 tie with the Schenectady Sons of Italy.

The Albany team has an interesting background and has long been considered the leading soccer team of the Central New York Section and in upper New York State for many years. Originally founded by Franz Zwicklbauer, well known proprietor of the "Little Bavaria" restaurant in Albany. The team has won many honors and today boasts of one of the finest soccer fields in the eastern United States.

The Sports Club is primed for the supreme effort against Albany on Sunday. A large turnout of spectators would lend solid moral support to their bid for the championship and help a most worthy cause — the Kingston Hospital Building Fund.

All-America Bowl Performers Start Practices Today

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Preliminaries out of the way, participants in the second annual All-America football bowl game got down to business today.

Coaches of the East and West squads scheduled two-a-day drills on the field for the players, plus some extra-curricular sessions in the training rooms.

The West group, coached by Murray Warmath of Minnesota, was at full strength. In the East workouts only Gary Collins of Maryland was reported not ready for heavy drills. He is recuperating from a recent flu attack, but should be ready for the June 29th game.

Much to the discomfort of the coaching staff, only one workout was conducted Wednesday. Most of the opening day was spent on physical examinations and picture-taking by newspapers and television. The coaches expressed concern about the short training period.

Ex-Philly Star Posts Sixth Win For Binghamton

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Granny Hamner, former star infielder of the Philadelphia Phillies, wears two hats—one as manager of the Binghamton Trips, the other as pitcher.

And right now, you couldn't blame Granny if his head were a little big for the pitching cap.

Hamner pitched his sixth victory and seventh straight complete game in the Eastern League Wednesday night with a 4-3 triumph over Springfield.

Charleston at York was postponed because of wet grounds in the only other scheduled game.

Hammer, who has lost only one game, gave up 10 hits while his Trips were able to collect only eight off Dick Slomkowski (5-6) and Ken Bracey. But two of the Trips' hits were homers by Ken Harrelson and Ron Hogg and that made the difference.

Leads by 4 Strokes

Can Herdegen Golfers Thwart Randall's Bid for 4th Title?

The question now arises: Can anybody in the Herdegen Memorial field overhaul Leon Randall of Wiltwyck, who carries a 4-stroke lead over the field into the tournament's third round Saturday at Woodstock Country Club.

Ronnie Marks, four shots away at 152, is a redoubtable competitor, has to be given an outside chance to thwart the Blond Belter's bid for a fourth Herdegen title which would tie him with George Hughes of Twaalfskill.

Hughes' name brings up some interesting speculation. If anybody can overhaul Randall, it would seem that Hughes has the weightiest credentials, particularly with the finishing rounds at Woodstock and Twaalfskill.

But there is one interesting factor mitigating against the Sweet Swinger—his inability to conquer his home layout at Twaalfskill in the same manner he demolishes the rolling Woodstock links.

Hughes went into the 1961 finals at Woodstock trailing Alvin Boice by four shots. What happened? He uncorked a spectacular 5-under-par 65 to edge Boice by one stroke. It marked the third time that Boice, never a winner, had been cheated out of the coveted title by one stroke.

Interesting Comparisons

A comparison of the performances of Randall and Hughes at Woodstock and Twaalfskill reflects the big job ahead of Hughes, despite his brilliance at Woodstock.

In the last three tournaments, Randall has played Woodstock in exactly par figures of 210, with successive rounds of 70, 67 and 73. Hughes, meanwhile, was scorching the village links with 69, 71 and 65 for a 5-under-par 205.

The results at Twaalfskill have been slightly different, however, and may be the key to the weekend shooting. While Hughes has gone 5 over par in three years with 215 on 71, 68 and 76, Randall has been 4-under par (a spread of nine strokes between the two) with rounds of 65, 70 and 71.

The foregoing figger filbert is interesting to ponder, but the big question remains: Can Randall really be stopped?

Saturday's third round for the 24 qualifiers gets underway at 9 a. m. at Woodstck. The finals are slated Sunday at 9 a. m. at Twaalfskill, with the official luncheon following.

Saturday Pairings

Randal is scheduled to tee off at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in a threesome with Ricki Barthel and Eric Knutsen. Hughes goes 12 minutes earlier with Bill Waterous and Charlie Bostic.

The pairings for the third round:

9:00 a. m. — Buzzy Costello, Harry Kapreilian, George Cosenza.

9:06—Bud Leininger, Carl Carter, Brian Smith.

9:12—Fred Barthel, Dick Van Keuren, Hank Boice.

9:18—George Hughes, Bill Waterous, Charlie Bostic.

9:24 — Ronnie Marks, Charles J. Turck, Denny Raymond.

9:30 — Leon Randall, Ricki Barthel, Eric Knutsen.

9:36 — Bill Kaufman, Charles Gaffney, William McCullen.

9:42—Mike Bruhn, Herb Waterous, Harvey Bostic.

Post 1, Produces 2 Winners, Daily Double at Big M

MONTICELLO, New York — The coveted rail position produced two winners and a daily double of $45.90 Wednesday night as Chummy Chum and Cry Jimmy scored wins in a pair of claiming races at Monticello Raceway.

Hank Aaron, Big Brave on Hitting Spree

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Aaron doesn't look like a slugger until he starts hitting.

But in the last five years the Milwaukee outfielder has had more home runs than anyone else in the National League.

In the past three days he's played four games against the New York Mets, had nine hits in 16 times at bat, including a double and three home runs, and driven in 11 runs.

The performance boosted his season totals to a .335 average—which is tied for the lead — 16 home runs and 58 runs batted in.

His big day was Wednesday with five hits, including two home runs, and six runs batted in as the Braves swept a pair, 9-4 and 3-2. The nightcap was called at the end of six innings because of rain.

Leading Los Angeles dropped a 5-4, 11 inning affair to the Cardinals, but retained their 2½ game lead when Houston clipped second-place San Francisco 9-5. Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 5-4 in the only other game. Chicago at Philadelphia was postponed by rain.

White Wins Game

Bill White drove in the 11th inning tie-breaker for St. Louis with a single. His drive through the box off loser Ron Perranoski followed singles by Ken Boyer and Jim Schaffer. Bobby Shantz, who took over in the eighth, got the victory.

Norm Larker's grand slam homer and a pinch double by Pidge Browne that broke a 5-5 tie were the key blows in Houston's conquest of San Francisco. Roman Mejias also got a homer for the Colts.

Pittsburgh's victory, forged on a rally-killing ninth-inning relief performance by ElRoy Face, boosted the Pirates into sole control of third place.

Aaron's two homers were the only Brave hits in their abbreviated second game with the Mets, and drove in all three runs. The Mets rallied for two in the sixth and last inning, but Lew Burdette came in to chop it off.

In the opener, Aaron had three singles and drove in three runs, Gus Bell had a three-run homer and Joe Adcock a one-run blast to pace the 15-hit attack off five Met pitchers.

Owls Trounce JC Eagles, 12-5

A nine-run rally in the third inning carried the Owls to a 12-5 victory over the Eagles in Jaycee Little League action last night.

Southpaw Gary Schatzel went the distance, allowing only three hits and striking out 11. The Owls got seven hits off Mike Hawkins, who struck out eight.

The Owls spotted the Eagles three runs in the first inning which was nullified by Jordan Pauker's three-run homer in the bottom half of the inning.

The winners jumped on Mike Hawkins for nine runs in the third. Schatzel, meanwhile, tightened up and allowed only two runs the rest of the way.

Bruce Hilton and Pauker led the Owl attack with a home run and single each. Tom Gaffney rapped a two bagger for the winners, as did Frank Benincase and Jay Kenik for the Eagles.

All-America Bowl Performers Start Practices Today

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Preliminaries out of the way, participants in the second annual All-America football bowl game got down to business today.

Coaches of the East and West squads scheduled two-a-day drills on the field for the players, plus some extra-curricular sessions in the training rooms.

The West group, coached by Murray Warmath of Minnesota, was at full strength. In the East workouts only Gary Collins of Maryland was reported not ready for heavy drills. He is recuperating from a recent flu attack, but should be ready for the June 29th game.

Much to the discomfort of the coaching staff, only one workout was conducted Wednesday. Most of the opening day was spent on physical examinations and picture-taking by newspapers and television. The coaches expressed concern about the short training period.

Ex-Philly Star Posts Sixth Win For Binghamton

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Granny Hamner, former star infielder of the Philadelphia Phillies, wears two hats—one as manager of the Binghamton Trips, the other as pitcher.

And right now, you couldn't blame Granny if his head were a little big for the pitching cap.

Hamner pitched his sixth victory and seventh straight complete game in the Eastern League Wednesday night with a 4-3 triumph over Springfield.

Charleston at York was postponed because of wet grounds in the only other scheduled game.

Hammer, who has lost only one game, gave up 10 hits while his Trips were able to collect only eight off Dick Slomkowski (5-6) and Ken Bracey. But two of the Trips' hits were homers by Ken Harrelson and Ron Hogg and that made the difference.

A complete assortment to satisfy all tastes in any named mixed drink or wine desired.

Authorities said Bruce Close, 16, of Ardmore Hill, Wappingers Falls, was arraigned on a first degree grand larceny charge before Town of Poughkeepsie Justice of the Peace George C. Dietz. He was ordered held in $2,000 bail for hearing, Thursday, June 28 at 7 p. m.

The other youth is 14. He will be petitioned into Dutchess County Children's Court.

Troopers reported they received a telephone call from Walter Englehart, Old Hopewell Road, Wappingers Falls, that two youths leaped from a car and ran into the woods. Troopers went to the area and apprehended the youths after a chase.

Town of Olive Seeks Field for Recreation

Town of Olive Youth Commission is seeking the use of a field in Shokan or Ashokan to conduct its summer recreation program, Bernard Stahl, committee member said today.

The commission is seeking permission to use an open field in the area from July 2 until August 24.

Stahl said the commission has received permission to use fields in Olive Bridge, Samsonville and West Shokan.

Property owners who would like to lend the use of their property for youth commission activities, may contact Stahl by telephone.

Stahl said the commission would provide capable adult supervision or playground activities and arrangements will be made to cut the grass on the field.

Seize Dutchess Youths in Woods After Car Theft

Apprehended in a wooded area after a chase by Fishkill state police Wednesday night, two Wappingers Falls youths were charged with the theft of an automobile.

Authorities said Bruce Close, 16, of Ardmore Hill, Wappingers Falls, was arraigned on a first degree grand larceny charge before Town of Poughkeepsie Justice of the Peace George C. Dietz. He was ordered held in $2,000 bail for hearing, Thursday, June 28 at 7 p. m.

The other youth is 14. He will be petitioned into Dutchess County Children's Court.

Troopers reported they received a telephone call from Walter Englehart, Old Hopewell Road, Wappingers Falls, that two youths leaped from a car and ran into the woods. Troopers went to the area and apprehended the youths after a chase.

The car, owned by Walter Sahn, of Davis Avenue, Arlington, was reported stolen yesterday morning.
